THE B. & M. REPAIR SHOP

PUBLIC INDIFFERENCE

Responsible for Allowing Big Industrial Opportunities to Pass

Big Spinning Mill Lost Because of Indifference and Possible Opposition in Certain Quarters—Now the Opportunity to Get the B. & M. Repair Shop May be Lost in the Same Way—Many Suitable Sites Available

The business men of Lowell have an opportunity to secure the Boston & Maine repair shop for this city if they only bestir themselves. If they pursue a policy of indifference of course they need not expect to bring that large industry to our city. The Boston & Maine Railroad company requires a tract of about 600 acres near one of their lines to accommodate their buildings and afford about a mile of track. There are various suitable locations available around this city if the business men wish to present them in a proper light.

It is but a short time since the policy of indifference lost for this city a big spinning mill that sought a location on the land now used as the playgrounds in Little Canada. The site had been actually selected for a large spinning mill, and nothing remained only to provide some accommodation for the company in the line of facilities for reaching the lot. The business men of the city could have disposed of the matter in short order to the satisfaction of the company but neither they nor the Locks & Canals saw fit to concern themselves to any extent about the matter. As a result the spinning mill did not locate here but found a suitable location in Lawrence where it appears the business men get together and do things. The question now comes upon this Boston & Maine repair shop. The chance to bring it here is one of the greatest opportunities that has been within the grasp of this city for twenty years. Will the business men continue their policy of indifference and allow this opportunity to escape them the same as they did in the case of the spinning mill? If they do, it will be useless to look for any future boom for Lowell. The lack of public spirit and perhaps the opposition of a few corporations will serve to kill all the best opportunities that will ever present themselves for our municipal advancement.

This matter of securing the Boston & Maine repair shop is of more importance than the celebration of any past event; it is more important than the city charter that can be attended to at any time; it is more important than any other proposition of a similar kind that has come up within the history of the board of trade, not excepting even the bringing of the United Shoe Machinery shop to Lowell.

The question before the Lowell public today is, "what will be done to bring this industry to Lowell?" Let the board of trade and the business men of Lowell unite to push the claims of Lowell so that a suitable site may be selected in this city in order to bring her an establishment that would give employment to 10,000 men annually.

BURIED UNDER COAL

Man Found Dead in Bunker at Merrimack Mfg. Co.

A man employed by the Merrimack Manufacturing company was found dead under a pile of coal in one of the coal bunkers at that mill about 11 o'clock this morning. At the time of going to press the name of the man could not be learned.

It is understood that he was employed about the coal pockets and was buried under coal which was dumped from one of the cars.

The ambulance was called and the man was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Peter H. Savage in Worthen street.

SAVED BOY'S LIFE

Lieutenant Halstead Rescued Boy Almost Suffocated

A four-year-old boy whose lungs were filled with smoke, after having been forgotten by his mother, who in a state of excitement rushed to the street, was saved from being suffocated this morning by Lieut. James W. Halstead of the protective company, at a fire which broke out in a two and a half story house at 5 Spring street, belonging to Cora Beharrell. The child is of Portuguese parentage, but his name could not be ascertained.

The fire had its inception in the cellar of the house and although the damage was slight, huge volumes of smoke poured through the house and also through the windows into the street.

The fire was discovered shortly before nine o'clock and an alarm was sent in from box 21. The excited occupants of the house left in a hurry, taking what little belongings they could pick up as they left the place. The child in question, occupied a room on the second floor of the building, and it was not until the mother had rushed to the street and the fire department was on the scene that she realized that she had left her child behind.

Lieut. Halstead was one of the first firemen on the scene and while he was making his way through the smoke filled rooms found the child in a semi-conscious condition in a bed. He hurried down the stairs and bringing the child into the open air succeeded in reviving it. Later a physician was called, but the latter said that the child would be none the worse for its experience, but that if he had been in the room a few minutes longer he would in all probability have been suffocated.

The fire started in a pile of wood in the cellar but the cause is not known. One of the occupants of the house stated to Chief Hosmer that men had been thawing out the water yesterday and thought that might have been the cause, but the chief is of the opinion that some person entered the cellar this morning and through carelessness dropped a match in the wood pile.

The damage to the building will be slight, the greater damage having been done by the smoke.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the frame dwelling of Cora L. Beharrell, 5 Spring street, damaged by fire this morning.

THE POST OFFICE

The funeral of the late Postmaster A. G. Thompson will take place at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from his home in Ash street. During the hour of the funeral the postoffice will be closed, a favorable reply having been received to Assistant Postmaster Cheney's request of the postmaster general, that the building suspend business temporarily out of respect to the memory of the deceased. Permission was also given to float the flag at half-staff on the postoffice building. The clerks and letter carriers will attend the funeral in a body, along with delegations from the Masons and other societies of which the deceased was a popular member.

MAN PERISHED

As Result of Cold in New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Daybreak today found New York city clad in a three inch blanket of snow. During the greater part of the night the wind was very high, reaching a maximum of about 30 miles an hour while the mercury had dropped to a point 20 degrees below freezing. The weather man prophesied more snow and a lower temperature before night.

One death due to the storm was recorded and the police had a record at daybreak of 30 persons injured by falls or taken to hospitals suffering from exposure. The dead man was Frederick Lohring, a resident of the Bronx who perished of exposure. He was found unconscious in the drifted snow and died in an ambulance as he was being taken to a hospital.

CAUGHT BURGLAR

Officer P. J. Conroy Makes a Good Catch

Arrested One of Two Men Who Broke Into Billerica Post Office and Rifled Letters + Federal Officers to Take Charge of Case

The post office at North Billerica was broken into early this morning by burglars, who after rifling a number of letters and finding no money, stole confectionery and tobacco. An entrance was gained by breaking one of the large glasses in one of the windows in the front of the place.

Finding that the haul was a small one of the burglars, was addressed near Lowell.

Thomas Smith, who it is alleged was one of the burglars, was adrested near the old fair grounds in Gorham street this morning by Patrolman Patrick J. Conroy. Another man who accompanied Smith made his escape.

When Smith was searched at the police station it was found that he has a quantity of chocolates, chewing gum, cough drops and a laundered shirt marked "F. R. K." on his person. Later it was learned that the articles found in Smith's possession were taken from the North Billerica post office.

Smith was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness, but Deputy Downey asked for a continuance on the ground that a more serious charge might be preferred against the man tomorrow morning.

The offense of breaking into a post office and opening mail is a very serious one and when the local authorities learned of the matter they immediately communicated with the federal authorities in Boston who will come to Lowell and take charge of the case.

It was about two o'clock this morning when Patrolman Conroy noticed two suspicious characters near the old fair grounds in Gorham street, and questioned them. One of the men started to run and the officer immediately grabbed the other, who gave his name as Thomas Smith. He said he was 28 years of age, a shoemaker by trade and resided at Albany, N. Y.

He was sent to the police station, where upon being searched it was found he had a number of the articles which it is alleged were stolen from the North Billerica postoffice.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES

Will be Discussed at Hearing Tonight

Central Street Business Men Will Oppose Rule Barring Them Out of Middle Street — Penalties Provided for Violation of New Rules

If the storm doesn't prevent them getting there, a large representation of Central street business men will be present at the hearing before the committee on municipal affairs of the board of trade on the proposed new traffic regulations.

In the new regulations about to be submitted to the city council is a joker just discovered by the Central street men, and they will be on hand to fight it because if the new regulations go through in their present shape the Central street tenants will have no place within a reasonable distance of their places of business to leave their carriages, autos or wagons.

The proposed new rules state that no vehicle may stand in Merrimack street between the Concord bridge and Kirk street, longer than 20 minutes, while on Central street the limit is from Merrimack to Warren street. The regulations also provide that no vehicle may stand in Middle street more than 20 minutes, unless it is owned by a man doing business on the street. Substantial fines for violations are provided for in the new ordinance.

The rub comes on the rule relative to the storing of teams in Middle street. Under the present regulations the Central street tenants being obliged to keep their wagons off Central street leave them in Middle street, the result being that the street is often crowded with autos and other vehicles. The committee in its investigating noted this crowded condition and concluded that it would be difficult to get fire apparatus through in case of fire. For this reason it was decided to allow only the vehicles of the Middle street tenants to remain there.

Henry A. Smith, chairman of the committee on municipal affairs, will preside and will give everyone present an opportunity to be heard. The committee desires a free expression of opinion and will be agreeable to any change in the rules that will please the majority. Now is the time to make any objection before the matter goes before the city council.

SANCTUARY CHOIR

TO GIVE MINSTREL PERFORMANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

The members of St. Patrick's sanctuary choir will hold their annual minstrel show and dance in Associate hall tomorrow evening. This organization, which made its initial bow into the world of minstrelsy last year, made such a pronounced success with its first attempt that the members decided to make the production of a minstrel overture an annual function on their social list. The performance last year was given in the school hall of St. Patrick's academy on Suffolk street, but the accommodations of this hall were far from being adequate for the comfort of the vast audience. The production this year has been named the "New Era" minstrel overture, and promises to be one of the best things ever produced in this city in the way of minstrelsy.

Several soloists of the choir who have gained much prominence in the rendition of some of the church music will be on the program, and to hear these youngsters will be a treat for those who attend. Additional to this the end men will have the usual comedy, solo, and march work and with jokes, most of which will have a local tinge, will add to the fun.

The performance of last season was commented on most favorably by all who witnessed it. The members realized that with the material they had last season and know that if they wanted to make this production more successful than its predecessor they could not do so without almost doubling the expense of the last overture This they willingly have done.

A NEW CONCERN

Chance of Lacemaking Plant Being Located Here

It is reported in manufacturing circles that a lace-making concern in Nottingham, England, is contemplating erecting a plant in this city. The board of trade has no positive information in the matter, but the board has had inkling of it from a member of the department of commerce and labor, F. G. R. Gordon.

Mr. Gordon visited Lowell some time ago for the purpose of investigating trade conditions. It is the business of the department of commerce and labor, of course, to introduce into this country all the new industries possible. Mr. Gordon spoke of the lacemaking industry and said that he would correspond with concerns across the water.

He told Secretary Murphy of the board of trade that there are only about 200 looms employed in the making of lace in the United States, and the lace imported into the United States every year represents the output of at least 8000 looms. Most of the lace made in this country at the present time is made in New Jersey.

RECIPROCITY BILL

Was Indorsed by Democrats of the National House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Favorable action by the house on the Canadian reciprocity agreement was assured last night when the caucus of democratic representatives formally pledged the party to vote for the agreement.

The resolution indorsing the Canadian agreement was carried, 90 to 22. On motion of Champ Clark of Missouri the action of the caucus was made unanimous.

The anti-reciprocity democrats were given free rein in the caucus. Most of those opposed to the Canadian agreement submitted by President Taft expressed their views and a number dwelt on the fact that the bill incorporating the agreement should not pass without amendment. Amendments, of course, would invalidate the entire agreement.

Conspicuously hung in the lobby back of the house last night was a placard bearing a quotation from a speech by the minority leader, Mr. Clark, on June 7 last. This placard had been placed there by a republican to call attention to Mr. Clark's opposition to any amendment of the reciprocity bill. The placard read:

"I do not know how long we shall be here, but as long as I am here I intend to fight for the right to amend every section of every great bill which comes into this house, and I do not care a straw whether the democrats control the house or the republicans."

Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the ways and means committee of the congress, and will begin work on schedule by schedule revision of the tariff as soon as this congress adjourns, led the movement to indorse the reciprocity agreement. Both of them declared for it unequivocally.

Messrs. Hammond of Minnesota, Brantley of Georgia, Webb of North Carolina, Legare and others spoke in opposition to it. Mr. Brantley urged postponing all such legislation until the next congress rather than put on the statute books a measure which will be used by the republicans as campaign material.

Mr. Brantley objected also on the broad ground of the disadvantage that such legislation would impose upon the raw materials of the producer. He expressed the belief that there is no occasion to rush through any such plans, because of the painstaking work soon to be undertaken by the tariff-making body of a democratic congress.

Four Ask Exemption

Mr. Webb talked similarly as to raw materials. Mr. Hammond pointed out that wheat is selling today at Minneapolis at a price seven-eighths higher than at Winnipeg, and that nearly everything produced in his district was injuriously affected by the propositions of the agreement. Mr. Webb announced that he could not vote for a blow at raw materials.

These democrats invoked the caucus rule which exempts a man from the binding effects to his constituents: Webb of North Carolina, Jujo and Broussard of Louisiana, and Hammond of Minnesota. All these made pledges to their constituents to vote for raw materials as against manufacturers.

Mr. Glass of Virginia opposed reciprocity, and Mr. Hardy of Texas favored it.

The reciprocity agreement was embodied in the McCall bill, which was the measure directly before the caucus. Mr. Brantly offered an amendment to this bill to refer to the ways and means committee or the whole matter for action by the next congress, but this was defeated, 27 to 89.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

This Illinois School Teacher Was Almost Prostrated but Was Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the nerves are unstrung it means that the blood is not supplying the nervous system with the proper elements in sufficient quantity to replace the waste caused by work requiring nerve force.

This is a frequent occurrence with teachers and other brain workers and the remedy is shown by the experience of Mrs. Fay Hubbell, a school teacher, of Yorkville, Ill., who says:

"Several years ago I was so nervous that it seemed that I was losing my mind. I had suffered from nervousness for several years but it had never been so serious. The nervous spells would come on with such pains in the top of my head that I was forced to scream and cry out. Hearing any one talk or visiting around me would make me frantic. I had no appetite, there were pains in the pit of my stomach and gas constantly formed. Food distressed me and caused nausea. My back and legs pained a great deal and my kidneys were affected. I lost weight and became very weak.

"I was treated by doctors for a long time but their medicine did not cure me. My husband had read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to have me try them. A few boxes relieved me so much that I gave them a thorough trial and was entirely cured. I think very highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am very glad to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most direct cure for nervous troubles because they remove the cause of these diseases by building up and purifying the blood. The pure blood which they make furnishes the nerves with needed elements until they are restored to their normal strength. The pills have made so many remarkable cures in nervous disorders that no sufferer can afford to neglect giving them a trial.

They can be obtained at any drug store or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Write for a free copy of our new booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." The booklet describes symptoms and gives much useful information. It will be sent free on postal card request.

CAPPED ELBOW

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat It

Shoe boil does not require description. It is too well known. There are, of course, reasons for the shoe boil, shoe too long, cannon bone too long, the peculiar manner some horses have of lying down, like a cow. In these cases the hoof and shoe come in contact with and pinch the soft skin with the weight of the body causing a bruise which may develop in a number of ways, sometimes a simple bruise with a little swelling and slight inflammation, then swelling enormously showing great heat and pain, and causing severe lameness. This swelling does not remain in full but subsides gradually and forms a soft fluctuating tumor, containing bloody or purulent pus, which discharges if lanced. Changes follow the opening of these tumors. In most cases these will heal with little assistance but in some instances there remains a pendulous sac, which will grow larger at the slightest irritation and diminish again, repeating time and again this manifestation. In other cases an abscess forms, thickens, becomes fibrous and shows a hard tumor on the back of the elbow. In this form it is a serious matter and no treatment is of use except the knife. The other forms may be treated with success and are harmless except for the liability of their recurrence.

Prevention is one important point to emphasize. Break the animal of the habit of lying upon the heels, shorten the inside of the shoe, bandage the heel with bags or other soft material, put on boots, put a strip of wood across the stall some little distance back of the manger.

Treatment is hot water, plenty of it for reducing the inflammation. Apply a good brisk liniment. There are some liniments which will disperse almost any of these shoe boils, or apply a good absorbent in more obstinate cases, or one can poultice, bring to a head and lance, cleanse with a good disinfectant and heal. In those obstinate cases which seem to resist all treatment we must depend upon the knife.

QUARTERLY COMMUNION OF THE INSTITUTE NEXT SUNDAY

The members of the Y. M. C. I. are pretty busy these days. They are keeping things going and at the present time have considerable work on hand.

Next Sunday they will attend their quarterly communion at the church of the Immaculate Conception and a breakfast in the club rooms will be served.

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, the institute will hold a ladies' night, in the form of a valentine party. Gilmore's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

A committee will soon be appointed to make the proper arrangements for the 22nd anniversary of the organization, which occurs on June 15th.

Thursday evening, the fourth series of card games will be played between representatives of the institute and the Holy Name society. The Holy Name society now leads in games won, two to one.

A membership list is now in preparation to be put in the large cabinet purchased for that purpose, and it is expected that it will be ready in the course of two weeks. The committee in charge is Martin Welch, Frank Lang, George O'Meara and Paul Clark. Thomas M. Welch, one of the popular members, has purchased bowling alleys in Natick, where he is now busily engaged getting things in readiness for opening.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Gives Up Auto to Young Woman

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Mayor Gaynor surrendered his automobile to a young woman yesterday afternoon and fought his way to the city hall through the snow storm, while the girl rode home in the machine. The young woman was Miss Isabel H. Smith, and she took the mayor's place in the Gaynor auto after the machine had struck her and sent her sprawling in the snow in Brooklyn.

The mayor and the chauffeur alighted and went to her aid. She protested that she was unhurt, but the mayor insisted that she ride to her home in his machine. She yielded finally and the chauffeur turned the vehicle around, leaving the mayor to reach the city hall as best he could.

MAN DESPONDENT

Plans for Son's Marriage Failed

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Despondent because he had used most of the money he had saved during his residence in the United States to pay the fare of a young girl from Armenia to Worcester as a bride for his son, only to have her sent back home because of an incurable disease, John Boyajian of 34 Pink street, aged 45, killed himself yesterday in Institute park, sending a bullet through his heart.

Boyajian has been complaining of the cruel fate which prevented a happy marriage for his son ever since the latter's sweetheart was deported, and when he left his home yesterday morning he told his wife and son it would be for the last time. They paid no attention to his remarks, but a few hours later his body was found at the bottom of the footbridge leading to the island in Institute park by Alfred Danielson and Howard Burkett, the latter son of Manager Jesse C. Burkett of the Worcester Baseball club.

MISS MILDRED JEWEL
At the Merrimack Square Theatre All This Week.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Miss Mildred Jewel, who heads the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week answers questions put to her by those in the audience who care to test her powers, or are really after information. Yesterday she answered a lot of questions and to the satisfaction of all.

She is creating a lot of comment, people are wondering how the trick is done, and what seems to puzzle most, is that the management is careful to have it understood that Miss Jewel is neither a spiritualistic medium nor simply a mind reader, her powers are obtained solely by scientific means, so declared the management.

The entire act is wonderfully interesting, as there is absolutely no clue by which one may gain a knowledge of the manner in which Miss Jewel accomplishes so satisfactory results.

Four other good acts also appear on the program. A quartet of cyclists and roller skaters are known as the Reckless Racklaws. They present a novel and interesting offering, some of it very amusing. The roller skating by a young woman and a young man is unique also.

Frenchell and Lewis, both excellent singers equipped with voices of excellent quality and range, sing selections from some of the most popular operas and also selections of a popular semi-classical order.

Charles Frazier is booked as a comedian and he certainly has the real stuff with him, and also renders a little concert on a concertina. Mr. Frazier can make that instrument do everything but think; he's worth hearing.

Frederick Meek is the soloist, and a good one. His selections are well chosen and well sung. The moving pictures, too, are varied and all new.

The above bill will be presented every day this week from 1 until 10.30 o'clock. Thursday night at 10 o'clock. Miss Jewel will answer the personal questions of women in the audience, and men will be excluded. The lovelorn will have their chance Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE OPERA HOUSE

Just as in the smoke and roar of battle it is "the man behind the gun" that is one of the all important factors in the ultimate result, so is "the man behind the scenes, the untiring, ever watchful stage director, the man who is seldom seen by public, but under whose master hand the general scheme of things are worked out and the smooth and finished performance given, one of the important factors in the success of a stock company. Such a man is J. H. Huntley, the stage director of the stock company that is to open at the Opera House next Saturday. Mr. Huntley, who is a man of wide experience in this line of work, a man who has staged productions for some of the best known stars and who has conducted his own stock company in several of the larger cities. The production of "The Charity Ball," which is to the opening bill of the Opera House stock company, and which is now in preparation, promises to be one of the most complete stock performances ever given in Lowell. The generous size of the Opera House stage lends itself to the making of elaborate stage settings and the construction of these are now well under way for the first play to be given. The sale for the first week opened today with a rush that indicates a lively interest in the engagement here of this company.

J. H. HUNTLEY

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A big show is the rule at the Academy for the first half of the week. The Ten Louisiana Blossoms, a colored aggregation of singers and dancers entertain in a very pleasing act. They render some of the old songs in a very effective manner and those of the popular up to date successes and will please everybody in the different selections. The Hurleys give a neat acrobatic act and perform many difficult tricks. Denoyer and Dandie are a pair of lively entertainers and introduce lots of bright comedy in their skit, "Chatter Chats." The pictures are all good and include a biograph feature. The show is considered one of the biggest and best given at the house this season.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Many references to Harvard personae and traditions especially in the second act of "Brown of Harvard," which the Donald Meek stock company with Severin DeDoyn is presenting at this popular little play house this week, are probably of more interest to Harvard men than to the general public. Schneider, who leads the band, the old clothes man, and above all, John, the orangeman, were greeted with welcoming cheers on the opening night. Old John, with his toothless smile and gestures of supreme happiness, was accorded a greater reception on his debut as an actor than most great stars receive at the height of their fame. In stage management the play shows extraordinary care, and the love scene between Brown and Evelyn in the middle of the yard may be excused on the grounds of dramatic necessity. However, it is generally supposed Radcliffe girls do not make a practice of walking about the yard and speaking to Harvard men. Mr. Meek, as "Tom Brown," cleverly portrays a dashing, courageous son of Harvard, who dares everything for love, honor and loyalty. All week with daily matinees.

THEATRE VOYONS

Projecting motion pictures in a lighted theatre is possible as those shown at the Theatre Voyons prove. The cry for lighted theatres has little effect here, but today the pictures shown at this theatre are far and away better than those demanded where this quality has been widely advertised. The exclusive film service together with the excellent projection make a strong argument in favor of this theatre. A real comedy, Hearts, Hunger and Happiness a most interesting scenic; Practical Trout Breeding, a thrilling western subject; The Curse of the Red Man, and a domestic drama, Disinherited, make up a strong and attractive bill today.

"BIG TIM'S" GIFTS

It Was Shoe Day on Bowery

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Yesterday was "shoe day" on the Bowery and a timely one, too. Snow began falling just as State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan's aids began the distribution.

In all 500 pairs of stout shoes and an equal number of pairs of heavy woolen socks were given out. No questions were asked of those who held tickets issued at "Big Tim's" Christmas dinner to the poor of the Bowery, except as to the size of the shoes the prospective wearers desired.

The ticketholders began to gather at the Sullivan clubhouse at noon, and by 3 o'clock two lines of them stretched a block up and down the Bowery. Men of all conditions were in the lines.

The only disappointed persons were the Bowery pawnbrokers, because the heavy snow forced most of the recipients of Sullivan's bounty to make immediate use of the gifts.

"Big Tim" was too modest to remain in town for the distribution. He was in the senate chamber in Albany.

SUNDAY CLOSING

Board of Trade Discusses Post Office Movement

Sentiment of Executive and Postal Affairs Committees Favors the Elimination of Sunday Work at Federal Building

The executive committee and committee on postal affairs of the board of trade met a delegation from the Letter Carriers association at the board's rooms yesterday afternoon and discussed the question of Sunday closing at the postoffice, now being agitated by the employes of the postoffice.

After an hour's discussion it was the sentiment of the meeting that Sunday work in the federal building should be eliminated.

President Harvey B. Greene called to order, and the postoffice employes present were Messrs. John J. Dillon, George L. Adams, James W. Maguire,

JOHN J. DILLON

Maurice H. Powers, George Gurney and Charles W. Bell, the latter two being clerks in the office.

Mr. Dillon was the first speaker, and he stated that the Sunday closing movement is a general one and some of the larger cities have already adopted the new idea. In Lawrence the system has been adopted and has proved a success. It is optional with the postoffice authorities whether the men shall be exempt from work on Sunday. If there is no opposition to such a move, the postmaster of the city where the movement has been on reports to the postmaster general's department in Washington and the privilege to close is granted.

A careful study of the situation, Mr. Dillon said, has been made at the local office, during the past two Sundays. Jan. 28, 205 persons called at the window, and less than one-half of these received any mail. There was an even dozen of business men among them, he said. Last Sunday, Feb. 5, 256 called at the window and about half received mail. Among the 256 were women, foreigners and a lot of young people. Seven business men were counted.

Now, the first mail is delivered at 8.30 o'clock Saturday night. The clerks would be perfectly willing to go to the postoffice Monday morning earlier than usual in order to sort the little mail which might accumulate during Sunday. Their Sundays, it was argued, were always broken into; they are not accorded the day of rest which others receive. It was practically impossible to go away for only a few hours.

It is intended to send out 10,000 return post cards to local citizens in order that an expression of opinion may be obtained.

President Greene said that the stopping of work on Sunday would obviate any opportunity for dishonest persons to collect mail which was not theirs. Now, when a person calls at the window on Sunday asking for mail, he receives it and is not required to sign his name or to identify himself. He believed that mail which occasionally goes astray and which is never traced is sometimes delivered to the wrong person.

The Sunday closing will not in the least affect those who have boxes at the postoffice, it was stated, and undoubtedly more local business men would be very willing to hire boxes should the proposed regime go into effect.

Although no formal vote was taken, members of both committees favored Sunday closing, and the matter was referred to the board of directors who will meet tomorrow afternoon.

The executive committee of the board of trade has voted to send representatives to the hearing on the trolley express which will be held at the state house, Boston, at 10.30 o'clock Wednesday. James E. O'Donnell is chairman of this committee.

GOVERNOR FOSS

Says the People of This State Want Reciprocity

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—A message urging that the national congress be memorialized in behalf of Canadian reciprocity was sent to the Massachusetts legislature by Governor Foss yesterday. In his message the governor said:

"I urge you to memorialize congress immediately on behalf of Canadian reciprocity. The president has submitted to congress his recommendations upon that subject, but it would seem from press reports that the present congress is unlikely to act upon them. In view of these conditions and in view of the emphatic stand which the people in this commonwealth have taken in favor of reciprocity I deem it to be of the greatest importance that the congress receive at once from you a memorial to take prompt action in support of the president's recommendations. A memorial from the legislature of Massachusetts will be of exceptional weight in congress.

"This state is presumed to be the stronghold of tariff and high privileged interests and it is imperative that this mistaken view of the position of our citizens be corrected and the sentiment of our state unmistakably manifested."

The message states that the people of Massachusetts have demonstrated by the special election in the 14th congressional district last spring and by the result of the state election in November that they are committed to a policy of reciprocity.

A WARM BOUT

Put Up by McFarland and Keyes

PITTSBURG, Feb. 7.—In the labor temple last night Packy McFarland and Bert Keyes fought six hot rounds. McFarland won the bout, with points to spare, but there were times when the man who recently got a draw with "Knockout" Brown kept Packy very busy.

There was no doubt but Keyes was after a knockout if possible, as several times he almost sent himself through the ropes by missing vicious swings. Furthermore, his misses were by remarkably narrow margins.

In the first round the pair tried each other out. In the second Keyes, in rushing, stepped into a left uppercut which threatened to end his prize ring days then and there. However, he clinched long enough to regain his feet, and fought viciously until the end of the round.

The fifth and sixth rounds saw McFarland again draw away from Keyes in points. He punished the eastern fighter badly, but could not land a knockout.

McFarland simply laughed at the crowd when it scored him for not putting his whole heart into the punches, and assured those near the ring that Keyes was a hard man to hit and a dangerous man at all times.

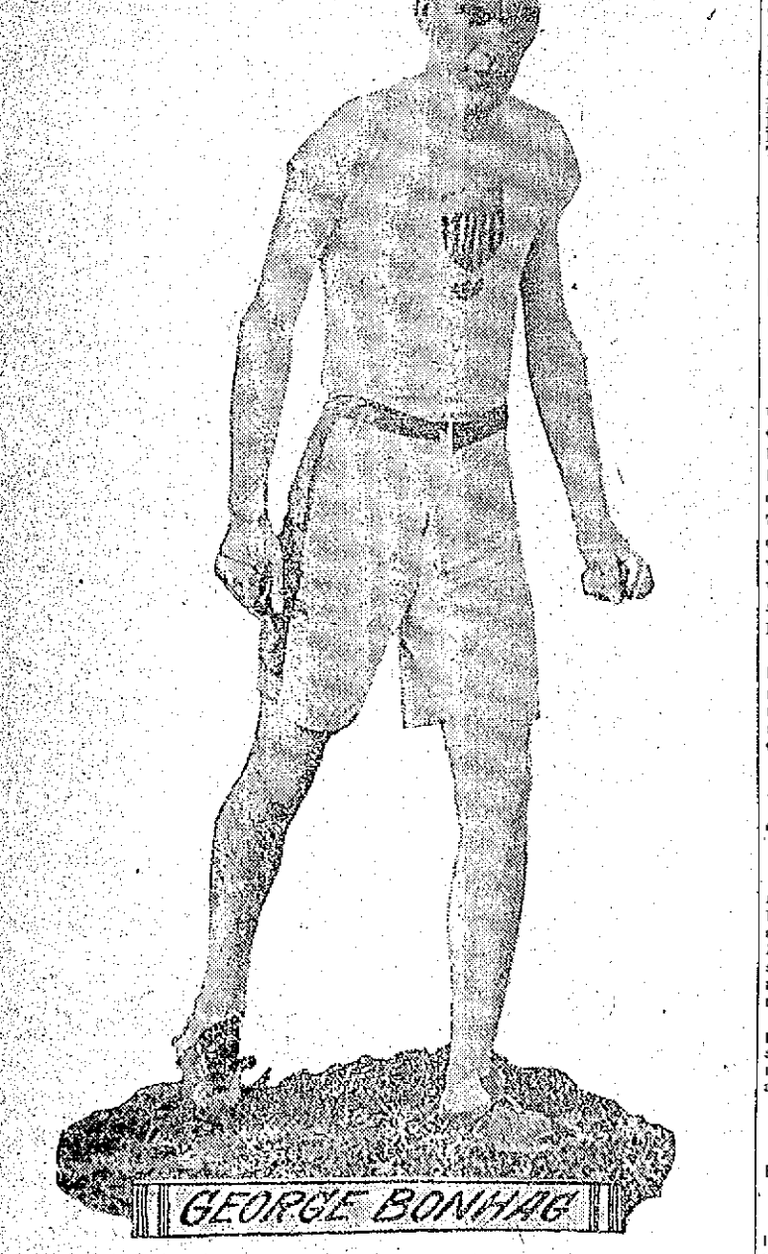

After the fight was over Keyes challenged McFarland to a 20-round fight.

FORGERY CHARGE

MAN WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST IN CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 7.—Wanted on the charge of forgery of checks amounting to $700, Herbert J. Strothard, with various aliases, was arrested at a Cambridge post office last night by United States Marshal Ruhl and a Canadian detective, for the Dominion authorities. It is charged that he passed small checks on various banks and hotels in Nova Scotia, made out in the names of Halifax merchants.

AMERICA'S GREATEST INDOOR MIDDLE DISTANCE RUNNER

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—George Bonhag, the king of indoor runners, will retire from the cinder path at the end of this season. The American record holder made this announcement recently. "I fully intend to give up the athletic game after this season," said Bonhag. "I have been racing many years, and I feel that I cannot give the time to the sport that it demands. After the present indoor athletic and outdoor season I believe I will have my fill; then it is up to some of the younger men to keep the records falling." Bonhag is a civil engineer employed by the city of New York. His work requires him to be on the hustle almost all day, and he rarely finds time to train. In nearly every contest that he has started he has been returned a winner. On many occasions he has been tempted to forsake the amateur ranks to run the leading professional runners for big purses, but each time has refused and remained in the amateur class. Bonhag's next start will be the one mile race for the Baxter cup, emblematic of the indoor championship at the New York Athletic club games in Madison Square Garden Feb. 18.

WILLOWS LOST

The J. P. S. Scored a Great Victory

The J. P. S. won a signal victory over the Willows in the game played in the Minor league last night. The contest proved to be a good one, the Willows losing each string by small margins. Buckley of the losing team was the only man who reached the hundred mark while the victors, Bergeron and Severance, made scores which were instrumental in winning the game, Severance being the high roller.

The Alpines rolled a nice game last night and as a result their opponents, the Y. M. C. U., lost three points. While A. Doyle of the losing team was high man with a triple of 331, there were three members of the other team who sent the pins in different directions for more than 300, they being Devlin, Dwyer and Wynne.

In the Royal Arcanum league last night the Highland and Lowell councils played a good game. While the Lowell team won the grand total by the narrow margin of one pin, the Highland quintet won two of the three points. The scores:

MINOR LEAGUE

Willows—Dacey, 256; Curry, 250; Thompson, 250; Buckley, 271; McPherson, 253; total, 1290.

J. P. S.—Bergeron, 267; Severance, 309; Mason, 234; Montgomery, 274; Lafleur, 245; total, 1329.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Y. M. C. U.—A. Doyle, 331; Walsh, 274; Allen, 254; T. Doyle, 270; Singleton, 297; total, 1426.

Alpines—H. Farrell, 291; O'Brien, 288; Devlin, 302; Dwyer, 310; Wynne, 314; total, 1505.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE

Highland 970—Carey, 254; Rogers, 287; Fuller, 242; Dana, 228; Sub, 226; total, 1237.

Lowell 8—A. Gilbert, 237; O. Johnson, 250; H. Brown, 235; F. C. Gilbert, 259; J. Gleason, 257; total, 1238.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

While the Boott team of the Manufacturers' league still leads in the race for supremacy the members of the team are very active and have a good lead on the members of the Lowell Machine shop aggregation which is now holding down second place. The Bigelow quintet is in third place while the other teams are trailing along, the Tremont & Suffolk bringing up the rear.

Carroll of the Appletons stole a march on Abbott of the Boott and is now in first position in the individual standing, Abbott having fallen back to second place.

One of the amusing features of the individual averages is that Carroll of the Appletons is in first place and Bowen of the same team in third position, yet the Appleton team is in but fourth place, which demonstrates the fact that two members of that team are doing all the work. The team standing:

	P. C. won	P. C. lost
L. M. S.	45	23
Bigelow	40	28
Appleton	37	31
Lawrence	35	33
Massachusetts	30	38
Hamilton	21	47
Tremont & Suffolk	14	54

Team totals, Feb. 2, 1911:

Bigelow	22,589
Boott	22,829
Lowell Machine Shop	22,705
Appleton	22,051
Massachusetts	22,314
Lawrence	22,230
Hamilton	21,575
Tremont & Suffolk	21,776

DROPPED DEAD

Police Officer Was Stricken Suddenly

LAWRENCE, Feb. 7.—Cyrus R. Lawrence, a member of the police force, dropped dead yesterday afternoon as he was preparing to leave his home, 10 Reservoir terrace, to begin his night duty at the police station. He was 70 years old and had been a member of the police force about 16 years. Previous to that he had been a night watchman at the city stables and served one year as an officer in the Essex county house of correction here.

He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in Co. I, 5th Maine regiment. He was at one time prominent in temperance work here. Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edson Keef.

OWEN KILDARE

"THE KIPLING OF THE BOWERY" IS DEAD

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Owen Kildare, sometimes called "The Kipling of the Bowery," is dead. Broken in health and spirit he died on Saturday in the Manhattan state hospital for the insane at Ward's island, but the news did not become generally known until last night.

Kildare was 47 years old and had a picturesque career. He was successively newsboy, professional pugilist, newspaper writer, and finally author and playwright.

CHAS. W. MULLIN

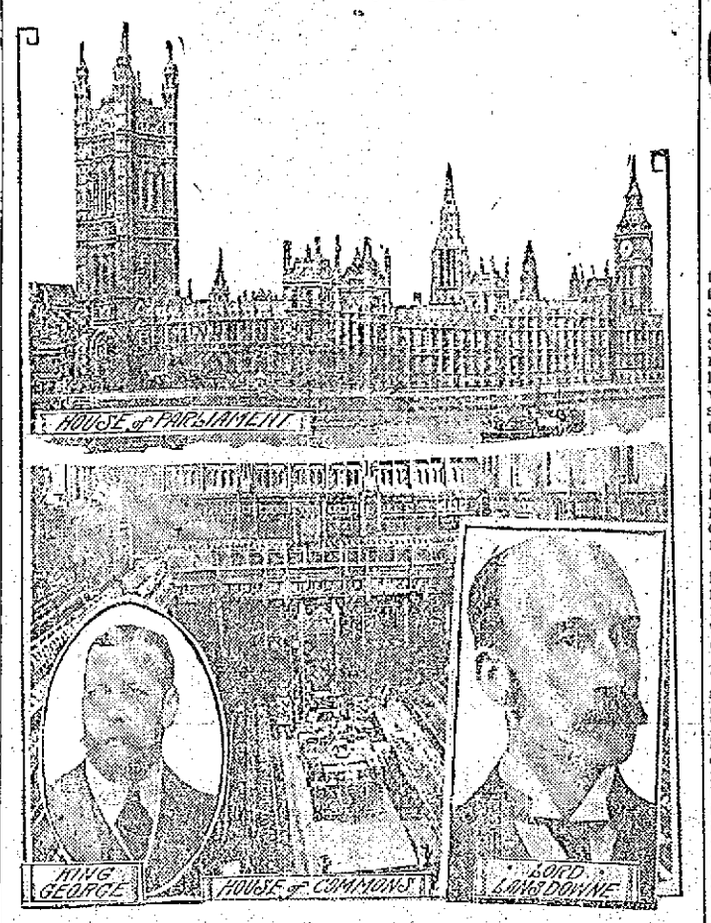

ELECTED SENATOR TO SUCCEED HIS BROTHER

BANGOR, Feb. 7.—Charles W. Mullen, democrat, was elected state senator to succeed James B. Mullen, his brother, who died, at a special election in Penobscot county yesterday. He defeated the republican candidate, Tabor D. Bailey of Bangor, by about 1825 majority. Returns from a few small towns are not yet in. The vote was light and but little interest was shown.

OBJECT TO TRAWLERS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 7.—Parliament last night adopted a resolution calling on the government to obtain if possible an international agreement to prohibit the operation of steam trawlers on the grand banks of Newfoundland and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Both the United States and France are operating the trawlers and it is contended that they deplete the fisheries.

KING GEORGE'S FIRST PARLIAMENT FACES ACUTE STAGE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The new parliament will be memorable not only as the first to be opened in state by George V. and Queen Mary, but as the one to decide the status of the house of lords and probably thereby make the greatest change of a century in the British constitution. Thus King George's regime faces a crisis of most vital importance. Many important measures are on the liberal program—home rule for Ireland and possibly "home rule all around," state insurance against unemployment and illness on a wholesale basis, other extensive financial schemes and possibly provision for paying members. But the question of the peers will precede all others. The government's immediate policy for dealing with the lords is embodied in what is termed the parliament bill, more commonly known as the "veto bill," which the prime minister introduced at the last session. It practically wipes out the power of the upper chamber to kill legislation from the commons by providing that any bill shall become law which the commons has sent to the lords for three successive sessions, in a period of time not less than two years, and which has been three times rejected or not disposed of. When the lords receive the bill after it passes the house of commons the real interest in the struggle will begin. Their policy is not yet disclosed or even formulated. Lansdowne, leader of the conservatives in the house of lords, in a resolution declared that the lords were "prepared to forego their constitutional right to reject or amend money bills," proposed to settle by joint session of the two houses differences lasting through two sessions of a year's interval and differences on matters of great gravity by a popular referendum. Lansdowne is leader of the opposition to the absolute abolishment of the house of lords.

SENATOR BURTON

Made a Strong Defense of Senator Cullom in Senate Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A defense of Sen. Cullom of Illinois formed the most striking part of the speech made in the senate yesterday by Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, in opposition to the report of the committee on privileges and elections by which Senator Lorimer of Illinois was exonerated from the charge of obtaining his seat by means of bribery.

The reference to Senator Cullom, who is Mr. Lorimer's colleague was called out by a statement made by Senator Bailey, of Texas, in the senate during the excitement incident to the close of Senator Root's arraignment of Mr. Lorimer last Friday. Speaking of the existence for years of a "jack-pot" fund in the sessions of the Illinois legislature, Mr. Bailey, who supports Mr. Lorimer, said that the means used to elect Mr. Lorimer were the same as employed in the election of Mr. Cullom.

Mr. Burton did not dwell long on the Texas senator's inferences. He said:

"The senator from Texas, no doubt unwittingly, did an injustice to the senior senator from Illinois in some remarks last Friday in averring that if Mr. Lorimer's election is invalid so is that of the senior senator. One conclusive answer to any such groundless inference is the method of the election of Mr. Cullom. He was nominated at a primary by a majority of 80,000 votes, and it would be most unjust to him to compare the circumstances under which he was chosen with the corrupt and dishonest methods prevalent in the legislature in 1909."

The Ohio senator discussed the allegations against Senator Lorimer largely on legal grounds. Without attempting to unravel the testimony, he proceeded upon the theory that certain facts had been proven and then undertook to show through precedents established in the United States and Great Britain that the election by the Illinois legislature had been tainted and therefore was invalid.

Among other points discussed was that as to whether the receipt of money after the casting of a vote constitutes bribery and it was held that it does.

"If," said the speaker, "those who received such money were free from corrupt intent, they certainly would not have received it after the votes were cast. It is impossible to separate the receipt of money after the election from other facts and circumstances in the conduct of those members which go to make up one dishonest transaction."

Meeting the contention that the evidence given by bribe-takers cannot be considered in connection with the case, the Ohio senator declared that no such rule in law now prevails. "It belongs rather to a crude state of society," he proceeded. "To maintain it would mean that the most serious offenders against the public must go unpunished. It ignores the difference in the comparative guilt of those engaged in the same unlawful enterprise. It regards the man guilty of a crime as absolutely an outcast, and disregards alike his reformation and the welfare of society. It closes the door of repentance for the criminal, even for him who has been misled by the superior influence of others into doing something against which his better judgment rebels."

Mr. Burton did not accept the statement of Mr. Lorimer's friends, that if there had been bribery that gentleman had not authorized it.

In another connection he said: "Who will assert, in the face of all the testimony, of Mr. Browne's promises or money, of his control over these members, his previous transactions, that his action was not corrupt or that Mr. Lorimer did not share in that corruption? It is definitely conceded by the defenders of Mr. Lorimer that a state of corruption was rife in the Illinois legislature. They admit that bribery was common and had been for a long time, but while conceding the rank corruption which prevailed in which Browne and others of those who voted for Lorimer were prominent figures, they deny that this applies to the senatorial election. They aver that there may have been a "jack-pot," but this does not affect, they maintain, the question at issue.

"In the first place, there is little or no testimony showing that legislation was prevented or promoted by the existence of this 'jack-pot.' If there was anything for which money was paid, it was for the election of a senator; and again, how it is possible to separate the two, if there was such a corrupt condition? The same actors in plots to defeat legislation were prominent in the senatorial election. Without their votes Mr. Lorimer could not have marshaled a majority. Every item of evidence goes to show that whatever corruption existed had exerted an influence in that senatorial controversy more than in anything else."

Summing up his conclusions, Mr. Burton found it "perfectly evident that fraud was so rampant" and dishonesty so widespread in this election that it is impossible to separate the sound vote from the unsound votes. "When," he added, "there is indubitable proof, as here, that fraud and bribery have been resorted to, no one can derive from the reasonel of corruption any conclusion except that no election was had. Undoubted proof is available not only to show that a sufficient number of bribed persons cast their votes for Mr. Lorimer to invalidate his election, but also that on other grounds than this there was not a valid choice. There are strong arguments to sustain a presumption that not only 7, 8, 9 or 10 were corrupt, but that possibly 30 cast their votes under the influence of bribery or dishonesty."

SENATOR LODGE

Opposed to Popular Election of United States Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Resistance to the uttermost of the attempts to transfer from congress to the various state legislatures the control of the time and manner of electing United States senators, as proposed by the resolution providing for their election by direct vote of the people, was advised by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, in a speech in the senate yesterday.

Mr. Lodge was speaking in opposition to the proposed new amendment to the constitution as a whole, but found an especial mark in the portion placing the direct management of the detail of senatorial elections in the various state legislatures.

Declaring that the proposed change in that respect "strikes at the very foundation of the national government," Mr. Lodge said that the plan violates the plans of the framers of the constitution.

"It is now proposed," he continued, "to put the United States government, so far as the election of senators is concerned, at the mercy of the states. It is proposed to take from the United States any power to protect its own citizens in the exercise of their rights, no matter how great the need might be for such protection. If this amendment should become a law, twenty-three states, including perhaps only a minority of the population, could at any moment arrest the movement of the government and stop all its operations."

The senator denounced as "a mockery" the "pretense" that the proposed legislation is progression. Not only was it a mockery, but it was "retrogression and reaction of an extreme kind." "If adopted," he went on, "it would carry the government back to the controversies and the struggles out of which the constitution was born and which beset and endangered the infancy of the United States."

Enlarging upon the danger of the proposed change, Mr. Lodge said:

"Self-preservation is the first law of governments, as it is of nature, and it seems to me that no matter how we may decide the question of the methods by which senators should be elected, the reservation of the power of the United States to control those elections if needed is essential to the government's safe and continued existence. Any attempt of this sort to break down and weaken the authority of the United States ought to be resisted to the last. It is amazing that it should be suggested at a time like this, when the government of the United States is of necessity taking up new duties and new obligations as demanded by the conditions of the time; at a moment when the national government requires all its strength. And yet it is proposed here to weaken it, to take from it the one power which in the time of stress will be assured its existence. I cannot believe that such a proposition as this will be accepted by congress. I cannot believe that the country would tolerate it if it were once understood. Too much has been sacrificed to preserve the union of the states and to maintain the national government to permit any tampering with those clauses which guard its very life."

The Massachusetts senator reiterated his opposition to the election of senators by the people, and contended for the maintenance of the constitution in its integrity.

"It has," he said, shown itself capable of adaptation to the new demands, as it has adapted itself to those of the past and I have hoped and believed that the new policies and the necessary reforms which the people desire could all be brought about as they have hitherto been accomplished, under the constitution. But new prophets have arisen who are not content with the reforms which have been and which will be effected by the law and they demand that the constitution itself shall be changed. Its success in the past, which has challenged the admiration of the world is not to be considered as any plea in its behalf."

That there is a menace of the control of the state legislatures by corrupt means, Mr. Lodge denied.

"Any danger of the moneyed interests getting ever partial control of the government or acquiring undue political influence has been brought to an end in the last ten years," he said.

"Just now the financial business and corporate interests of the country seem far more concerned in trying to find out whether they are to be allowed to live and breathe than in seeking to control anybody else in politics or out of politics."

Incidentally the speaker paid his respects to the portion of the Arizona constitution providing for the "recall of judges," which he pronounced a flagrant interference with the liberty of the bench. His pronouncement on this subject indicated an intention to oppose the acceptance of the document by congress.

Closing his address with an appeal for the preservation of the constitution, Mr. Lodge said:

"We shall do well to hesitate before we mar a constitution crowned by the triumphs of a century and to which the sad word 'failure' is still a stranger."

COL. GOETHALS

To Urge Fortification of Canal

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, who has arrived here from Panama in response to a cable message from the secretary of war, said that his visit to the capital is for the purpose of reporting to the appropriations committee regarding the fortifications of the canal. "Now that we have spent so much money on the canal there is only one thing to do, and that is to fortify it," said the colonel. "It would be a mistake to leave it unprotected, and it would also be a mistake to use the navy to defend it. In time of war the navy is supposed to take the aggressive and seek out the enemy, and destroy it as soon as possible, and the use of the navy for defending territory that can be well defended by land fortifications would be wrong. We should build batteries along the seacoast and provide sufficient means for the defense of the locks so that any land force could be prevented from harming them."

COL. MARCOTTE

Chosen Head of N. E. Investment Co.

The stockholders of the New England Investment Co. held an important meeting in Providence, Mr. W. Levi Bousquet of "L'Opinion Publique" of Worcester presiding. Mr. Pierre Bonvouloir, treasurer of the city of Holyoke, recently elected president of the corporation, tendered his resignation as chairman of the company, giving as his reasons that he was too busy to accept such a charge. The resignation was accepted and Colonel William Marcotte of Manchester, N. H., was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. Bonvouloir.

Colonel Marcotte is a well known business man of Manchester, N. H., and the stockholders of the company feel assured that he will make an efficient president, and will meet the approbation of Judge Arthur L. Brown of Providence, who is looking after the interests of those interested in the corporation, of whom many reside in Lowell.

Mr. Victor L. Duhaime of Providence, R. I., who in last January was chosen as one of the directors of the company, resigned his position and his resignation was accepted.

WANT LICENSES

Hearings on Two Barbers' Bills

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Two bills to provide for the licensing of barbers were considered by the legislative committee on public health yesterday. One was drafted by Senator Ross of New Bedford and the other by John Weaver Sherman of Boston. The Sherman bill provides for the appointment by the governor of a licensing board of three practical barbers to give examinations and issue licenses. All practising barbers must be licensed, the first registration fee to be $5 and yearly renewals $1 each. Senator Ross was willing to accept the Sherman bill.

President Christopher Mallen of the barbers' state district council said he recently investigated conditions in Taunton, where, he declared, conditions in some of the shops are very bad. He said respectable barbers of the city had tried to get the state board of health to take action, but the latter refused to interfere with local conditions.

Many other barbers appeared in behalf of the measures, while no one spoke in opposition.

FIFIELD WILL

Continued

Miss Fifield is revoked and the amount of that bequest is divided into several smaller bequests, as follows:

The Codicil Provisions

To Johanna Sears of New Brunswick, N. S., sister of the first wife of deceased, $6000; Mrs. Louis B. Ingalls, wife of George H. Ingalls of Boston, $5000; Mrs. Charles Hale Maxwell of Canton, Mass., $3000; Mrs. Jennie Richardson, wife of Walter Richardson of Lowell, $3000; Louis H. Kileski, $10,000.

By the codicil, the executrix is authorized to expend a sum of money not exceeding $10,000, for the erection of a suitable monument in the Lowell cemetery.

The trustees of the Lowell cemetery are left the sum of $2000, the income to be used for perpetual care.

$5000 for Belmont, N. H.

The town of Belmont, N. H., is given $5000 for improvement and care of the lot in the cemetery in Belmont, in which the father and mother and other relatives of deceased are buried.

Then follows a bequest of $1000 to William Kelly of Canton street; two bequests of $1000 each to Harold and Hope K. Noyes, children of Harry K. Noyes.

Following these provisions is a clause providing that if any balance remains undisposed of, from the said sum of $50,000, it shall go to the residuary legatee, Dora A. Chase.

The last clause provides for a bequest of $5000 to Grace Universalist society, for the payment of any existing indebtedness; and, if at the time the bequest becomes operative, there is no existing indebtedness, the same shall be used for the general purposes of the society.

Mrs. Chase Interviewed

Mrs. Dora A. Chase, the residuary legatee in the will of ex-Mayor George W. Fifield of Lowell died yesterday in Cambridge, is a native of Canada and has been a resident of this city 35 years.

She had been housekeeper for Mr. Fifield seven years and previously occupied the same position in the family of the late Supt. Davis of the police department.

Her husband, George A. Chase, was superintendent of public buildings in 1885 and 1886. Mr. Chase was not married until some years later. Her husband was a skilled carpenter and while she was employed as housekeeper he worked at his trade in this city.

His name does not appear in this year's Lowell directory and Mrs. Chase says she does not know where he is.

Mrs. Chase is a smart appearing woman, and during the later years of Mr. Fifield's life she accompanied him on automobile trips in Lowell and to the near seaside places in this state.

To Be Buried In Same Lot

Mrs. Chase said in answer to inquiries:

"The will of Mr. Fifield was read three times to his sisters by Mr. Kileski before it was filed in order that they might clearly understand it. I am willed $50,000 in addition to the personal property, but I have been told the bequests outside of what was willed to me amount to nearly $200,000.

"Some of the estimates place the value of Mr. Fifield's property at $300,000. Before I can receive anything, all the property must be sold. If the real estate and buildings do not sell for enough to pay all bequests but mine, I must sell the personal property also to help pay them.

"The first will was drafted before Mr. Fifield went to the hospital last November. The reason for the codicil was that Mr. Fifield forgot some persons and Grace Universalist church, Lowell, whom he intended to benefit by bequests.

"It is left discretionary with me as to the style of a monument to erect on his lot in Lowell cemetery. He left a deed to me of his lot in the Lowell cemetery so that my body will be buried in the same lot with the bodies of himself and two wives. Money was willed by him for perpetual care of his lot in Lowell cemetery and that of his father in the cemetery in Belmont, N. H.

Silent as to Divorce

"I do not know if Mr. Fifield benefited by the estate of his brother. He died before I became housekeeper for Mr. Fifield. Miss Abbie M. Fifield of Belmont, N. H., was bequeathed $50,000 by her father and other property in Belmont, and Mrs. Frances Wilson, another sister of Mr. Fifield, was left $20,000 in trust by her father and I believe she received money by the will of her brother Charles.

"I am not going away from Lowell. I have lived here 35 years and I am going to do the business directed by the will of Mr. Fifield. I do not know where Mr. Chase is at present. We were married in Lowell. As to whether we have been divorced you will have to get an answer elsewhere. The will was first read last Friday morning in the room where we are sitting. The attending physician, the lawyer who drafted it and others were present. One of the persons whom Mr. Fifield remembered in the codicil to his will, was his chauffeur, who will receive $1000."

The highest estimate placed on the total of Mr. Fifield's estate is $700,000. In Lowell last year his real estate and personal property was assessed at $190,000.

One Estimate is $700,000

From a reliable source it was learned that Mr. Fifield was the owner of land and buildings in Lynn, Beachmont and Revere, worth anywhere from $125,000 to $140,000.

It was said by a man familiar with Mr. Fifield's affairs, that if the sale of his property is rushed it will not bring near the assessed value, but if sold to advantage as the opportunity presents itself, it will bring more than the assessed value in Lowell and at Lynn, Revere and Beachmont.

Property of Mr. Fifield in Lowell is in the best sections. His large manufacturing interests are left to his partners.

ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

St. John's Hospital

The good sisters of St. John's hospital were highly elated when informed yesterday by The Sun of the bequest of $20,000 left the hospital by ex-Mayor Fifield. The Reverend Superior said to the reporter: "The bequest is most generous and comes at a time when it is greatly needed. At the present time we are sorely in need of additional room and a new wing is contemplated on the east side of the main building. This fine gift will make a good start for the building fund."

Lowell General Hospital

The money left to the Lowell General hospital will go into the endowment fund. Dr. Charles H. Stowell said to a reporter of The Sun today. "All the money left to the hospital is placed in the endowment fund and not a cent of it is used for any other purpose. It is a rule of the hospital to put all amounts given the institution, from the smallest upward, and not given for a specific purpose, into the endowment fund."

MEN FACED DEATH

They Were Imprisoned in Burning Forecastle of Craft

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Marveling that they were alive to tell the tale, the 18 men of the crew of the fishing schooner Teaser, which reached T wharf late yesterday, told of having faced death while imprisoned in the burning forecastle of their almost capsized craft off Sable island, Jan. 29. The schooner was struck by a northeast gale when riding at anchor off Cape Sable Monday morning, according to Captain Dunsky, which threw her on her beam ends, with her masts flat upon the water. The galley stove emptied its live coals into the forecastle and started a blaze which threatened the crew with cremation, while the cook's range threw its boiling water over one of the crew who had to be removed to a hospital last night.

By a miracle the schooner righted herself, bringing up as she did so one of the dories securely caught in the crosstrees of the foremast—the others were all smashed. The inrush of waters quenched the fire in the forecastle and thus all but the man who was scalded escaped injury from the fire.

A mustard mug, stuck in the ceiling of the forecastle, gave one evidence of the capsizing of the craft when she tied up at T wharf last night.

HOW TO TREAT THE FEET

Many men and women, and especially clerks, suffer with aching, swollen and sweaty feet. Others suffer much from cold feet, or corns and callouses. This form of misery can be readily banished by the simple daily use of antiseptic vilane powder, a specific of extraordinary virtues.

Obtain two ounces of vilane powder from any leading druggist and to a gallon of steaming water add a teaspoonful, also a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet in this every night for a few weeks, ten to twenty minutes, and it will soothe, heal and remove all poisons and soreness. Corns and callouses disappear and cold feet soon become unknown. Anyone suffering with their feet should have this knowledge.

IS NOT GUILTY

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Failing after an hour's search of law books to find any ruling or statute to cover the complaint, Judge Utley in central district court yesterday discharged Wilfred Peltier, who was accused of attempting to aid an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane to escape.

Peltier confessed to the police he sent a file and saw to Caroline A. La Bontie so that she could effect her escape, but declared his action was taken to aid the girl's mother, and not because of a love affair the officers suspected.

The La Bontie girl has been an inmate of the Lancaster reformatory and home for feeble minded children. Her commitment to the insane hospital released her from the jurisdiction of the Lancaster school, where an attempt to aid an escape would have been covered by the law affecting prisoners.

THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

The Harriman system of railroads seems to be a factor in deciding where the Panama exposition shall be held. Harriman intended, it is said, to build a canal himself had he lived; but now that he is dead and that the government is building the canal, why such deference to the railroads he left behind? The best interests of the whole country should deide the location of the coming exposition, not that of any railroad or combination of railroads.

WRONG APPLICATION OF THE RECALL

The territory of Arizona is preparing a constitution which may soon be adopted. In the instrument drawn up for adoption the initiative, referendum and recall are given full scope. It is provided even that the recall shall apply to judges, something which we believe to be fundamentally wrong and calculated to overthrow the independence of the judges in rendering their decisions. The judiciary should be protected in its independence as otherwise popular clamor will sway the decisions of the bench. President Taft and congress will have something to say of this provision.

ANOTHER HEIRESS CAPTURED

Lord Decies, aged 45, comes over from England and captures one of the biggest fortunes left to any American heiress. Incidentally the heiress herself, Miss Vivien Gould, age seventeen, goes with the fortune, but that in the opinion of many is not the prime consideration. The physical and financial wrecks of the European aristocracy continue to make such conquests because of the passion of American heiresses for high-sounding titles, for gold lace and "medals of honor." Who can blame them for taking advantage of what seems to be a prevailing weakness among American heiresses.

FOR LESS EXPENSIVE GRADUATIONS

There has been a movement very general throughout this country to make the graduation exercises of high schools less expensive to the parents. School boards and teachers have joined hands in promoting the movement which seems to give general satisfaction to parents, especially those who are in moderate circumstances. In some cities arrangements were made to provide graduating dresses for young ladies at a dollar each, all to be of the same material and the same style. Unfortunately some of the graduates, who no doubt are those who can afford expensive dresses, are unwilling to don the dollar dress. It is to be regretted that any of them should refuse to comply with a rule of this kind or feel that in so doing they would be in the least degraded. On the contrary, they would be assisting in a movement to save unnecessary expense to those who can ill afford it. Many of the parents make great sacrifices to put their daughters through the high school, and when the end of the course comes they cannot afford to spend $35 or $50 on a graduation dress. The movement for simplicity in dress at graduations should succeed, and any attempt at display of fine gowns at such occasions should be discountenanced. It is very embarrassing to the daughters of poor parents to appear on a stage in a plain and inexpensive dress to sit side by side with girls who are expensively gowned. They should be saved this unpleasantness by the enforcement of a rule for plainness and simplicity in dress on all such occasions.

THE PREVAILING OBJECTION TO THE PROPOSED CHARTER

Among the objections to the proposed city charter is one to the effect that its adoption would take from the young men of the city the opportunity to be elected to the common council. We have never supposed that anybody derived much benefit from election to the common council. It brings a young man into politics often to his life-long injury, and when this result does not follow, it usually gives him a notoriety that serves no good purpose. Some councilmen, it is true, have been elected to the upper board and even to fill the mayor's chair, but their advancement depended upon their innate ability, not upon the accident of their election to the common council. Under the proposed arrangement for the selection of candidates there is no obstacle in the path of any aspirant for office. Only twenty-five signatures are required in order to secure a place on the ballot, and thus no young man would be debarred from placing his name on the ballot as a candidate for nomination in the primaries. If he wins out there, then his name will go on the ticket as candidate for the commissionership. The fact that the number of offices is smaller than under the old charter is the real objection.

That is erroneously called a centralization of power, but it is not so in reality. It is the delegation of power by the people to a small body with the understanding that it can be promptly withdrawn by the people through the recall if the power so delegated be not properly used.

In the draft of the charter it is provided that a special election shall be called not more than seventy days after the filing of the certified number of signatures with the municipal council. Thus in less than three months and perhaps in two months after the necessary number of signatures have been secured the election will be held to decide whether the official complained of will be removed or retained in office. The official to be removed becomes a candidate for reelection and his opponent must secure signatures numbering 10 per cent. of the vote cast at the last election. In this way any objectionable member of the municipal council or the mayor may be removed. The proceedings for the application of the initiative and referendum are somewhat similar, these provisions enabling the citizens to force the passage of certain measures and to prevent the enforcement of others already enacted.

These are but a few of the features of the new charter. As we have said the chief objection is to the small number of members on the municipal board; but the best authorities agree that a small number of men attending to the business all the time can attain better results than a large body holding occasional meetings and making slow progress because of the difference of opinion among the members. There will be no deadlocks, no change of policy from year to year. The council will be a continuous body that can carry out a definite plan of improvement through a number of years.

SEEN AND HEARD

It doesn't prove that a man hasn't any brains just because he acts foolish now and then. There are so many pretty girls!

People who have wondered why actors affect fur-lined overcoats forget that it is sometimes convenient for an actor to have something that he can put in pawn.

Wearing glass slippers, Cinderella, of course, had to be very careful to keep her stockings darned.

It is sometimes dangerous to follow in the footsteps of your doctor. With the doctor, as a general rule, it's a case of "don't do as I do, but do as I say."

It isn't any use for a young man to take an unsophisticated girl riding in a roller coaster if he doesn't know what to do when she begins to scream.

Perhaps you have noticed that people who object to gossip generally wait until you have told your story all through before they notify you.

Even if you have lost your umbrella, don't lose your temper, too.

When there are a dozen children in the family, the younger ones are well brought up, because the older ones, who are spoiled by their parents, won't stand for being bothered.

Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I cannot reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.—Louisa M. Alcott.

"Where am I going to? Never mind;
Just follow the sign-board that says
'Be kind,'
And do the duty that nearest lies,
For that is the pathway to paradise."

"Sometimes we have so much to do that we don't know where to begin. It is a good plan to tackle the job we dislike the most first; then we can enjoy doing the others."

"You never can tell what your thoughts will do
In bringing you hate or love;
For thoughts are things, and their airy wings
Are swifter than carrier doves.

They follow the law of the universe,
Each thing must create its kind;
And they speed o'er the track to bring you back
Whatever went out from your mind."

"When you find yourself beginning to think things that you know perfectly well are unkind and uncharitable—don't. Pull yourself up short and resolutely turn your thoughts to other and pleasanter things. It's the only way."

"Opportunity will some day ring your bell—
Be ready.
She will not inquire if you are ill or well.
She will not stand waiting there
While you hasten to prepare;
She must hurry to where anxious others dwell.
Be ready."

SISTERS MEET

AFTER THEY HAD BEEN SEPARATED 31 YEARS

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 7.—After a separation of 31 years, during which time they had not heard from each other, Mrs. James Butler Hall of Daniel avenue, Olneyville, had a joyful reunion with her sister, Mrs. George Field of New Jersey, last night.

It all came about through a small advertisement recently in a paper. Mr. and Mrs. Hall arrived in America several years ago and it was then that a country-wide search was begun to locate Mrs. Field. Finally advertising was resorted to and the sisters were soon aware of the whereabouts of each other.

Last night Mrs. Arthur Tweedale of 232 Labon street gave a big house party in honor of the sisters' reunion.

PEOPLE'S CLUB

SOLON STEVENS

Has Resigned Position as Organist

Solon W. Stevens, for over 50 years organist at the First Congregational church, has resigned his position, his resignation to take effect next Sunday. Mr. Stevens who now resides in Winchester, finds it too severe a task on his strength to come from his home every Sunday and return.

On Sunday evening Mr. Stevens will give an organ recital commencing at 6.15 o'clock. He will be assisted by Albert F. French, formerly organist at the First Baptist church. Mr. Stevens will play many of the numbers which he has loved and which the people of the church have grown to love, and which seem inseparably coupled with the half century of service rendered by Mr. Stevens.

It is understood that Mr. Stevens will be made honorary organist of the society, and that, from time to time, he will be at his old post.

ASKS $50,000

Miss Elliott Sues Former Employer

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Papers in a suit for $50,000 brought by Mildred M. Elliott, who was employed as a stenographer in the law office of Sprout & Kendall, against her former employer, Fay B. Kendall of Newton, were filed by her lawyer, Edward Carr, in the East Cambridge court yesterday.

It is alleged that Mr. Kendall failed to keep his promise to marry the plaintiff.

Miss Elliott, who was born in Middleton, N. S., 24 years ago, was educated in the high school of that place, in a business college in Halifax, and in Dalhousie university.

She came to Boston seven years ago, she said, and after working for a law firm for a time, entered the employment of William B. Sprout, where Mr. Kendall had an office.

She said yesterday that Mr. Kendall was attentive to her from the time she made his acquaintance, and when he became Mr. Sprout's partner, his attentions were more marked, she affirmed.

He was accustomed to call for her at her home Sunday evenings, she declared, and accompany her to the Christian Science church, and she said the first present he gave her was a copy of Mrs. Eddy's book.

Dover; "Freshmen," Osborne McArthur; "The Infant," Richard Waterhouse; "Girls," William Finneran; "Class of 1913," Francis P. Madden.

Doctor Missing When Ship Arrived

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The mysterious disappearance of Dr. C. C. Nicola of Attleboro, Mass., from the steamer Oceana was reported upon the arrival of that vessel yesterday afternoon from Bermuda.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Butler Ames company, Uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias, met last night. There was an unusually large attendance, and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. An invitation from Waldemar company of Haverhill to attend their annual ball in that city was read. The committee of the local company, which was appointed to make arrangements for the coming annual ball, reported favorably and assured the members of an excellent program for the event.

VANDERBILT RACE

May Not be Held This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Because of the deadly character of the Vanderbilt cup race on the Long Island motor parkway course last year and the subsequent transfer of the grand prize race to Savannah, efforts are now under way to bring about the holding of the Vanderbilt on some other than the Long Island course next fall. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., the donor of the cup, is in Europe, but motor interests close to the guiding spirits of the Motor Cup Holding Co., which controls the two big automobiling events of the year, predict today that these efforts will fail.

"The race will not go to Savannah, Indianapolis or any other city," was the confident prediction of one man supposed to speak with knowledge. "If the event is not held on Long Island it will not be held at all."

Good Tomorrow for This World's Most Famous Beauty Specialist

An opportunity is now offered every reader of this paper to consult the world's most famous beauty specialist, Harriett Meta, of Paris, London and Syracuse, absolutely free.

A little over three years ago there was nothing known which, in our judgment, would actually remove wrinkles, but at that time Mlle. Meta made the important discovery which has since made her famous in two continents.

She demonstrated the great power of her new process by taking her own wrinkles out with it in three nights, after face massage, masks, straps, steaming pots, etc., had all failed, and today Mlle. Meta's face is still free from wrinkles, her cheeks full and plump and her skin and complexion is a delight to behold. In fact, by many she is considered the most beautiful woman in all Paris.

Her remarkable discovery was brought before the judges of the Paris International Exposition and the Rome Exposition Internationale for their investigation, and in both instances they quickly awarded her Gold Medals thereon. The French government also honored her with a patent on her new process, and patents are now pending before the U. S. government at Washington.

London journals sent their Beauty Editresses to investigate her methods, and their high endorsements of her discoveries made her famous almost overnight, so that she was eagerly sought after by French countesses and English ladies of high title and rank. The Beauty Editress of the London Onlooker wrote, "An interview with Mlle. Meta left me persuaded that here at last might be found the secret to restore youth and beauty."

Many of those who have used her process report most astonishing results. Mrs. Mary J. Davis, of 24 So. 4th street, East St. Louis, Ill., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Haskell, of San Francisco, Cal., writes: "I am 50 years old. Consequently my wrinkles were of long standing and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now when I view my changed reflection in the mirror I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards, of Raleigh, N. C., says: "Since using the treatment I look younger than I did 25 years ago." Mrs. M. L. Lee, 221 East Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "I used the treatment one night and it succeeded in entirely removing my wrinkles, leaving my face as soft and free from lines as a child's." Miss Henrietta Jackson, of 6 Melville bldg., Pittsfield, Mass., says: "Your treatment is a Godsend to womankind. I wish every woman could know as I know the wonderful results which are produced by your treatment.

Since Mlle. Meta made her remarkable discovery imitators have naturally sprung up all over the country. Some of them have copied Mlle. Meta's advertisements and literature to such an extent that the public is often at a loss to distinguish the imitation from the real. We are therefore authorized to announce the following remarkable offer, which cannot fail to convince you as to who is who:

Mlle. Meta will forfeit $1000 in gold if she fails to prove that she holds nine Gold Medals and three Grand Prix on her discoveries from International Expositions. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can prove that she did not take out her own wrinkles with it in three nights exactly as she claims. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if every testimonial and sworn statement which she publishes is not absolutely genuine. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can show advertisements similar to hers published in any newspaper or magazine in the United States or Europe prior to the publication of her advertisements.

Arrangements have been made with Mlle. Meta to furnish free information in regard to her marvelous process for removing wrinkles to all Lowell Sun readers. Merely cut out and send her the coupon below and you will receive free particulars by return mail in a plain sealed envelope. You can use this remarkable process in the privacy of your own home without the knowledge of even your most intimate friends. It often works astonishing wonders in a single treatment overnight.

THE FINAL SLASH

Was Made in the Department Estimates Last Night

Committee on Appropriations Completed Work Last Night — Slight Increases in Salary Given to Some Clerks at City Hall

The committee on appropriations gave the department estimates their final slash last night. The assessors were cut another $200; cemeteries, $2000; fire department "other" expenses, $1025; schools, $11,000. This left over $8000 in the general treasury fund. The total sums for departments are $1,405,492.08. The committee found $2600 that was a sort of over-cut and that amount was divided between some of the city hall clerks and the city hall firemen. The fire department, permanent and call men were allowed half what they asked for. The permanent men wanted an increase of 25 cents per day and the call men $50 per year.

City Clerk Dadman appeared before the committee. He had asked small increases for two of his clerks. He asked $1 a week for a clerk who had been in the office for more than 30 years and he said it would take two years for another clerk to learn her work. He asked an increase for another clerk, he said, because she was receiving the smallest pay of any clerk at city hall and she is a very capable clerk. Mr. Dadman claimed that his clerks had more to do than clerical work; they have to meet people and they have to be acquainted with the different forms made out at the city clerk's office. He invited the committee to come to his office and see for themselves.

Mr. Dadman said his books would need rebinding soon and his sundries ought not to be sliced. He said he had never exceeded his appropriation by over $50. There was money paid out of his appropriation that his office never got any credit for; clerical work that brought a revenue to the city treasury. He called attention to election cost and he thought a good showing had been made with last year's appropriation. He said that if the new charter passes the legislature there will be an expense of $1500 for a special election that would have to be met by a special appropriation.

The city hall firemen were on deck to tell why they were entitled to the increase asked for. The committee granted the increase asked for by the men, 25 cents a day, two of the men working the year round and one working six months, and $250 was added to the city messenger's department to meet it.

The city clerk's estimates were then discussed and he was allowed an increase of $104 for salaries and $70 "other expenses."

In the city treasurer's department, two raises asked for were granted and $422.60 was added for the purpose, while his incidental fund was increased from $2500 to $2600.

The sealer of weights and measures was allowed some more for incidentals, $300 more was appropriated.

Increase of pay for the fire department was the next matter. The salaries list in the department was given $6951.25 increase, to meet the request of the men for a raise in wages, including the permanent call men. This represents half the sum needed to accomplish the purpose. Later however, on motion of Councilman Chapman, the action granting the firemen an increase was rescinded.

It was voted that $200,000 be appropriated for the expenses of the water department, to be paid from its revenues.

Adjourned.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Senate Adopts Greenwood Bill for Investigation

The Vote Was Practically on Party Lines — Death Penalty Bill Cause of Lively Debate in the House

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—The Massachusetts state senate had its first real field day with all the orators on edge yesterday afternoon. It was on the financial measure relative to the employment of experts by the chief executive to assist him in making inquiries into state boards and institutions under the so-called Walker budget act of last year.

About a week ago, the governor having asked for the authority to employ such expert assistance as he might deem necessary for intelligent research in the business methods of state boards or institutions, since he had to make to the legislature specific recommendation as what appropriation they should have for the current year, the joint committee on ways and means reported in the house a resolve giving the chief executive the desired authority and permission to spend whatever part of the executive $100,000 contingent fund he deemed necessary for the purpose. The house passed the resolve without division but after fervid protests by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Representative Thomas W. White of Newton.

The resolve was received last Wednesday by the senate. Friday Senator Greenwood of Worcester, chairman of senate ways and means, offered a substitute bill for the house resolve. In substance it provided that the governor might have all the information he wanted but all experts to be employed would have to be passed upon by a committee to consist of the governor Greenwood of Worcester, chairman of the legislative committee on ways and means, and reports of experts would have to be made to such a committee, each member to be furnished with a copy thereof.

This Greenwood bill was submitted on the ground that the ways and means committee had to pass on the same financial problems as the governor and therefore should have the same information which he was to get through the experts referred to.

Division on Party Lines

Yesterday, after a long debate, practically on party lines, although both sides denied talking "politics" in the least, the Greenwood substitute prevailed, 14 to 8. The 14 democrats, with the exception of Senator Curley of Suffolk, who was absent, voted against the substitute, seven of the number being paired against it.

Two republican senators, Tinkham of Suffolk and Nason of Essex, spoke and voted against the Greenwood bill. Of the other 24 republican members 21 were recorded for the substitute bill, two absent and one, President Treadway, was not called upon to vote.

With the seven pairs, therefore, and the four absent or not voting on both sides, the vote stood 14 to 8 for the Greenwood substitute bill, which was offered as a substitute for the house resolve.

At the close of the session it was generally admitted that all was not over yet with this proposition. Members of both parties discussed the result from a political standpoint. The house, of course, will have a chance at the Greenwood substitute, and with the known attitude of the speaker in favor of the measure which the lower branch sent along it is not hard to see trouble ahead for the substitute.

Capital Punishment Debate

Yesterday was capital punishment day in the house, there being in the calendar motions to substitute for an adverse committee report two bills, one giving the jury the right to fix the penalty for murder in the first degree and the other providing that the punishment shall be life imprisonment.

Representative Ahearn of Framingham favored the latter bill as progressive, declaring that it is so difficult to secure convictions under the present law that a number of murderers are at large when today they would be in prison for life if the jurymen had not hesitated to inflict the death penalty. The death penalty does not deter at all, as is shown by the commission of murder in the temple of justice in Suffolk county and within its shadow in Middlesex county, he said.

Representative Sanborn of Lawrence opposed the bill, citing numerous instances in history where the punishment of death has put an end to insurrections and crime. He said the death penalty has been recognized from the beginning of time by the civil, the military and the moral law, and its existence in Massachusetts has never yet resulted in the death of an innocent man.

Representative Hobbs of Worcester said that the abolition of the death penalty in France resulted in nine years in its being set up again because of the great increase in crime.

Mr. Ahearn said there are now before the Massachusetts court more murders than ever before. Substitution of the bill was refused, 28 to 90.

BOTH SENTENCED

Two Men Were Found Guilty of Stealing Copper

Bernard Bradley and Louis Duchesne, who stole copper and brass from the Massachusetts Mohair Plush company and valves from the Appleton company, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning. They were arrested last week by Inspectors Martin Maher and John Walsh and upon appearing in court entered pleas of not guilty, but this morning Lawyer Goldman, who appeared for the two men, changed the pleas to guilty and asked for the clemency of the court.

According to testimony offered by Inspector Maher and Corporation Officer Noyes, the men stole $2.40 worth of brass from the Mohair company and $105 worth of brass from the Appleton company. At the Appleton company the articles stolen were very valuable, consisting of valves from which the men stripped the copper and brass and afterwards sold it to a junk dealer.

Both men were implicated in the larceny from the Mohair company, but when the valves were stolen from the Appleton mills Duchesne was alone, but Bradley was with him when he sold them to the junk dealer.

The valves were in a mill near the canal in the rear of the Appleton property and Duchesne stole them during the noon hour when there was no person around. He knew the mill well, having, it is said, worked there.

After bringing the valves out of the mill they were taken to the home of one of the defendants, where they were stripped and the valuable metal removed and sold.

The court after considering the case, found both men guilty, and Duchesne was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory and Bradley was sentenced to eight months in jail.

Stole a Watch

The parting embrace of friends according to a certain custom is costly sometimes and Maria Medina found that to be so last July when she lovingly embraced Mariah Forensier, for during the hugging Mariah relieved Maria of a gold watch which was valued at $50. When the Medina woman discovered the loss of her watch she reported the matter to the police, but she did not suspect any one until last Sunday when she was informed that Mariah Forensier had the timepiece.

The defendant was visiting the house of the complainant in Elm street last July and when the former was parting the hostess fondly embraced her. Later she discovered her loss.

Last Sunday the defendant and her sister had a little family quarrel and as a result the sister informed the Medina woman that the defendant had the watch stored away in a trunk.

The police were notified and Inspector Maher and Patrolman Noye, who acted as interpreter, visited the home of the defendant and the mother of the latter opened the different trunks, but there was no watch to be found. There was one trunk which was locked and when Inspector Maher asked to look into the trunk he was informed that that trunk belonged to her daughter's lover. Inspector Maher immediately surmised that the trunk in question contained the watch and upon being informed that there were no keys in the house that could open the trunk he resorted to his skeleton keys and soon had the trunk opened. There he found the watch.

The defendant claimed that she found the watch, but Judge Hadley thought differently and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or spend the next two months in jail. The fine was paid.

Case Continued

Drunken Offenders

Thomas Reynolds denied that he was intoxicated when arrested last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The arresting officer said that the man was helplessly drunk and owing to the severe cold thought he might be safer in the police station than wandering through the streets. Corporation Officer Driggs corroborated the testimony of Patrolman Sheridan. A fine of $6 was imposed.

James McKiernan and Edward F. Lynch were each fined $6, and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

The many friends of Rickard Donahoe, an old and highly esteemed resident of St. Patrick's parish, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred last evening at his home, No. 1 Brooks street, after a lingering illness, which he bore with true Christian fortitude. Deceased was for years a devout attendant at St. Patrick's church, and was loved and respected by all for his many good qualities of mind and heart. He was a member of St. Patrick's Holy Name society. He is survived by his wife, Mary; five daughters and three sons, Misses Mary, Katherine, Susan, Nora and Mrs. Arthur McHugh, Michael J., John F. and Rickard J. DEATHS

CAVANAUGH—Simon A. Cavanaugh, aged 38 years, died last evening at his home, 98 Andover street, after a brief illness. Pneumonia was the direct cause of death. Mr. Cavanaugh was a well known real estate dealer, and was manager of the National Adjustment company of this city. Deceased is survived by two sisters, Agnes and Helen.

MARKHAM—The many friends of Mrs. James J. Markham will regret to learn of her death, which took place at the Westboro hospital, where she had been for treatment for the past few weeks, shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The immediate cause was broncho-pneumonia, which set in the last of the week and made rapid progress till death came to the sufferer's relief. Mrs. Markham was born in Cherryfield, Me., but had lived in Lowell since early girlhood. She leaves, besides her husband, who for nearly two years has been an engineer for Stone & Webster in extensive work in Dallas, Tex., four sisters, all of this city, Mrs. Matthew Murphy, Mrs. John J. Green and Misses Elizabeth and Susan Driscoll.

Mrs. Markham while in good health was a devout communicant at the church of the Immaculate Conception. She was especially known among her intimate friends for her charity. She was very fond of the little children of the poor and made many of them happy in her cheerful home in Belvidere. Agent Richardson of the Humane society generally gathered a dozen of them at Thanksgiving or Christmas time and Mrs. Markham saw that they feasted to their hearts' content. This was on special occasions, but her helpfulness to the little folks was an all-the-year-round devotion. They in particular will be sorry for her departure.

KIMBALL—Miss B. Ethel Kimball died Sunday at the home of her parents in West Medford, Mass. She formerly lived in this city.

MAKES YOUR HAIR SOFT AND GLOSSY

"Most shampoo mixtures," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the Los Angeles Examiner, "rob the scalp of all oily secretion, leaving it dry and harsh, and the hair grows brittle and is hard to manage. This causes dandruff, falling hair and premature grayness, aging a woman ten years.

"A reliable shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. Pour this on the scalp and rub well, then rinse carefully, and you will find it leaves the hair soft and glossy and puts the scalp in a healthy condition.

"Shampooing with this mixture is a delight and costs but a trifle, but you should be careful to get an original package of canthrox."

Under the heading "Gen. Pearson, orator," Practical Politics in this week's issue has the following:

Adjt. General Pearson owes it to his fellow soldiers in Massachusetts whom he was representing at the militia conference in Washington to secure an explanation from the authorities in the capital city as to why they took the liberty of editing, correcting, changing and eliminating parts of the speech which he made before the officers there. If the general is not going to get a square deal and if those jealous of his rise from the position of company commander are going to try in these ways to get even with him, it is about time that the people were warned. The general, as his friends well know, is a mighty stick talker. Long years ago it was his practice to walk along the banks of the canal in Lowell, outnoising even the water wheels. Demosthenes at his best was only a piker compared with him, even when he was beginning.

It was with all this in mind that he attended the conference at Washington, the aim of which was to secure larger federal assistance from the government for militia troops. It cannot be proved that any deliberate attempt was made to shunt Gen. Pearson off the floor, but it is a fact that a whole meeting went through without any demand that he rise. Very properly he arose on the second day and spoke for the state.

He didn't do a thing but pitch into the war department as a band of criminals in 1898 when he as a company commander was attempting to drive the Spanish out of Chickamanga. He spoke about the rotten beef, and the stinking water, he left out none of the horrors, and he laid the blame on the war officials. Then he gave the congress of that time a taste of his mind and didn't mince his words in that case either.

A few other men, no doubt annoyed because the war department was the department they were supposed to be asking the favor of, and whose representatives present looked a trifle peeved, tried to explain matters after Pearson sat down. The final outrage though has been the elimination from his speech of the real hot stuff which he blew off, including his charges of criminality against congress and the war department. That should be resisted. The militia men in this state have a right to know how the general pitched in and what he said for them and no false modesty in this administration of pitiless, persistent publicity should restrain him from getting out manifold copies of his address at the earliest opportunity and spreading them broadcast.

New Store
FOR RENT

The beautiful new double-deck store, No. 44 Central street, is approaching completion and is offered for rent.

The store consists of a first and second floor with basement, affording over 6000 square feet of floor space, with entrances on Central and Prescott streets.

Modern display windows, fronting on each street, are provided on the first and second floors; the upper show windows on the Central street front following the latest metropolitan plan, are dropped low enough to display goods so as to be seen from the sidewalk.

The interior of the store is high-posted and finished in a most artistic manner and equipped with the latest devices for attractive electrical lighting and display effects.

The centre of the store is lighted from the sky by a huge dome of pleasing design and equipped with a vacuum ventilator which automatically changes the air on all floors and keeps it fresh and healthful.

Electrical base plugs at convenient intervals on every floor. All openings piped for both gas and electricity. Modern steam heating equipment. Maple floors and ash finish throughout the store.

Entrances to the store from both streets are at level of sidewalk without steps. The basement is lighted by the largest and finest walk lights in the city. Toilet rooms for men and women with perfect ventilation and modern fixtures.

Street cars pass the entrances on both streets, and the unobstructed light which reaches the Central street windows from Middle street affords daylight long after other stores in the vicinity are lighted up.

The Rent Is Low

Considering the fact that the store fronts on two busy streets and is in the very centre of the shopping district, and that both entrances are within a few steps of Merrimack square, the rent is exceptionally low, being much less per square foot than is charged for any equally well located property in Lowell.

THE COUNTY PROBE

Grand Jury Will Resume Investigation Here Tomorrow

Grand Jury May Sit Three Days in This City for Examination of Lowell Witnesses Familiar With County Affairs

The grand jury will come in at the court house in this city to resume its probe of Middlesex county affairs, which was started some time ago in Cambridge.

The grand jury, it is understood, is coming here for a three days' session for the purpose of examining a large number of Lowell witnesses and incidentally inspecting the Lowell jail and possibly the Middlesex County Training school although in justice to Superintendent Warren and his admirable institution at North Chelmsford it should be remarked that in all the agitation preceding the grand jury proceedings not one word of adverse criticism was mentioned concerning the Training school.

State Officer Byrnes, who was in town today on the Kane inquest was asked regarding the number and personality of the witnesses to be called tomorrow. He was non-committal and stated that he would not even be present tomorrow having been called to Framingham where a case of assault with intent to murder is to come up for a preliminary hearing in the district court.

"What do you know about the Framingham case?" asked the reporter.

"Just one thing," replied Officer Byrnes, "the poor fellow who was cut had 50 stitches taken in his anatomy and he's alive to tell the tale."

STREET CAR TRAFFIC

Was Interfered With by the Snow Storm Today

Here's a new one on the weather. An old city employe, who has worked outdoors for half a century, tipped the writer today to the effect that whenever it is stormy on the last Friday of the month it will be stormy a greater part of the time during the next month. Be that as it may for dope, the weather was bad on the last Friday in January, and it's been bad practically all the time ever since.

Today's storm, which promised to be a world-beater, judging by the predictions, came along during the night and in a few hours proved to be the biggest of the season. With the usual lussedness of a storm it fooled the authorities who rung the no-school signal and had the children going to school in a blinding storm this morning, while hoy laid off this afternoon with the storm subsided.

Many a man and woman this morning prayed that this storm would be a record-breaker for a storm never was an ill-wind and has never done any reat amount of harm, while it has ver proved a boon to the poor. In the irst place a good snow storm clarifies he air and drives away the deadly lisease germ. Up to the coming of the now, Lowell was in the throes of an pidemic of grip and other ailments vhich are beginning to disappear under ts beneficent influence. The second eason is the fact that every big snow torm means an expenditure of thouands of dollars by the railroads and the city in addition to the individual expenditures of property owners in this city. At the present time there are hundreds of worthy poor in idleness and the storm will mean work for them, only for a limited time, it is true, but long enough to get a few honest dollars with which to keep the wolf from the door.

From appearances at the time of writing this article the storm will not create much of a demand for labor, as the fall of snow has been only light compared with former years. But it has been big enough to start some money in circulation and it will mean good sleighing for a time.

The skaters are all in mourning, for it stops their sport on the river and on Shedd park, but then Jimmie Gray is still on the job at Washington park.

The light flurry of snow last night attracted the attention of the street railway officials and the Boston & Northern had all its plows in readiness last night to start out at the first indication of a heavy storm. Motormen and conductors were held at the car barn in Middlesex street in anticipation of a heavy fall of snow.

During the latter part of the night the precipitation was very light and it was not worth while sending out the plows, but at 1.20 o'clock the snow started to fall heavily and at three o'clock there was every indication of a big storm.

Shortly after 3 o'clock 17 plows were sent out, traversing the different routes.

By the time the first cars started out this morning the rails were cleared of snow and good time was made, but the downfall of snow increased and during the later hours the cars were running considerably off time. While some of the shorter lines were only a few minutes off the schedule, on the suburban lines it was necessary to skip several trips in order to endeavor to get the cars on scheduled time.

STROTHARD HELD

Forgery is the Charge Against Him

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Attorney W. J. O'Hearn of Halifax, N. S., representing the Canadian government, appeared before U. S. Commissioner Hayes today to urge the extradition of Herbert J. Strothard, who was arrested yesterday for being a fugitive from Canadian justice. Strothard was ordered held for a continued hearing Thursday and was committed to jail without bail. Strothard, it is alleged, forged the signatures of Halifax merchants to checks. There are 13 counts against him. Under the extradition laws, he can be tried on only two counts if he is extradited to Canada, but if he returned voluntarily he would be liable to be tried on all 13 counts.

The Canadian authorities think that he resorted to forgery in order to raise enough money to permit of his being married. Just before his arrest yesterday he sent a money order for $4 to his bride at Sussex, N. B., in order to raise this money he was forced to pawn his overcoat. Attorney O'Hearn, however, redeemed the garment for him.

THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

Gained $10,000 a Day in Gross Earnings During January

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—If the reports of earnings of the leading railroads are a trustworthy indication, general business in New England is gradually improving. In January the New York, New Haven & Hartford system showed a gain in gross earnings of about $10,000 a day or $300,000 a month over December figures. The January gross earnings were about $332,000 ahead of those of the same month in 1910.

The Boston & Maine system shows an increase of $6000 a day last month or $180,000 in all. The January receipts were almost $400,000 better than for the same month the year before.

The Grand Trunk system also made gains last month.

A company which operates a large watch factory in Waltham states that business shows a perceptible improvement over that of a year ago. The plant, which was idle eight weeks last year, is now running on full time and has increased its working force from 2800 to 3100 employes. The maximum force is 4200 when business is booming.

BURIED UNDER COAL

Man Found Dead in Bunker at Merrimack Mfg. Co.

Joseph Krick, aged 26 years, of 36 William street, was smothered to death in a coal pocket at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., about eleven o'clock this morning. He met his death as a result of disobeying orders, according to what Supt. Jude C. Wadleigh stated to a representative of The Sun today.

The coal as dumped from the cars goes into different pockets, the said pockets being without covering. The rain and snow form a coating on the top of the coal and when coal is removed from underneath a crust is formed on the top which is liable to fall at any time.

According to what could be learned from Mr. Wadleigh, Krick was a coal passer and in violation of the orders of the company walked on the top crust of coal and snow and fell through and was buried under tons of coal.

Other coal-passers seeing the predicament of their fellow employe went to his assistance and worked vigorously for ten minutes And finally were able to bring his body out, but life was extinct.

LICENSE FEES

Bill to Have Them Go to State Treasurer

There is a bill before the legislature providing for the payment of fees received for licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors to the treasurer and receiver general. This bill will be given a hearing Feb. 23.

The bill, in substance, is as follows: "The treasurer of a city or town shall, within six days after the receipt of money for licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors, make a return of the amount thereof to the treasurer and receiver general and at the same time shall pay to him the amount so received, and for neglect thereof he shall pay interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on the amount of such receipts from the time they become due until paid.

Another bill before the legislature that is of interest to this city provides that railroads shall pay total cost of the abolition of grade crossings except where a street railway company also uses the grade crossing, and in that event such company shall pay 15 per cent of the cost. In case a city or town petitions for the abolition of a grade crossing the city or town shall pay 5 per cent of the cost. As it is now the city or town pays 10 per cent, petition or no petition.

SAVED BOY'S LIFE

Lieutenant Halstead Rescued Boy Almost Suffocated

A four-year-old boy whose lungs were filled with smoke, after having been forgotten by his mother, who in a state of excitement rushed to the street, was saved from being suffocated this morning by Lieut. James W. Halstead of the protective company, at a fire which broke out in a two and a half story house at 5 Spring street, belonging to Cora Beharrell. The child is of Portuguese parentage, but his name could not be ascertained.

The fire had its inception in the cellar of the house and although the damage was slight, huge volumes of smoke poured through the house and also through the windows into the street.

The fire was discovered shortly before nine o'clock and an alarm was sent in from box 24. The excited occupants of the house left in a hurry, taking what little belongings they could pick up as they left the place. The child in question, occupied a room on the second floor of the building, and it was not until the mother had rushed to the street and the fire department was on the scene that she realized that she had left her child behind.

Lieut. Halstead was one of the first firemen on the scene and while he was making his way through the smoke filled rooms found the child in a semi-conscious condition in a bed. He hurried down the stairs and bringing the child into the open air succeeded in reviving it. Later a physician was called, but the latter said that the child would be none the worse for its experience, but that if he had been in the room a few minutes longer he would in all probability have been suffocated.

The fire started in a pile of wood in the cellar but the cause is not known. One of the occupants of the house stated to Chief Hosmer that men had been thawing out the water yesterday and thought that might have been the cause, but the chief is of the opinion that some person entered the cellar this morning and through carelessness dropped a match in the wood pile.

The damage to the building will be slight, the greater damage having been done by the smoke.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the frame dwelling of Cora L. Beharrell, 5 Spring street, damaged by fire this morning.

EVANS ESTATE

Depositions of Heirs to be Taken

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The depositions of the heirs at law and the next of kin of the late millionaire, Robert D. Evans, in Canada and the United States, will be taken by Hiner Albers of Boston and H. H. Pickett of St. John, N. B. The supreme judicial court today on petition of Mrs. Maria Evans, the widow, appointed Albers and Pickett for this purpose. Mrs. Evans desires to perpetuate the testimony of the heirs at law and next of kin, in order that it may be used in connection with the distribution of several million dollars after her death, Evans having died childless. The will provides that Mrs. Evans shall enjoy the income of the bulk of the estate and that at her death the property is to be distributed among the heirs at law. No contest has developed in the case.

Judge Hammond, in appointing Albers and Pickett, stated that numerous cousins in Canada and this country, who had filed appearances, had no standing in this proceeding but had a right, if they so desired, to bring a separate intervening petition.

Evans was a native of St. John, N. B., and made his money largely in mining and real estate. He was the owner of the cottage at Beverly occupied by President Taft during the summer season of 1909 and 1910.

JERSEY CLUB

HAS BEEN SOLD TO A SYNDICATE

BALTIMORE, Feb. 7.—The sale of the Jersey City Eastern league baseball club to a syndicate headed by J. J. Lillis, a lawyer of Jersey City, by the Davis estate, was announced by President Barrow today, just before he called the delegates to the Eastern league meeting to order. Mr. Lillis will become president of the club and Jack Ryan will be retained as manager. Ryan has been offered a three years contract, which he said he would sign.

The news did not come entirely as a surprise, for after the death of Owner Davis some weeks ago it was believed that his heirs would dispose of the franchise.

With the matter of the playing schedule for the coming season disposed of yesterday the magnates took up other business today. The committee appointed to make inquiry into the matter of re-classification made its report but so far as could be learned no definite action was taken. It is understood that because of the fact that the agreement which the league has with the other minor baseball organizations continues until the close of the next playing season it was not deemed advisable to take any formal action at the present time.

The meeting is expected to end this afternoon.

THE INQUEST

INTO THE DEATH OF MARY R. KANE RESUMED

The inquest into the death of Mary Rose Kane was resumed before Judge John J. Pickman in the second session of the police court this morning. It is alleged that the child was suffering from a headache and went to a drug store for the purpose of securing a headache powder, but instead it is said she was given fluoride of sodium which she took, and died several hours later.

GASOLENE EXPLODED

Nineteen Men Injured, Five of Them Fatally

Cause of the Explosion Not Known — Men Were Clearing Snow From Railroad Tracks When the Accident Occurred

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Nineteen men were injured, five fatally, by the explosion of a barrel of gasolene at Jamaica, L. I., at 2.30 o'clock this morning. The gasolene was on a workcar in the Long Island railroad yards and the men were laborers who were engaged in clearing snow from the tracks.

The men were working with a "blower," a new-fangled snow fighting machine which throws a flame directly on the rails, melting snow and ice from the tracks and clears switches at crossings. The machine is fed by gasolene from a tank car on a construction train.

Just what caused the explosion could not be learned. The report was heard for more than a mile. Windows rattled and doors shook and residents nearby jumped from their beds, fearing that there had been a repetition of the Communipaw dynamite disaster. Several of the injured were thrown nearly a hundred yards by the force of the blast. Not a man in the gang escaped injury.

TO STOP GRAFT

Bills Presented in the New York Legislature

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Seventeen bills carrying out the recommendations of the state superintendent of insurance and the legislative graft investigating committee were introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Hoey of New York, chairman of the insurance committee. The superintendent's measures follow:

Putting fraternal organizations under the supervision of the state superintendent of insurance.

Recommending an increase in the reserve fund of casualty companies writing employers' liability insurance.

Regulating the liquidation of life insurance companies and giving the state superintendent control and power over such liquidations.

Penalizing "twisting" or persuading a man to change his policy from one insurance company to another.

Defining the difference between casualty and fire and marine insurance companies, to prevent one from working on the other's ground.

Requiring the service of papers in this state when an insurance company is being liquidated in another state.

The bills resulting from the recommendations of the graft inquiry include one providing for anti-rebate law, the licensing of brokers by the state; creating the office of fire marshal; requiring the publication of schedules; providing for the supervision of rates by the superintendent of insurance; one affecting mutual companies presenting the requirements necessary to allow them to continue to do business and one requiring that any person offered a bribe shall report the matter to the authorities at once.

A SENSATION

Mayor Demands Resignation of the City Treasurer

It is Said a Discrepancy Was Discovered—Ths Books Were Examined by a Boston Expert—City Treasurer Says He Will Not Resign

TAUNTON, Feb. 7.—Following a special audit of the city books conducted by James T. Swan of Boston, Mayor Woods of this city today sent a letter to City Treasurer Edward Temple, demanding his immediate resignation. It was stated that a discrepancy of approximately $5000 between the cash books and books of warrants and abatement was discovered during the investigation which has been progressing two weeks. Immediately after, Receiving Treasurer Temple issued a statement to the effect that he does not intend to resign. The alleged shortage was discovered in the city treasurer's reports of the last two years. No special audit had been made of the books previous to 1908. Auditor Swan stated today that while going over the treasurer's books he found no records of receipts for taxes from persons who now hold receipts for taxes as being paid. Mrs. Sarah Maher says she paid $545 for taxes in 1909 but there is no mention of it in the cash book. N. M. Rhodes & Sons, button manufacturers, paid $467, but it is not recorded in the cash book. There are numerous other smaller amounts of which no mention is made.

Admitting that there may be ground for criticism of the work, Mr. Temple declares there was no wilful dishonesty in his department. He says that several persons have had access to the cash account and have had a chance to handle the money. The city treasurer said that employes in the office had the opportunity, if they so desired, to alter the books.

Mayor Woods placed City Auditor Leonard in charge of the city treasurer's office.

PUBLIC INDIFFERENCE

Responsible for Allowing Big Industrial Opportunities to Pass

Big Spinning Mill Lost Because of Indifference and Possible Opposition in Certain Quarters —Now the Opportunity to Get the B. & M. Repair Shop May be Lost in the Same Way—Many Suitable Sites Available

The business men of Lowell have an opportunity to secure the Boston & Maine repair shop for this city if they only bestir themselves. If they pursue a policy of indifference of course they need not expect to bring that large industry to our city. The Boston & Maine Railroad company requires a tract of about 600 acres near one of their lines to accommodate their buildings and afford about a mile of track. There are various suitable locations available around this city if the business men wish to present them in a proper light.

It is but a short time since the policy of indifference lost for this city a big spinning mill that sought a location on the land now used as the playgrounds in Little Canada. The site had been actually selected for a large spinning mill, and nothing remained only to provide some accommodation for the company in the line of facilities for reaching the lot. The business men of the city could have disposed of the matter in short order to the satisfaction of the company but neither they nor the Locks & Canals saw fit to concern themselves to any extent about the matter. As a result the spinning mill did not locate here but found a suitable location in Lawrence where it appears the business men get together and do things. The question now comes upon this Boston & Maine repair shop. The chance to bring it here is one of the greatest opportunities that has been within the grasp of this city for twenty years. Will the business men continue their policy of indifference and allow this opportunity to escape them the same as they did in the case of the spinning mill? If they do, it will be useless to look for any future boom for Lowell. The lack of public spirit and perhaps the opposition of a few corporations will serve to kill all the best opportunities that will ever present themselves for our municipal advancement.

This matter of securing the Boston & Maine repair shop is of more importance than the celebration of any past event; it is more important than the city charter that can be attended to at any time; it is more important than any other proposition of a similar kind that has come up within the history of the board of trade, not excepting even the bringing of the United Shoe Machinery shop to Lowell.

The question before the Lowell public today is, "what will be done to bring this industry to Lowell?" Let the board of trade and the business men of Lowell unite to push the claims of Lowell so that a suitable site may be selected in this city in order to bring her an establishment that would give employment to 10,000 men annually.

AN ARMED TRUCE

Strikers Lurking in Mountains and Mines Are Well Guarded

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 7.—The strike of Greek coal miners at Kenilworth, Carbon county, Utah, which flared into a sudden riot yesterday, has now become an armed truce, the strikers lurking in the mountains about the camp and the authorities maintaining a vigilant guard about the property of the Independent Coal & Coke Co., the residences of the mine officials and the body of loyal mineworkers. But one American is dead as a result of the riot. He is Thomas Jackson, a deputy sheriff. Chris Sanberg, a Swedish miner, is wounded. These two were in a party that attempted to disperse a group of strikers outside the company lines. There was shooting on both sides and each insists that the other shot first. When Jackson fell the band of Greeks sought points of vantage outside the town and kept up a fusillade of shots until the arrival of Sheriff Kelter with a posse which afterwards was reinforced by a trainload of officers from Salt Lake City. The posse replied to the fire of the strikers, killing at least one Greek and wounding two others. There may be more dead and wounded in the hills.

The officers are examining the peaks and ranges today.

The controversy turns on the price paid for mining. The Greeks insist that they were cheated in the weighing of the cars so that they made only from $60 to $75 a month, out of which they had to pay $20 or more for powder. Japanese and other foreigners in the camps as well as a number of Greeks refused to join the strike and it was an effort to deter them from entering the mine that precipitated the riot.

Greeks are employed in large numbers in other camps of the district and further racial and labor troubles are feared.

TERRY McGOVERN

FORMER CHAMPION PUGILIST IS SERIOUSLY ILL

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 7.—Terry McGovern, the pugilist, is seriously ill here. The nature of his illness has not been stated, but he was wheeled from the railroad station to the hotel in an invalid's chair.

CHECKER CHAMPS

DID NOT COME TOGETHER LAST NIGHT

The checker game which was to have been played last night between Severe Caron, champion checker player of this city, and G. Roy, champion of Fall River, for the championship of the state, had to be postponed for an indefinite period.

The game was to have been played in Victoria Lahaise's tonsorial parlors in Cabot street and was scheduled for 8 o'clock. The French people have so much interest in the game, that long before the time set for the match the place was overcrowded with people. Word was later received from Mr. Roy that the game had to be postponed on account of Mr. Roy being engaged every evening for some time to come.

The players will match their skill on the board for a stake of $20 and the title of champion of Massachusetts.

CONSUMERS LEAGUE

Pure food, the correct manner of purchasing foodstuffs and general aid to the working classes are matters that will be discussed. Mrs. Frederick Nathan of New York, vice president, reached the city last night, and John Graham Brooks of Cambridge, Mass., president of the league, will arrive tonight.

VIOLENT STORM

Is Raging at Vineyard Haven

VINEYARD HAVEN, Feb. 7.—The most violent snowstorm of the year continued to rage today, tieing up all shipping and resulting in several minor marine accidents. The tug Wyoming parted from her tow of three barges, the Eckley, Baffle and Baltic early today but finally succeeded in picking them up and towed them to this port for safe anchorage. The Baltic had her rudderhead twisted off and lost an anchor. The tugs Wyoming and North America, which left here last Sunday with barges around the cape were forced to return last night after a rough experience. In addition there is a large fleet of schooners, tugs and barges at anchor in this harbor today.

TWO MEN INJURED

WHEN PULLEY WHEEL BROKE AT ARLINGTON

ARLINGTON, Feb. 7.—Two men were injured and a number narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when a pulley wheel at the Arlington-Belmont ice company's icehouses broke. That the men were not more seriously injured seems a miracle, for shortly after the wheel broke a large drum used to coil the wire from the pulley came down and fell among the men.

The injured men were George Law, Jr., a son of George A. Law of this town, and David Ewing of Everett. With a gang of others they were shoving the cakes of ice into the houses, and another employe was pulling the guide rope of the large runs, when the guide wheel snapped and fell, striking Law and Ewing and scattering the other men in all directions.

The men were rushed to the police station, where Dr. Harold B. Webb attended them, but found that while both men were painfully injured, no bones were broken and nothing serious was looked for.

THICK WEATHER

COMPELLED SHIPS TO REMAIN IN PORT

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The western storm which appeared late yesterday settled over New England today. Heavy wet snow fell steadily here throughout the morning. Land traffic was inconvenienced but slightly, although shipping was held in port by an easterly blow and thick weather.

DRACUT NOTES

Town Clerk Brennan Accepts New Position

Town Clerk John J. Brennan of Dracut has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the Beaver Brook mills, Collinsville, but his new position will not interfere with his candidacy for town clerk. Dracut seems to have a preference for expert bookkeepers for town clerk, as a predecessor of Mr. Brennen, who held the position for several years, is Mr. Charles McCarthy, now connected with the auditing department of the Cudahy Packing company.

The Collinsville residents who patronize the Pelham line had no kick coming this morning for the company put on a big car. Yesterday the "dinky" was on and there were 83 passengers on it, the atmosphere in the car resembling in heat that of a hot room in a Turkish bath, but not in character.

SKULL CRUSHED

Man is Not Expected to Live

GORHAM, N. H., Feb. 7.—To the thick snow today was due a wreck in the Gorham yards of the Grand Trunk railroad. No person was killed, but J. W. Shilling of Gorham, roadmaster of the Portland-Island division, sustained a fracture of the skull and may die.

While a locomotive snowplow and van were engaged in clearing the sidings, a freight train bound from Portland to Isle Pond came along and crashed into the van. The van and plow were broken up, fire from the Portland engine completing their destruction. Shilling, who was in the van, had his skull fractured and hip broken. The other employes on the van and plow were shaken up, but not severely hurt. The freight train did not leave the rails.

The accident was caused by thick snow and smoke, which obscured the signals.

N. E. INVESTMENT CO.

Petition Asking for the Removal of the Receivers

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 7.—A petition asking for the removal of the receivers of the New England Investment company will be prepared and presented to the United States district court at Providence by counsel representing the stockholders of the company. The company was placed in the hands of receivers recently on the representations of certain stockholders that many of the subsidiary companies were financially unsuccessful and that the company was paying dividends that had not been earned. The stock of the company had been sold all over the United States and Canada, especially among the French people.

The decision to petition for the removal of the receivers was reached yesterday at a meeting in this city when the company was practically reorganized. Colonel William Marcotte, the newly elected president, presided at the meeting and Eugene Querin of this city was elected to the directorate.

THE RECEIVERS' REPORT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—Former Governor J. H. Higgins, one of the receivers for the company, stated that the receivers' report is now being compiled and will probably be made tomorrow after which the petition will be presented. Burns T. Hodgman, clerk of the United States district court at Concord, N. H. is the other receiver.

CLASHES WITH MAYOR

Lawrence Alderman Intimates Chief Executive Wants to "Duck"

Bills Against the City Are the Issue—Alderman Scanlon Refused to Serve on Accounts Committee—He and the Mayor Make Statements

LAWRENCE, Feb. 7.—Mayor Cahill and Alderman Scanlon threw down the gauntlet yesterday and paid each other compliments in the situation growing out of the latter's refusal to serve on the committee on accounts. Alderman Jordan, who has been acting as chairman of the committee since its appointment in the absence of Alderman Scanlon, balked at signing the payrolls of the city departments.

He contended that Alderman Scanlon had been duly designated by the mayor as chairman of the committee and he could see no reason why the ward 4 alderman was not in duty bound to serve. He was willing to sign the payrolls if it was shown to him that it was his duty to do so.

City Solicitor Murphy to whom had been referred the question of Alderman Scanlon's right to decline the appointment, had ruled that the latter had this prerogative. City Auditor Shea suggested that a majority of the committee could sign the payrolls in the event of no one being designated by the committee as a chairman.

The committee did not show an inclination to do this and adjourned without taking action. Unless the situation is straightened out the city employes will not receive their pay today, which is pay day. Alderman Jordan called the mayor on the phone and told him of the situation, and according to the alderman, the mayor expressed the opinion that Alderman Scanlon should act.

Objects to Guerillas

Later the mayor gave out this statement: "This guerilla warfare must stop. There is only one honorable course in times such as we have now. It is to stand up like a man and do full duty to the community. Alderman Scanlon prefers to follow his own course in the affair. He might be permitted to do so if he were not a public servant and would have a perfect right to do so as a private citizen.

"His proper place as a public servant is at my side on the firing line, and there must he stay at his post of duty. I won't stand for guerilla tactics in the administration of public affairs."

Alderman Scanlon also added a statement to the controversy. He said in part: "For the past week I have read in the newspapers many statements and interviews given by his honor, the mayor, relative to my refusal to serve as a member of the committee on accounts. He has succeeded in making the incident so ridiculous that I feel compelled to take a hand in the matter and enlighten the public as to the true state of affairs.

"His honor, shortly after inauguration day, appointed Aldermen Callahan and Jordan to the committee on accounts. Why did the mayor remove Alderman Callahan from the committee? Did somebody whisper to him that he missed a grand opportunity to put Scanlon in a cavity by making him a member where he would have to hold up bills at the meeting or forever hold his peace?

Handling the City Bills

"For the benefit of those who don't know, I will say that under our present system the committee on accounts is about as useful as a fifth wheel to a coach. The committee has about 1000 bills, long and short, to look over and does the job in from three to five hours. If a member wants to hold up a bill he must have a majority with him or he cannot do so.

"In handling a large number of bills in such a short time a 'phony' bill that should be held up is liable to get by and the committee on accounts should not be blamed. After each month as a general thing the interest of the parties who look over the city bills evidently grows less and the job is done more expeditiously than at the first meeting.

"For instance, we find the mayor in looking over his first draft (August) scrutinized it so carefully that he held up two express bills amounting in the aggregate to about 50 cents. One bill (and there were others) for 490 loads of crushed stone at 33 per load, $1470, in the December draft escaped his attention.

"There was a foot or two of frost in the ground in December and under the conditions the least the public might expect from the mayor was that he hold the bill up long enough to inquire 'Where did they put it?'

Who Should be Responsible

"There are two persons who should be held responsible for bills paid by the city. The first is the head of the department that contracts the bill. He gets a salary to perform his duties, and one of the principal duties is to see that only just and proper bills are made out against the department.

"The other person is the mayor, who also receives a salary. His principal duty is to look after the financial interests of the city and he should give his time to it even if he has to neglect his social duties to do so.

"People who know seem to think that his honor would like to 'duck' holding up bills, so he insists that I serve on the committee on accounts. If, in the rush of looking over bills, I missed a 'phony' and it got by me, then his honor could hold it up and say, 'Scanlon lets his friend get by with a 'phony' bill, but I hold it up,' or, if the concern were friendly to the administration, he could pass it along, knowing that after I had signed I could not very well make further objections.

"In short, it is general opinion that his honor desires to avoid the responsibility by placing me on the firing line to take the brunt of the fire from those whose bills are held up, while he enjoys his social functions and spends his time considering projects for municipal improvements that will cost millions and which it will be impossible to even start for at least three years."

RELIEF FUND

FOR RELATIVES OF CHICAGO FIREMEN WHO WERE KILLED

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Two hundred and four thousand dollars has been collected by the relief committee for the widows and orphans of the firemen who lost their lives in the stock yards fire last December. The committee will meet today to discuss a plan for the distribution of the money.

There are nineteen widows and thirty-three orphans of firemen besides the relatives of the three victims who were not firemen.

THREE RESCUED

They Were Afloat on Hatch Cover

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A speck in the East river that looked like a boy's raft turned out yesterday to be a ship's hatch cover with Capt. Williams Sands of the barge Marco Brothers, his wife and their nine-year-old daughter aboard. They had been adrift an hour and were nearly frozen when a boat belonging to the United States receiving ship Hancock put out from the Brooklyn navy yard and rescued them.

Sands' barge, eighth in the tow of an eastbound tug, bumped into the barge just ahead, careened violently, and being heavily laden with coal began to sink as soon as she took in water. The crash woke Sands. He tore off a hatch cover, set his wife and child adrift and then stuck by the barge until she sank. Then he swam through the icy water after them. Those on the tug far ahead knew nothing of the collision.

REFORM LAWS

Great Changes Proposed in Nevada

CARSON, Nev., Feb. 7.—Nevada's days as the surviving remnant of the "wild and woolly west" are numbered if in addition to closing the gambling halls, the legislature passes bills now in committee, doing away with wide-open liquor laws, prohibiting the sale of cigarets, prohibiting gambling in any form and requiring one year's residence as a qualification for divorce.

With the introduction of local option and high license bills in the assembly yesterday this long list of blue laws confronts the old-time resident. Reform measures are further represented in amendments providing for the initiative, referendum and recall.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Man Hanged Himself in a Prison Cell

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 7.—Joseph Demsky, of Fall River, from which city he was committed to the house of correction in this city, serving sentences of six months and eight days for non support and drunkenness, was found hanging in his cell shortly after midnight this morning. Life was extinct when the body was cut down immediately on the discovery. The prisoner had torn off strips of his bed sheet, twisted them into a rope, made a noose in one end and fastened the other about the cell ventilator. The man leaves a widow and several small children. He was 43 years old.

GALLIVAN MAY DIE

Boston Policeman Was Shot by a Brother Officer

They Were Engaged in Struggle With Alleged Burglars—Gallivan Has a Bullet Through the Lung, Near the Neck

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—While chasing four supposed burglars on High street at 1.40 this morning Patrolman Richard J. Gallivan was shot and seriously wounded by his brother officer, Patrolman Patrick A. Hanley of the City Hall avenue police station. Gallivan is at the Relief hospital with a bullet through the lung near the neck and his name is on the dangerous list.

At 1.20 Sergt. James Laffey of the Lagrange street station was standing on Summer street opposite High, when a youth ran up and told him an officer of the City Hall avenue station was having some sort of trouble with three men at High and Federal streets. Laffey sent Patrolman Sandberg of his division to help out if needed and after waiting a few minutes started up Summer street in the direction of Washington.

Near Arch street he encountered Patrolman Hanley and told him of the trouble. He told Hanley of Sandberg's presence on the scene and instructed him to use the officer if he thought necessary. Laffey continued on and had gone but a short distance when four shots rang out. He ran through Arch street to Franklin and thence to Federal and High streets.

On High street he saw an automobile and just arrived in time to see some men carrying another into it. Hanley thrust his head through the window, so Laffey said, and said, "I shot Gallivan."

Operate at Once

Laffey waited for no more. He immediately ordered Hanley and the automobile driver to make all possible speed for the Relief hospital. Gallivan was placed on the operating table at once and Dr. Packard, the surgeon in chief, started to operate. It was noticed immediately the man had but a small chance to survive.

Patrolman Jesse Williams of the American District Telegraph company was on Federal street near High when he heard the shots ring out. He ran through High street place and met a young fellow running in his direction.

Four Men Captured

Somebody at the corner was shouting to stop him. Williams drew his club and forced the fellow into a door and in a minute was joined by Sandberg, who had drawn his revolver.

Patrolman Buchanan of the City Hall avenue station arrived on the scene just a few minutes later and he assisted in the capture of the other three men, all of whom were sent to the station.

PRICE OF FOOD

Advanced Because of Cold Spell

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A heavy snowstorm of Sunday in this region caused an increase in the price of many articles of food yesterday.

Delay of trains and blocking of traffic that prevented the moving of produce brought about increases in the prices of eggs, butter, potatoes and chickens. Eggs sold at an advance of one cent. Elgin butter increased in price from 26½ cents to 27½ cents, and chickens ranged in price from ½ to 1 cent higher than on Saturday. Dealers asserted that further advances in prices may be expected before the end of the week.

AN EARTHQUAKE

RECORDED AS HAVING OCCURRED LAST NIGHT

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7.—The seismograph at St. Ignatius college observatory today showed that an earthquake occurred last night, beginning at 8.30, the vibrations ending at 8.43. Father Odenbach, the observer, estimates the center of the earthquake was 2009 miles distant.

GREAT AIRSHIP

May Make 40 Miles an Hour

GOTHA, Duchy of Saxe Coburg-Gotha, Germany, Feb. 7.—The dirigible balloon Gross III left for Metz early this morning and at noon passed over Hanau, heading in the direction of Frankfort-on-the-Main. The airship is being transferred from the Berlin balloon sheds to Metz to make room in the former for the dirigible Gross IV, which has just been completed and is awaiting trial. The new air craft is 444 feet in length, and is expected to be the speediest dirigible yet constructed, being capable of making 40 miles an hour.

CAR SERVICE

IN PROVIDENCE AND VICINITY GREATLY DELAYED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—The brunt of the storm in Rhode Island today was felt in Block Island, which was in the throes of a blizzard. Sleet and snow with a stiff northeast wind kept all craft in port. At 10 a. m. about four inches of snow had fallen.

In Providence and vicinity the street car service was delayed especially in the suburban districts. All shipping was held up and some of the steamers due to arrive today were many hours late.

GRAND WEDDING

Vivien Gould Becomes Bride of Lord Decies Today

Society From Both Sides of the Ocean Present—3000 Persons Invited to the Wedding—The Couple Will Sail for Egypt Shortly

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Society from both sides of the Atlantic has gathered in force today to attend the nuptials of Vivien Gould, daughter of George Gould, the financier, and Lord Decies, British nobleman and army officer, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church. The holders of 3000 invitations, it is expected, will crowd the edifice to overflowing and preparations have been made to handle throngs of the curious outside.

The church itself will be redolent with the perfumes of rare flowers in nave and chancel. Green and white will be the color scheme, although just what flowers will perfect it, the style and texture of the bride's wedding gown and the gowns of her attendants will not be made public until the church doors are thrown open.

Miss Edith Gould, sister of the bride, is to be maid of honor. The bridesmaids are the Misses Hope Hamilton, Beatrice Claflin, Hannah Randolph, Louise Cromwell and Allison Pierce. Two little nephews of the bridegroom, Marcus and Graham Beresford, are pages and will carry the train of the bride's gown. Two choirs will sing. The Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of the church, and Bishop David Greer will officiate.

The couple will sail shortly for Egypt, where they will remain until leaving for the coronation.

That there may be no repetition of the scenes at the wedding of Miss Marjorie Gould and Anthony Drexel, Jr., last year, when the hundreds of curiosity seekers almost mobbed the bridal couple, George J. Gould has arranged for ample police protection. It is said that Lord Decies has received many threatening letters, which the English peer, however, takes as a joke. Hundreds of police and plain clothesmen have been detailed to keep the crowd of sightseers from the church and Gould home and prevent any unfortunate incident.

Choir boys will precede the wedding procession led by the ushers. Lord Decies will wait at the chancel steps for his bride and will be attended by his cousin, Lord Alastair Graham, R. N., a son of the Duke of Montrose. After the bridemaids will follow the small attendants, Gloria Gould, who will walk with Master William Beresford and Diana Dalziel, who will be escorted by Master Marcus Beresford.

After them will come little Miss Edith Gould, who will be her sister's maid of honor, and following her the bride and her father.

The wedding gown is of white satin, embroidered in white and silver, with designs of Easter lilies. The train is five yards long. Over the whole gown will be a veil of tulle caught up with orange blossoms. The wedding presents, said to be valued at more than $100,000, will not be shown at the wedding reception, but are being packed for shipment to England. The reception at the Gould mansion will follow the wedding ceremony.

BIG IRON SAFE

Dynamited and Looted by Thieves

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A big iron safe, said to have contained several thousand dollars, was dynamited and looted by thieves early today in the office of the Halprin Knitting mills in Williamsburg. The explosion was not heard, although windows in the building were blown out and the theft was not discovered until Morris Halprin, the proprietor, visited the office this forenoon. The scene of the robbery is in the heart of Williamsburg's business section. The cracksmen left no clue.

THAW'S APPEAL

Has Been Dismissed by the Court

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Harry K. Thaw's appeal from the decision of the appellate division, adverse to his contention that he is being illegally detained in the state hospital for the insane at Matteawan, has been dismissed by the court of appeals. This practically sweeps away his last hope for release.

Mrs. Thaw in her petition to the court set forth that she believed that the "health and person of her son is in constant danger," and sought his release because of the "unprecedented and inhuman treatment of a sane, acquitted man in an institution for the criminal insane."

Thaw's counsel stated to the court that he had practically entered into a stipulation with the attorney general that the appeal might be dismissed, and that the state was entitled to costs. The remittitur dismissing the appeal was sent to the attorney general today.

A REGULAR BLIZZARD

INTERLAKEN, N. Y., Feb. 7.—The worst blizzard of the winter, which raged here for over 24 hours left about eighteen inches of snow on the level. It was piled by the wind into high drifts on the country roads, making travel difficult. Railroad trains are delayed.

Not Exactly Sick, but—

GOVERNOR FOSS

Says the People of This State Want Reciprocity

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—A message urging that the national congress be memorialized in behalf of Canadian reciprocity was sent to the Massachusetts legislature by Governor Foss yesterday. In his message the governor said:

"I urge you to memorialize congress immediately on behalf of Canadian reciprocity. The president has submitted to congress his recommendations upon that subject, but it would seem from press reports that the present congress is unlikely to act upon them. In view of these conditions and in view of the emphatic stand which the people in this commonwealth have taken in favor of reciprocity I deem it to be of the greatest importance that the congress receive at once from you a memorial to take prompt action in support of the president's recommendations. A memorial from the legislature of Massachusetts will be of exceptional weight in congress.

"This state is presumed to be the stronghold of tariff and high privileged interests and it is imperative that this mistaken view of the position of our citizens be corrected and the sentiment of our state unmistakably manifested."

The message states that the people of Massachusetts have demonstrated by the special election in the 14th congressional district last spring and by the result of the state election in November that they are committed to a policy of reciprocity.

A WARM BOUT

Put Up by McFarland and Keyes

PITTSBURG, Feb. 7.—In the labor temple last night Packy McFarland and Bert Keyes fought six hot rounds. McFarland won the bout, with points to spare, but there were times when the man who recently got a draw with "Knockout" Brown kept Packy very busy.

There was no doubt but Keyes was after a knockout if possible, as several times he almost sent himself through the ropes by missing vicious swings. Furthermore, his misses were by remarkably narrow margins.

In the first round the pair tried each other out. In the second Keyes, in rushing, stepped into a left uppercut which threatened to end his prize ring days then and there. However, he clinched long enough to regain his feet, and fought viciously until the end of the round.

The fifth and sixth rounds saw McFarland again draw away from Keyes in points. He punished the eastern fighter badly, but could not land a knockout.

McFarland simply laughed at the crowd when it scored him for not putting his whole heart into the punches, and assured those near the ring that Keyes was a hard man to hit and a dangerous man at all times.

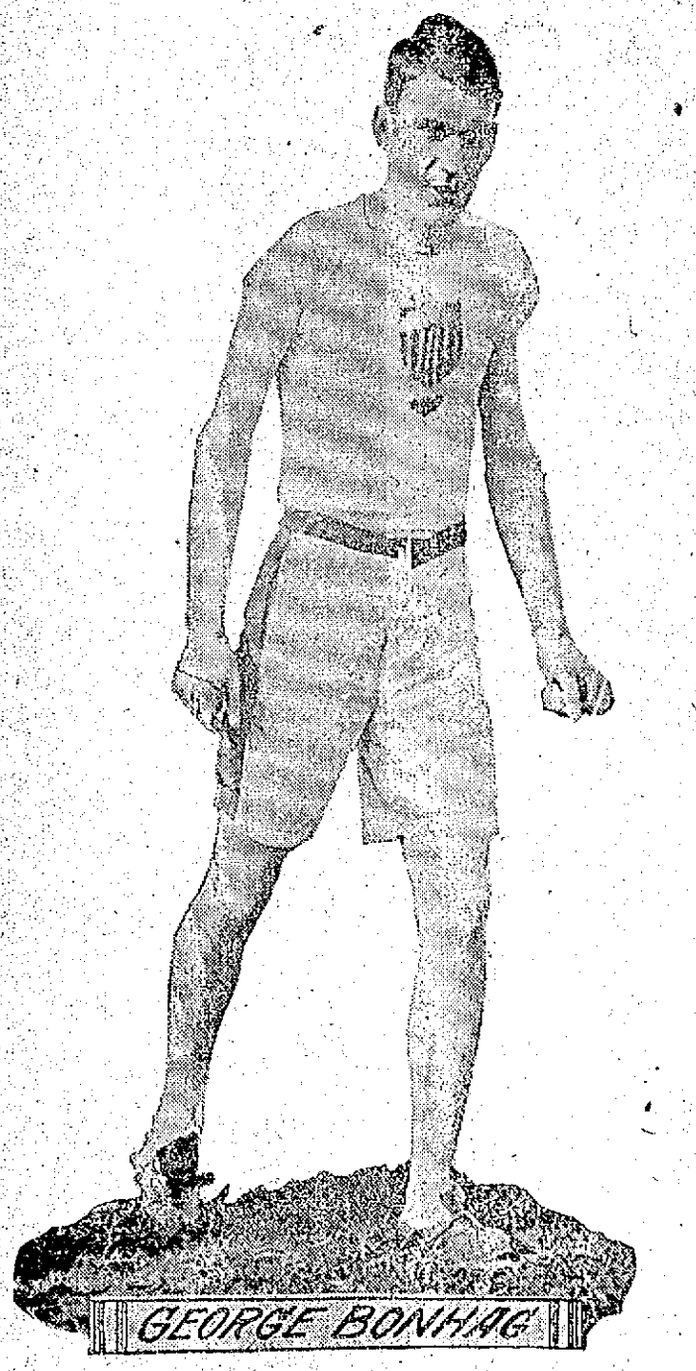

After the fight was over Keyes challenged McFarland to a 20-round fight.

FORGERY CHARGE

MAN WAS PLACED UNDER ARREST IN CAMBRIDGE

CAMBRIDGE, Feb. 7.—Wanted on the charge of forgery of checks amounting to $700, Herbert J. Strothard, with various aliases, was arrested at a Cambridge post office last night by United States Marshal Rulst and a Canadian detective, for the Dominion authorities. It is charged that he passed small checks on various banks and hotels in Nova Scotia, made out in the names of Halifax merchants.

AMERICA'S GREATEST INDOOR MIDDLE DISTANCE RUNNER

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—George Bonhag, the king of indoor runners, will retire from the cinder path at the end of this season. The American record holder made this announcement recently. "I fully intend to give up the athletic game after this season," said Bonhag. "I have been racing many years, and I feel that I cannot give the time to the sport that it demands. After the present indoor athletic and outdoor season I believe I will have my fill; then it is up to some of the younger men to keep the records falling." Bonhag is a civil engineer employed by the city of New York. His work requires him to be on the hustle almost all day, and he rarely finds time to train. In nearly every contest that he has started he has been returned a winner. On many occasions he has been tempted to forsake the amateur ranks to run the leading professional runners for big purses, but each time has refused and remained in the amateur class. Bonhag's next start will be the one mile race for the Baxter cup, emblematic of the indoor championship at the New York Athletic club games in Madison Square Garden Feb. 18.

WILLOWS LOST

The J. P. S. Scored a Great Victory

The J. P. S. won a signal victory over the Willows in the game played in the Minor league last night. The contest proved to be a good one, the Willows losing each string by small margins. Buckley of the losing team was the only man who reached the hundred mark while the victors, Bergeron and Severance, made scores which were instrumental in winning the game, Severance being the high roller.

The Alpines rolled a nice game last night and as a result their opponents, the Y. M. C. U., lost three points. While A. Doyle of the losing team was high man with a triple of 331, there were three members of the other team who sent the pins in different directions for more than 300, they being Devlin, Dwyer and Wynne.

In the Royal Arcanum league last night the Highland and Lowell councils played a good game. While the Lowell team won the grand total by the narrow margin of one pin, the Highland quintet won two of the three points. The scores:

MINOR LEAGUE

Willows—Ducey, 256; Curry, 250; Thompson, 250; Buckley, 271; McPherson, 253; total, 1280.

J. P. S.—Bergeron, 267; Severance, 309; Mason, 234; Montgomery, 274; Lafleur, 245; total, 1329.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Y. M. C. U.—A. Doyle, 331; Walsh, 274; Allen, 254; T. Doyle, 270; Singleton, 297; total, 1426.

Alpines—H. Farrell, 231; O'Brien, 288; Devlin, 302; Dwyer, 310; Wynne, 314; total, 1505.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE

Highland 970—Carey, 254; Rogers, 257; Fuller, 242; Dana, 228; Sub, 226; total, 1237.

Lowell 8—A. Gilbert, 227; O. Johnson, 250; H. Brown, 235; F. C. Gilbert, 259; J. Gleason, 257; total, 1228.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

While the Boott team of the Manufacturers' league still leads in the race for supremacy the members of the team are very active and have a good lead on the members of the Lowell Machine shop aggregation which is now holding down second place. The Bigelow quintet is in third place while the other teams are trailing along, the Tremont & Suffolk bringing up the rear.

Carroll of the Appletons stole a march on Abbott of the Boott and is now in first position in the individual standing, Abbott having fallen back to second place.

One of the amusing features of the individual averages is that Carroll of the Appletons is in first place and Bowen of the same team in third position, yet the Appleton team is in but fourth place, which demonstrates the fact that two members of that team are doing all the work. The team standing:

	P.C. won	P.C. lost
L. M. S.	45	23
Bigelow	40	28
Appleton	37	31
Lawrence	35	33
Massachusetts	30	38
Hamilton	21	47
Tremont & Suffolk	14	54

Team totals, Feb. 2, 1911:

Bigelow	22,889
Boott	22,329
Lowell Machine Shop	22,705
Appleton	22,651
Massachusetts	22,344
Lawrence	22,229
Hamilton	21,875
Tremont & Suffolk	21,776

DROPPED DEAD

Police Officer Was Stricken Suddenly

LAWRENCE, Feb. 7.—Cyrus R. Lawrence, a member of the police force, dropped dead yesterday afternoon as he was preparing to leave his home, 10 Reservoir terrace, to begin his night duty at the police station. He was 70 years old and had been a member of the police force about 16 years. Previous to that he had been a night watchman at the city stables and served one year as an officer in the Essex county house of correction here.

He was a veteran of the Civil war, having served in Co. I, 5th Maine regiment. He was at one time prominent in temperance work here. Besides his wife he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Edson Keef.

OWEN KILDARE

"THE KIPLING OF THE BOWERY" IS DEAD

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Owen Kildare, sometimes called "The Kipling of the Bowery," is dead. Broken in health and spirit he died on Saturday in the Manhattan state hospital for the insane at Ward's Island, but the news did not become generally known until last night.

Kildare was 47 years old and had a picturesque career. He was successively newsboy, professional pugilist, newspaper writer, and finally author and playwright.

CHAS. W. MULLIN

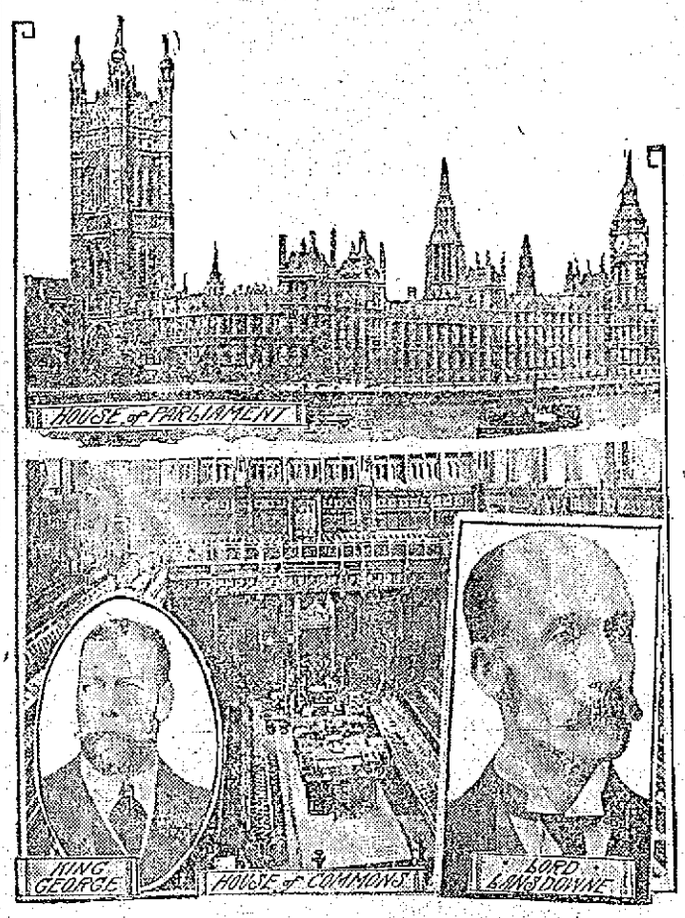

ELECTED SENATOR TO SUCCEED HIS BROTHER

BANGOR, Feb. 7.—Charles W. Mullen, democrat, was elected state senator to succeed James B. Mullen, his brother, who died, at a special election in Penobscot county yesterday. He defeated the republican candidate, Tabor D. Bailey of Bangor, by about 1825 majority. Returns from a few small towns are not yet in. The vote was light and but little interest was shown.

OBJECT TO TRAWLERS

OTTAWA, Ont., Feb. 7.—Parliament last night adopted a resolution calling on the government to obtain if possible an international agreement to prohibit the operation of steam trawlers on the grand banks of Newfoundland and the Gulf of St. Lawrence. Both the United States and France are operating the trawlers and it is contended that they deplete the fisheries.

KING GEORGE'S FIRST PARLIAMENT FACES ACUTE STAGE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The new parliament will be memorable not only as the first to be opened in state by George V. and Queen Mary, but as the one to decide the status of the house of lords and probably thereby make the greatest change of a century in the British constitution. Thus King George's regime faces a crisis of most vital importance. Many important measures are on the liberal program—home rule for Ireland and possibly "home rule all around," state insurance against unemployment and illness on a wholesale basis, other extensive financial schemes and possibly provision for paying members. But the question of the peers will precede all others. The government's immediate policy for dealing with the lords is embodied in what is termed the parliament bill, more commonly known as the "veto bill," which the prime minister introduced at the last session. It practically wipes out the power of the upper chamber to kill legislation from the commons by providing that any bill shall become law which the commons has sent to the lords for three successive sessions, in a period of time not less than two years, and which has been three times rejected or not disposed of. When the lords receive the bill after it passes the house of commons the real interest in the struggle will begin. Their policy is not yet disclosed or even formulated. Lansdowne, leader of the conservatives in the house of lords, in a resolution declared that the lords were "prepared to forego their constitutional right to reject or amend money bills," proposed to settle by joint session of the two houses differences lasting through two sessions of a year's interval and differences on matters of great gravity by a popular referendum. Lansdowne is leader of the opposition to the absolute abolishment of the house of lords.

SENATOR BURTON

Made a Strong Defense of Senator Cullom in Senate Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A defense of Sen. Cullom of Illinois formed the most striking part of the speech made in the senate yesterday by Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, in opposition to the report of the committee on privileges and elections by which Senator Lorimer of Illinois was exonerated from the charge of obtaining his seat by means of bribery.

The reference to Senator Cullom, who is Mr. Lorimer's colleague was called out by a statement made by Senator Bailey, of Texas, in the senate during the excitement incident to the close of Senator Root's arraignment of Mr. Lorimer last Friday. Speaking of the existence for years of a "jack-pot" fund in the sessions of the Illinois legislature, Mr. Bailey, who supports Mr. Lorimer, said that the means used to elect Mr. Lorimer were the same as employed in the election of Mr. Cullom.

Mr. Burton did not dwell long on the Texas senator's inferences. He said:

"The senator from Texas, no doubt unwittingly, did an injustice to the senior senator from Illinois in some remarks last Friday in averring that if Mr. Lorimer's election is invalid so is that of the senior senator. One conclusive answer to any such groundless inference is the method of the election of Mr. Cullom. He was nominated at a primary by a majority of 50,000 votes, and it would be most unjust to him to compare the circumstances under which he was chosen with the corrupt and dishonest methods prevalent in the legislature in 1909."

The Ohio senator discussed the allegations against Senator Lorimer largely on legal grounds. Without attempting to unravel the testimony, he proceeded upon the theory that certain facts had been proven and then undertook to show through precedents established in the United States and Great Britain that the election by the Illinois legislature had been tainted and therefore was invalid.

Among other points discussed was that as to whether the receipt of money after the casting of a vote constitutes bribery and it was held that it does.

"If," said the speaker, "those who received such money were free from corrupt intent, they certainly would not have received it after the votes were cast. It is impossible to separate the receipt of money after the election from other facts and circumstances in the conduct of those members which go to make up one dishonest transaction."

Meeting the contention that the evidence given by bribe-takers cannot be considered in connection with the case, the Ohio senator declared that no such rule in law now prevails. "It belongs rather to a crude state of society," he proceeded. "To maintain it would mean that the most serious offenders against the public must go unpunished. It ignores the difference in the comparative guilt of those engaged in the same unlawful enterprise. It regards the man guilty of a crime as absolutely an outcast, and disregards alike his reformation and the welfare of society. It closes the door of repentance for the criminal, even for him who has been misled by the superior influence of others into doing something against which his better judgment rebels."

Mr. Burton did not accept the statement of Mr. Lorimer's friends, that if there had been bribery that gentleman had not authorized it.

In another connection he said: "Who will assert, in the face of all the testimony, of Mr. Browne's promises or money, of his control over these members, his previous transactions, that his action was not corrupt or that Mr. Lorimer did not share in that corruption? It is definitely conceded by the defenders of Mr. Lorimer that a state of corruption was rife in the Illinois legislature. They admit that bribery was common and had been for a long time, but while conceding the rank corruption which prevailed in which Browne and others of those who voted for Lorimer were prominent figures, they deny that this applies to the senatorial election. They aver that there may have been a "jack-pot," but this does not affect, they maintain, the question at issue.

"In the first place, there is little or no testimony showing that legislation was prevented or promoted by the existence of this 'jack-pot.' If there was anything for which money was paid, it was for the election of a senator; and again, how it is possible to separate the two, if there was such a corrupt condition? The same actors in plots to defeat legislation were prominent in the senatorial election. Without their votes Mr. Lorimer could not have marshaled a majority. Every item of evidence goes to show that whatever corruption existed had exerted an influence in that senatorial controversy more than in anything else."

Summing up his conclusions, Mr. Burton found it "perfectly evident that fraud was so rampant" and dishonesty so widespread in this election that it is impossible to separate the sound vote from the unsound votes. "When," he added, "there is indubitable proof, as here, that fraud and bribery have been resorted to, no one can derive from the cesspool of corruption any conclusion except that no election was had. Undoubted proof is available not only to show that a sufficient number of bribed persons cast their votes for Mr. Lorimer to invalidate his election, but also that on other grounds than this there was not a valid choice. There are strong arguments to sustain a presumption that not only 7, 8, 9 or 10 were corrupt, but that possibly 30 cast their votes under the influence of bribery or dishonesty."

SENATOR LODGE

Opposed to Popular Election of United States Senators

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Resistance to the uttermost of the attempts to transfer from congress to the various state legislatures the control of the time and manner of electing United States senators, as proposed by the resolution providing for their election by direct vote of the people, was advised by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, in a speech in the senate yesterday.

Mr. Lodge was speaking in opposition to the proposed new amendment to the constitution as a whole, but found an especial mark in the portion placing the direct management of the detail of senatorial elections in the various state legislatures.

Declaring that the proposed change in that respect "strikes at the very foundation of the national government," Mr. Lodge said that the plan violates the plans of the framers of the constitution.

"It is now proposed," he continued, "to put the United States government, so far as the election of senators is concerned, at the mercy of the states. It is proposed to take from the United States any power to protect its own citizens in the exercise of their rights, no matter how great the need might be for such protection. If this amendment should become a law, twenty-three states, including perhaps only a minority of the population, could at any moment arrest the movement of the government and stop all its operations."

The senator denounced as "a mockery" the "pretense" that the proposed legislation is progression. Not only was it a mockery, but if was "retrogression and reaction of an extreme kind." "If adopted," he went on, "it would carry the government back to the controversies and the struggles out of which the constitution was born and which beset and endangered the infancy of the United States."

Enlarging upon the danger of the proposed change, Mr. Lodge said:

"Self-preservation is the first law of governments, as it is of nature, and it seems to me that no matter how we may decide the question of the methods by which senators should be elected, the reservation of the power of the United States to control those elections if needed is essential to the government's safe and continued existence. Any attempt of this sort to break down and weaken the authority of the United States ought to be resisted to the last. It is amazing that it should be suggested at a time like this, when the government of the United States is of necessity taking up new duties and new obligations as demanded by the conditions of the time; at a moment when the national government requires all its strength. And yet it is proposed here to weaken it, to take from it the one power which in the time of stress will be assured its existence. I cannot believe that such a proposition as this will be accepted by congress. I cannot believe that the country would tolerate it if it were once understood. Too much has been sacrificed to preserve the union of the states and to maintain the national government, to permit any tampering with those clauses which guard its very life."

The Massachusetts senator reiterated his opposition to the election of senators by the people, and contended for the maintenance of the constitution in its integrity.

"It has," he said, shown itself capable of adaptation to the new demands, as it has adapted itself to those of the past and I have hoped and believed that the new policies and the necessary reforms which the people desire could all be brought about as they have hitherto been accomplished, under the constitution. But new prophets have arisen who are not content with the reforms which have been and which will be effected by the law and they demand that the constitution itself shall be changed. Its success, in the past, which has challenged the admiration of the world is not to be considered as any plea in its behalf."

That there is a menace of the control of the state legislatures by corrupt means, Mr. Lodge denied.

"Any danger of the moneyed interests getting ever partial control of the government or acquiring undue political influence has been brought to an end in the last ten years," he said.

"Just now the financial business and corporate interests of the country seem far more concerned in trying to find out whether they are to be allowed to live and breathe than in seeking to control anybody else in politics or out of politics."

Incidentally the speaker paid his respects to the portion of the Arizona constitution providing for the "recall of judges," which he pronounced a flagrant interference with the liberty of the bench. His pronouncement on this subject indicated an intention to oppose the acceptance of the document by congress.

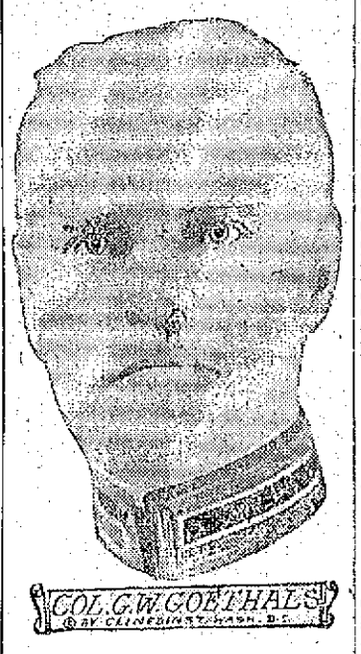

Closing his address with an appeal for the preservation of the constitution, Mr. Lodge said:

"We shall do well to hesitate before we mar a constitution crowned by the triumphs of a century and to which the sad word 'failure' is still a stranger."

COL. GOETHALS

To Urge Fortification of Canal

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Col. George W. Goethals, chief engineer of the Panama canal, who has arrived here from Panama in response to a cable message from the secretary of war, said that his visit to the capital is for the purpose of reporting to the appropriations committee regarding the fortifications of the canal. "Now that we have spent so much money on the canal there is only one thing to do, and that is to fortify it," said the colonel. "It would be a mistake to leave it unprotected, and it would also be a mistake to use the navy to defend it. In time of war the navy is supposed to take the aggressive and seek out the enemy, and destroy it as soon as possible, and the use of the navy for defending territory that can be well defended by land fortifications would be wrong. We should build batteries along the seacoast and provide sufficient means for the defense of the locks, so that any land force could be prevented from harming them."

The resignation was accepted and Colonel William Marcotte of Manchester, N. H., was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. Bonvouloir.

Colonel Marcotte is a well known business man of Manchester, N. WANT LICENSES

Hearings on Two Barbers' Bills

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Two bills to provide for the licensing of barbers were considered by the legislative committee on public health yesterday. One was drafted by Senator Ross of New Bedford and the other by John Weaver Sherman of Boston. The Sherman bill provides for the appointment by the governor of a licensing board of three practical barbers to give examinations and issue licenses. All practising barbers must be licensed, the first registration fee to be $5 and yearly renewals $1 each. Senator Ross was willing to accept the Sherman bill.

President Christopher Mallen of the barbers' state district council said he recently investigated conditions in Taunton, where, he declared, conditions in some of the shops are very bad. He said respectable barbers of the city had tried to get the state board of health to take action, but the latter refused to interfere with local conditions.

Many other barbers appeared in behalf of the measures, while no one spoke in opposition.

FIFIELD WILL

Continued

Miss Fifield is revoked and the amount of that bequest is divided into several smaller bequests, as follows:

The Codicil Provisions

To Johanna Sears of New Brunswick, N. S., sister of the first wife of deceased, $6000; Mrs. Louis B. Ingalls, wife of George H. Ingalls of Boston, $5000; Mrs. Charles Hale Maxwell of Canton, Mass., $3000; Mrs. Jennie Richardson, wife of Walter Richardson of Lowell, $3000; Louis H. Kileski, $10,000.

By the codicil, the executrix is authorized to expend a sum of money not exceeding $10,000, for the erection of a suitable monument in the Lowell cemetery.

The trustees of the Lowell cemetery are left the sum of $2000, the income to be used for perpetual care.

$5000 for Belmont, N. H.

The town of Belmont, N. H., is given $5000 for improvement and care of the lot in the cemetery in Belmont, in which the father and mother and other relatives of deceased are buried.

Then follows a bequest of $1000 to William Kelly of Canton street; two bequests of $1000 each to Harold and Hope K. Noyes, children of Harry K. Noyes.

Following these provisions is a clause providing that if any balance remains undisposed of, from the said sum of $50,000, it shall go to the residuary legatee, Dora A. Chase.

The last clause provides for a bequest of $5000 to Grace Universalist society, for the payment of any existing indebtedness; and, if at the time the bequest becomes operative, there is no existing indebtedness, the same shall be used for the general purposes of the society.

Mrs. Chase Interviewed

Mrs. Dora A. Chase, the residuary legatee in the will of ex-Mayor George W. Fifield of Lowell died yesterday in Cambridge, is a native of Canada and has been a resident of this city 35 years.

She had been housekeeper for Mr. Fifield seven years and previously occupied the same position in the family of the late Supt. Davis of the police department.

Her husband, George A. Chase, was superintendent of public buildings in 1885 and 1886. Mr. Chase was not married until some years later. Her husband was a skilled carpenter and while she was employed as housekeeper he worked at his trade in this city.

His name does not appear in this year's Lowell directory and Mrs. Chase says she does not know where he is.

Mrs. Chase is a smart appearing woman, and during the later years of Mr. Fifield's life she accompanied him on automobile trips in Lowell and to the near seaside places in this state.

To Be Buried In Same Lot

Mrs. Chase said in answer to inquiries:

"The will of Mr. Fifield was read three times to his sisters by Mr. Kileski before it was filed in order that they might clearly understand it. I am willed $50,000 in addition to the personal property, but I have been told the bequests outside of what was willed to me amount to nearly $200,000.

"Some of the estimates place the value of Mr. Fifield's property at $300,000. Before I can receive anything, all the property must be sold. If the real estate and buildings do not sell for enough to pay all bequests but mine, I must sell the personal property also to help pay them.

"The first will was drafted before Mr. Fifield went to the hospital last November. The reason for the codicil was that Mr. Fifield forgot some persons and Grace Universalist church, Lowell, whom he intended to benefit by bequests.

"It is left discretionary with me as to the style of a monument to erect on his lot in Lowell cemetery. He left a deed to me of his lot in the Lowell cemetery so that my body will be buried in the same lot with the bodies of himself and two wives. Money was willed by him for perpetual care of his lot in Lowell cemetery and that of his father in the cemetery in Belmont, N. H.

Silent as to Divorce

"I do not know if Mr. Fifield benefited by the estate of his brother. He died before I became housekeeper for Mr. Fifield. Miss Abbie M. Fifield of Belmont, N. H., was bequeathed $50,000 by her father and other property in Belmont, and Mrs. Frances Wilson, another sister of Mr. Fifield, was left $20,000 in trust by her father and I believe she received money by the will of her brother Charles.

"I am not going away from Lowell. I have lived here 35 years and I am going to do the business directed by the will of Mr. Fifield. I do not know where Mr. Chase is at present. We were married in Lowell. As to whether we have been divorced you will have to get an answer elsewhere. The will was first read last Friday morning in the room where we are sitting. The attending physician, the lawyer who drafted it and others were present. One of the persons whom Mr. Fifield remembered in the codicil to his will, was his chauffeur, who will receive $1000."

The highest estimate placed on the total of Mr. Fifield's estate is $700,000. In Lowell last year his real estate and personal property was assessed at $190,000.

One Estimate is $700,000

From a reliable source it was learned that Mr. Fifield was the owner of land and buildings in Lynn, Beachmont and Revere, worth anywhere from $125,000 to $140,000.

It was said by a man familiar with Mr. Fifield's affairs, that if the sale of his property is rushed it will not bring near the assessed value, but if sold to advantage as the opportunity presents itself, it will bring more than the assessed value in Lowell and at Lynn, Revere and Beachmont.

St. John's Hospital

The good sisters of St. John's hospital were highly elated when informed yesterday by The Sun of the bequest of $20,000 left the hospital by ex-Mayor Fifield. The Reverend Superior said to the reporter: "The bequest is most generous and comes at a time when it is greatly needed. At the present time we are sorely in need of additional room and a new wing is contemplated on the east side of the main building. This fine gift will make a good start for the building fund."

Lowell General Hospital

The money left to the Lowell General hospital will go into the endowment fund. Dr. Charles H. Stowell said to a reporter of The Sun today. "All the money left to the hospital is placed in the endowment fund and not a cent of it is used for any other purpose. It is a rule of the hospital to put all amounts given the institution, from the smallest upward, and not given for a specific purpose, into the endowment fund."

MEN FACED DEATH

They Were Imprisoned in Burning Forecastle of Craft

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Marveling that they were alive to tell the tale, the 18 men of the crew of the fishing schooner Teaser, which reached T wharf late yesterday, told of having faced death while imprisoned in the burning forecastle of their almost capsized craft off Sable Island, Jan. 29. The schooner was struck by a northeast gale when riding at anchor off Cape Sable Monday morning, according to Captain Dunsky, which threw her on her beam ends, with her masts flat upon the water. The galley stove emptied its live coals into the forecastle and started a blaze which threatened the crew with cremation, while the cook's range threw its boiling water over one of the crew who had to be removed to a hospital last night.

By a miracle the schooner righted herself, bringing up as she did so one of the dories securely caught in the crosstrees of the foremast—the others were all smashed. The brush of waters quenched the fire in the forecastle and thus all but the man who was scalded escaped injury from the fire.

A mustard mug stuck in the ceiling of the forecastle, gave one evidence of the capsizing of the craft when she tied up at T wharf last night.

IS NOT GUILTY

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Pulling after an hour's search of law books to find any ruling or statute to cover the complaint, Judge Utley in central district court yesterday discharged Wilfred Peltier, who was accused of attempting to aid an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane to escape.

Peltier confessed to the police he sent a file and saw to Caroline A. La Bontie so that she could effect her escape, but declared his action was taken to aid the girl's mother, and not because of a love affair the officers suspected.

The La Bontie girl has been an inmate of the Lancaster reformatory and home for feeble minded children. Her commitment to the insane hospital released her from the jurisdiction of the Lancaster school, where an attempt to aid an escape would have been covered by the law affecting prisoners.

HOW TO TREAT THE FEET

Many men and women, and especially clerks, suffer with aching, swollen and sweaty feet. Others suffer much from cold feet, or corns and callouses. This form of misery can be readily banished by the simple daily use of antiseptic vilane powder, a specific of extraordinary virtues.

Obtain two ounces of vilane powder from any leading druggist and to a gallon of steaming water add a teaspoonful, also a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet in this every night for a few weeks, ten to twenty minutes, and it will soothe, heal and remove all poisons and soreness. Corns and callouses disappear and cold feet soon become unknown. Anyone suffering with their feet should have this knowledge.

Run Down-- Weak Heart

This Great Tonic and Heart Stimulant Quickened Mr. Causey's Heart Action, Built Up His System and Keeps Him Strong and Active, Although an Old Man.

Mr. T. P. Causey, R. F. D. No. 5, Box 28, Vandalia, Ill., wrote: "It gives me pleasure to say that I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for several years and think it a great medicine. Before I commenced to use it I was all run down, could hardly do my chores. But this last summer I have worked in the field most of the time and felt much better.

"I have also been much bothered by my heart, so much so that I would have to go to the doctor's every little while to get medicine for it, but since I commenced using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I haven't had to go to the doctor for that trouble, and I feel much stronger. I have a good supply of the medicine on hand at present and will order more when it is gone."

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

The Harriman system of railroads seems to be a factor in deciding where the Panama exposition shall be held. Harriman intended, it is said, to build a canal himself had he lived; but now that he is dead and that the government is building the canal, why such deference to the railroads he left behind? The best interests of the whole country should decide the location of the coming exposition, not that of any railroad or combination of railroads.

WRONG APPLICATION OF THE RECALL

The territory of Arizona is preparing a constitution which may soon be adopted. In the instrument drawn up for adoption the initiative, referendum and recall are given full scope. It is provided even that the recall shall apply to judges, something which we believe to be fundamentally wrong and calculated to overthrow the independence of the judges in rendering their decisions. The judiciary should be protected in its independence as otherwise popular clamor will sway the decisions of the bench. President Taft and congress will have something to say of this provision.

ANOTHER HEIRESS CAPTURED

Lord Decies, aged 45, comes over from England and captures one of the biggest fortunes left to any American heiress. Incidentally the heiress herself, Miss Vivien Gould, age seventeen, goes with the fortune, but that in the opinion of many is not the prime consideration. The physical and financial wrecks of the European aristocracy continue to make such conquests because of the passion of American heiresses for high-sounding titles, for gold lace and "medals of honor." Who can blame them for taking advantage of what seems to be a prevailing weakness among American heiresses.

FOR LESS EXPENSIVE GRADUATIONS

There has been a movement very general throughout this country to make the graduation exercises of high schools less expensive to the parents. School boards and teachers have joined hands in promoting the movement which seems to give general satisfaction to parents, especially those who are in moderate circumstances. In some cities arrangements were made to provide graduating dresses for young ladies at a dollar each, all to be of the same material and the same style. Unfortunately some of the graduates, who no doubt are those who can afford expensive dresses, are unwilling to don the dollar dress. It is to be regretted that any of them should refuse to comply with a rule of this kind or feel that in so doing they would be in the least degraded. On the contrary, they would be assisting in a movement to save unnecessary expense to those who can ill afford it. Many of the parents make great sacrifices to put their daughters through the high school, and when the end of the course comes they cannot afford to spend $35 or $50 on a graduation dress. The movement for simplicity in dress at graduations should succeed, and any attempt at display of fine gowns at such occasions should be discountenanced. It is very embarrassing to the daughters of poor parents to appear on a stage in a plain and inexpensive dress to sit side by side with girls who are expensively gowned. They should be saved this unpleasantness by the enforcement of a rule for plainness and simplicity in dress on all such occasions.

THE PREVAILING OBJECTION TO THE PROPOSED CHARTER

Among the objections to the proposed city charter is one to the effect that its adoption would take from the young men of the city the opportunity to be elected to the common council. We have never supposed that anybody derived much benefit from election to the common council. It brings a young man into politics often to his life-long injury, and when this result does not follow, it usually gives him a notoriety that serves no good purpose. Some councilmen, it is true, have been elected to the upper board and even to fill the mayor's chair, but their advancement depended upon their innate ability, not upon the accident of their election to the common council. Under the proposed arrangement for the selection of candidates there is no obstacle in the path of any aspirant for office. Only twenty-five signatures are required in order to secure a place on the ballot, and thus no young man would be debarred from placing his name on the ballot as a candidate for nomination in the primaries. If he wins out there, then his name will go on the ticket as candidate for the commissionership. The fact that the number of offices is smaller than under the old charter is the real objection.

That is erroneously called a centralization of power, but it is not so in reality. It is the delegation of power by the people to a small body with the understanding that it can be promptly withdrawn by the people through the recall if the power so delegated be not properly used.

In the draft of the charter it is provided that a special election shall be called not more than seventy days after the filing of the certified number of signatures with the municipal council. Thus in less than three months and perhaps in two months after the necessary number of signatures have been secured the election will be held to decide whether the official complained of will be removed or retained in office. The official to be removed becomes a candidate for reelection and his opponent must secure signatures numbering 10 per cent. of the vote cast at the last election. In this way any objectionable member of the municipal council or the mayor may be removed. The proceedings for the application of the initiative and referendum are somewhat similar, these provisions enabling the citizens to force the passage of certain measures and to prevent the enforcement of others already enacted.

These are but a few of the features of the new charter. As we have said the chief objection is to the small number of members on the municipal board; but the best authorities agree that a small number of men attending to the business all the time can attain better results than a large body holding occasional meetings and making slow progress because of the difference of opinion among the members. There will be no deadlocks, no change of policy from year to year. The council will be a continuous body that can carry out a definite plan of improvement through a number of years.

SEEN AND HEARD

It doesn't prove that a man hasn't any brains just because he acts foolish now and then. There are so many pretty girls!

People who have wondered why actors affect fur-lined overcoats forget that it is sometimes convenient for an actor to have something that he can put in pawn.

Wearing glass slippers, Cinderella, of course, had to be very careful to keep her stockings darned.

It is sometimes dangerous to follow in the footsteps of your doctor. With the doctor, as a general rule, it's a case of "don't do as I do, but do as I say."

It isn't any use for a young man to take an unsophisticated girl riding in a roller coaster if he doesn't know what to do when she begins to scream.

Perhaps you have noticed that people who object to gossip generally wait until you have told your story all through before they notify you.

Even if you have lost your umbrella, don't lose your temper, too.

When there are a dozen children in the family, the younger ones are well brought up, because the older ones, who are spoiled by their parents, won't stand for being bothered.

Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I cannot reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.—Louisa M. Alcott.

"Where am I going to? Never mind;
Just follow the sign-board that says 'Be kind,'
And do the duty that nearest lies,
For that is the pathway to paradise."

"Sometimes we have so much to do that we don't know where to begin. It is a good plan to tackle the job we dislike the most first; then we can enjoy doing the others."

"You never can tell what your thoughts will do
In bringing you hate or love;
For thoughts are things, and their airy wings
Are swifter than carrier doves.

They follow the law of the universe,
Each thing must create its kind;
And they speed o'er the track to bring you back
Whatever went out from your mind."

"When you find yourself beginning to think things that you know perfectly well are unkind and uncharitable—don't. Pull yourself up short and resolutely turn your thoughts to other and pleasanter things. It's the only way."

"Opportunity will some day ring your bell—
Be ready.
She will not inquire if you are ill or well,
She will not stand waiting there
While you hasten to prepare;
She must hurry to where anxious others dwell.
Be ready."

SISTERS MEET

AFTER THEY HAD BEEN SEPARATED 31 YEARS

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 7.—After a separation of 31 years, during which time they had not heard from each other, Mrs. James Butler Hall of Daniel avenue, Olneyville, had a joyful reunion with her sister, Mrs. George Field of New Jersey, last night.

It all came about through a small advertisement recently in a paper. Mr. and Mrs. Hall arrived in America several years ago and it was then that a country-wide search was begun to locate Mrs. Field. Finally advertising was resorted to and the sisters were soon aware of the whereabouts of each other.

Last night Mrs. Arthur Tweedale of 232 Lahon street gave a big house party in honor of the sisters' reunion.

SECOND ENTERTAINMENT IN COURSE TOMORROW NIGHT

A rare treat is in store for those who attend the second entertainment in the People's club free course tomorrow night at the rooms in the Runels building. The principal attraction will be Minna Eliot Tenney, who will lecture on "A Summer in Norway." The lecture is free to the public, and everybody is invited. The hall is in Merrimack square and the elevator in the Runels building will be in operation.

As stated, the Norway lecture will be the second in the People's club free course. The first was last week by Mr. C. H. Nelson, magician, who entertained more than a hundred spectators with his clever legerdemain. Other lecturers and entertainments to follow, after that of tomorrow night, are:

Feb. 15—Rev. George F. Kennegott, "Switzerland."

Feb. 22—Solon W. Stevens, "Washington and His Compatriots," and patriotic songs by Mrs. Charles M. Williams.

March 8—Arthur K. Pick of Boston, "Oberammergau and the Passion Play," illustrated.

March 15—Rev. Charles T. Billings, "Scotland."

March 22—Wilfred Kershaw, a musicale, vocal and instrumental.

Besides these, two more illustrated lectures are under negotiation and will be duly announced. It is certainly a grand series to offer free to the Lowell public.

"Specialists say when powder or cosmetics are used for any great period the skin's surface becomes dry and scaly and often a pimply condition follows," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the San Francisco Chronicle.

"The reason is plain. Powder tends to clog the pores, and when these organs of elimination are hampered, trouble follows.

"Many women now use a liquid, which spreads evenly and smoothly and gives more satisfactory results than any powder or cosmetic.

"A splendid and inexpensive lotion can be made at home by dissolving 4 ounces of spurmax in ½ pint of hot water, then adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine.

SOLON STEVENS

Has Resigned Position as Organist

Solon W. Stevens, for over 50 years organist at the First Congregational church, has resigned his position, his resignation to take effect next Sunday. Mr. Stevens who now resides in Winchester, finds it too severe a task on his strength to come from his home every Sunday and return.

SOLON W. STEVENS

On Sunday evening Mr. Stevens will give an organ recital commencing at 6.15 o'clock. He will be assisted by Albert F. French, formerly organist at the First Baptist church. Mr. Stevens will play many of the numbers which he has loved and which the people of the church have grown to love, and which seem inseparably coupled with the half century of service rendered by Mr. Stevens.

It is understood that Mr. Stevens will be made honorary organist of the society, and that, from time to time, he will be at his old post.

Miss Elliott Sues Former Employer

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Papers in a suit for $50,000 brought by Mildred M. Elliott, who was employed as a stenographer in the law office of Sprout & Kendall, against her former employer, Fay B. Kendall of Newton, were filed by her lawyer, Edward Carr, in the East Cambridge court yesterday.

It is alleged that Mr. Kendall failed to keep his promise to marry the plaintiff.

Miss Elliott, who was born in Middleton, N. S., 24 years ago, was educated in the high school of that place, in a business college in Halifax, and in Dalhousie university.

She came to Boston seven years ago, she said, and after working for a law firm for a time, entered the employment of William B. Sprout, where Mr. Kendall had an office.

She said yesterday that Mr. Kendall was attentive to her from the time she made his acquaintance, and when he became Mr. Sprout's partner, his attentions were more marked, she affirmed.

He was accustomed to call for her at her home Sunday evenings, she declared, and accompany her to the Christian Science church, and she said the first present he gave her was a copy of Mrs. Eddy's book.

ANNUAL BANQUET

OF FRESHMAN CLASS OF THE TEXTILE SCHOOL

The annual banquet of the freshmen class of the Textile school was held last night at the Waverly hotel. About 40 members of the class sat down to one of the Waverly's famous banquets. E. Parker Smith was toastmaster and these toasts were responded to by the following members of the class: "Class Spirit," Robert H. Pirrie; "Athletics," J. A. Dover; "Freshmen," Osborne McArthur; "The Infant," Richard Waterhouse; "Girls," William Finneran; "Class of 1913," Francis P. Madden.

The committee in charge consisted of Francis P. Madden, chairman, Nathan Poor, Richardson P. Jefferson, Alexander Thompson and Herbert Bennett.

LOST ON VOYAGE

Doctor Missing When Ship Arrived

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The mysterious disappearance of Dr. C. C. Nicola of Attleboro, Mass., from the steamer Oceana was reported upon the arrival of that vessel yesterday afternoon from Bermuda.

A thorough search of the ship has failed to locate the missing man. Dr. Nicola occupied a state room Sunday night with a companion, H. H. Curtis. Mr. Curtis saw Dr. Nicola early yesterday morning. Since then he has not been seen.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Butler Ames company, Uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias, met last night. There was an unusually large attendance, and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. An invitation from Waldemar company of Haverhill to attend their annual ball in that city was read. The committee of the local company, which was appointed to make arrangements for the coming annual ball, reported favorably and assured the members of an excellent program for the event.

VANDERBILT RACE

May Not be Held This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Because of the deadly character of the Vanderbilt cup race on the Long Island motor parkway course last year and the subsequent transfer of the grand prize race to Savannah, efforts are now under way to bring about the holding of the Vanderbilt on some other than the Long Island course next fall. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., the donor of the cup, is in Europe, but motor interests close to the guiding spirits of the Motor Cup Holding Co., which controls the two big automobiling events of the year, predict today that these efforts will fail.

"The race will not go to Savannah, Indianapolis or any other city," was the confident prediction of one man supposed to speak with knowledge. "If the event is not held on Long Island it will not be held at all."

Good Tomorrow for This World's Most Famous Beauty Specialist.

An opportunity is now offered every reader of this paper to consult the world's most famous beauty specialist, Harriett Meta, of Paris, London and Syracuse, absolutely free.

A little over three years ago there was nothing known which, in our judgment, would actually remove wrinkles, but at that time Mlle. Meta made the important discovery which has since made her famous in two continents.

She demonstrated the great power of her new process by taking her own wrinkles out with it in three nights, after face, massage, masks, straps, steaming pots, etc., had all failed, and today Mlle. Meta's face is still free from wrinkles, her cheeks full and plump and her skin and complexion is a delight to behold. In fact, by many she is considered the most beautiful woman in all Paris.

Her remarkable discovery was brought before the judges of the Paris International Exposition and the Rome Exposition International for their investigation, and in both instances they quickly awarded her Gold Medals thereon. The French government also honored her with a patent on her new process, and patents are now pending before the U. S. government at Washington.

London journals sent their Beauty Editresses to investigate her methods, and their high endorsements of her discoveries made her famous almost overnight, so that she was eagerly sought after by French countesses and English ladies of high title and rank. The Beauty Editress of the London Onlooker wrote, "An interview with Mlle. Meta left me persuaded that here at last might be found the secret to restore youth and beauty."

Many of those who have used her process report most astonishing results. Mrs. Mary J. Davis, of 24 So. 4th street, East St. Louis, Ill., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Haskell, of San Francisco, Cal., writes: "I am 50 years old. Consequently my wrinkles were of long standing and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now when I view my changed reflection in the mirror I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards, of Raleigh, N. C., says: "Since using the treatment I look younger than I did 25 years ago." Mrs. M. L. Lee, 221 East Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "I used the treatment one night and it succeeded in entirely removing my wrinkles, leaving my face as soft and free from lines as a child's." Miss Henrietta Jackson, of 6 Melville bldg., Pittsfield, Mass., says: "Your treatment is a Godsend to womankind. I wish every woman could know as I know the wonderful results which are produced by your treatment.

Since Mlle. Meta made her remarkable discovery imitators have naturally sprung up all over the country. Some of them have copied Mlle. Meta's advertisements and literature to such an extent that the public is often at a loss to distinguish the imitation from the real. We are therefore authorized to announce the following remarkable offer, which cannot fail to convince you as to who is who:

Mlle. Meta will forfeit $1000 in gold if she fails to prove that she holds nine Gold Medals and three Grand Prix on her discoveries from International Expositions. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can prove that she did not take out her own wrinkles with it in three nights exactly as she claims. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if every testimonial and sworn statement which she publishes is not absolutely genuine. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can show advertisements similar to hers published in any newspaper or magazine in the United States or Europe prior to the publication of her advertisements.

Arrangements have been made with Mlle. Meta to furnish free information in regard to her marvelous process for removing wrinkles to all Lowell Sun readers. Merely cut out and send her the coupon below and you will receive free particulars by return mail in a plain sealed envelope. You can use this remarkable process in the privacy of your own home without the knowledge of even your most intimate friends. It often works astonishing wonders in a single treatment overnight.

RECIPROCITY BILL

Was Indorsed by Democrats of the National House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Favorable action by the house on the Canadian reciprocity agreement was assured last night when the caucus of democratic representatives formally pledged the party to vote for the agreement.

The resolution indorsing the Canadian agreement was carried, 90 to 22. On motion of Champ Clark of Missouri the action of the caucus was made unanimous.

The anti-reciprocity democrats were given free rein in the caucus. Most of those opposed to the Canadian agreement submitted by President Taft expressed their views and a number dwelt on the fact that the bill incorporating the agreement should not pass without amendment. Amendments, of course, would invalidate the entire agreement.

Conspicuously hung in the lobby back of the house last night was a placard bearing a quotation from a speech by the minority leader, Mr. Clark, on June 7 last. This placard had been placed there by a republican to call attention to Mr. Clark's opposition to any amendment of the reciprocity bill. The placard read:

"I do not know how long we shall be here, but as long as I am here I intend to fight for the right to amend every section of every great bill which comes into this house, and I do not care a straw whether the democrats control the house or the republicans."

Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the ways and means committee of the congress, and will begin work on schedule by schedule revision of the tariff as soon as this congress adjourns, led the movement to indorse the reciprocity agreement. Both of them declared for it unequivocally.

Messrs. Hammond of Minnesota, Brantley of Georgia, Webb of North Carolina, Legare and others spoke in opposition to it. Mr. Brantley urged postponing all such legislation until the next congress rather than put on the statute books a measure which will be used by the republicans as campaign material.

Mr. Brantley objected also on the broad ground of the disadvantage that such legislation would impose upon the raw materials of the producer. He expressed the belief that there is no occasion to rush through any such plans, because of the painstaking work soon to be undertaken by the tariff-making body of a democratic congress.

Four Ask Exemption

Mr. Webb talked similarly as to raw materials. Mr. Hammond pointed out that wheat is selling today at Minneapolis at a price seven-eighths higher than at Winnipeg, and that nearly everything produced in his district was injuriously affected by the propositions of the agreement. Mr. Webb announced that he could not vote for a blow at raw materials.

These democrats invoked the caucus rule which exempts a man from the binding effects to his constituents: Webb of North Carolina, Jujo and Broussard of Louisiana, and Hammond of Minnesota. All these made pledges to their constituents to vote for raw materials as against manufacturers.

Mr. Glass of Virginia opposed reciprocity, and Mr. Hardy of Texas favored it.

The reciprocity agreement was embodied in the McCall bill, which was the measure directly before the caucus. Mr. Brantly offered an amendment to this bill to refer to the ways and means committee or the whole matter for action by the next congress, but this was defeated, 27 to 89.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

This Illinois School Teacher Was Almost Prostrated but Was Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the nerves are unstrung it means that the blood is not supplying the nervous system with the proper elements in sufficient quantity to replace the waste caused by work requiring nerve force.

This is a frequent occurrence with teachers and other brain workers and the remedy is shown by the experience of Mrs. Fay Hubbell, a school teacher, of Yorkville, Ill., who says:

"Several years ago I was so nervous that it seemed that I was losing my mind. I had suffered from nervousness for several years but it had never been so serious. The nervous spells would come on with such pains in the top of my head that I was forced to scream and cry out. Hearing any one talk or visiting around me would make me frantic. I had no appetite, there were pains in the pit of my stomach and gas constantly formed. Food distressed me and caused nausea. My back and legs pained a great deal and my kidneys were affected. I lost weight and became very weak.

"I was treated by doctors for a long time but their medicine did not cure me. My husband had read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to have me try them. A few boxes relieved me so much that I gave them a thorough trial and was entirely cured. I think very highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am very glad to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most direct cure for nervous troubles because they remove the cause of these diseases by building up and purifying the blood. The pure blood which they make furnishes the nerves with needed elements until they are restored to their normal strength. The pills have made so many remarkable cures in nervous disorders that no sufferer can afford to neglect giving them a trial.

They can be obtained at any drug store or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Write for a free copy of our new booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." The booklet describes symptoms and gives much useful information. It will be sent free on postal card request.

CAPPED ELBOW

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat It

Shoe boil does not require description. It is too well known. There are, of course, reasons for the shoe boil, shoe too long, cannon bone too long, the peculiar manner some horses have of lying down, like a cow. In these cases the hoof and shoe come in contact with and pinch the soft skin with the weight of the body causing a bruise which may develop in a number of ways, sometimes a simple bruise with a little swelling and slight inflammation, then swelling enormously showing great heat and pain, and causing severe lameness. This swelling does not remain in full but subsides gradually and forms a soft fluctuating tumor, containing bloody or purulent pus, which discharges if lanced. Changes follow the opening of these tumors. In most cases these will heal with little assistance but in some instances there remains a pendulous sac, which will grow larger at the slightest irritation and diminish again, repeating time and again this manifestation. In other cases an abscess forms, thickens, becomes fibrous and shows a hard tumor on the back of the elbow. In this form it is a serious matter and no treatment is of use except the knife. The other forms may be treated with success and are harmless except for the liability of their recurrence.

Prevention is one important point to emphasize. Break the animal of the habit of lying upon the heels, shorten the inside of the shoe, bandage the heel with bags or other soft material, put on boots, put a strip of wood across the stall some little distance back of the manger.

Treatment is hot water, plenty of it, for reducing the inflammation. Apply a good brisk liniment. There are some liniments which will disperse almost any of these shoe boils, or apply a good absorbent, in more obstinate cases, or one can poultice, bring to a head and lance, cleanse with a good disinfectant and heal. In those obstinate cases which seem to resist all treatment we must depend upon the knife.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Gives Up Auto to Young Woman

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Mayor Gaynor surrendered his automobile to a young woman yesterday afternoon and fought his way to the city hall through the snow storm, while the girl rode home in the machine. The young woman was Miss Isabel H. Smith, and she took the mayor's place in the Gaynor auto after the machine had struck her and sent her sprawling in the snow in Brooklyn.

The mayor and the chauffeur alighted and went to her aid. She protested that she was unhurt, but the mayor insisted that she ride to her home in his machine. She yielded finally and the chauffeur turned the vehicle around, leaving the mayor to reach the city hall as best he could.

MAN DESPONDENT

Plans for Son's Marriage Failed

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Despondent because he had used most of the money he had saved during his residence in the United States to pay the fare of a young girl from Armenia to Worcester as a bride for his son, only to have her sent back home because of an incurable disease, John Boyajian of 34 Pink street, aged 45, killed himself yesterday in Institute park, sending a bullet through his heart.

Boyajian has been complaining of the cruel fate which prevented a happy marriage for his son ever since the latter's sweetheart was deported, and when he left his home yesterday morning he told his wife and son it would be for the last time. They paid no attention to his remarks, but a few hours later his body was found at the bottom of the footbridge leading to the island in Institute park by Alfred Danielson and Howard Burkett, the latter son of Manager Jesse C. Burkett of the Worcester Baseball club.

Y. M. C. I. NOTES

QUARTERLY COMMUNION OF THE INSTITUTE NEXT SUNDAY

The members of the Y. M. C. I. are pretty busy these days. They are keeping things going and at the present time have considerable work on hand.

Next Sunday they will attend their quarterly communion at the church of the Immaculate Conception and a breakfast in the club rooms will be served.

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, the institute will hold a ladies' night, in the form of a valentine party. Gilmore's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

A committee will soon be appointed to make the proper arrangements for the 22nd anniversary of the organization, which occurs on June 15th.

Thursday evening, the fourth series of card games will be played between representatives of the institute and the Holy Name society. The Holy Name society now leads in games won, two to one.

A membership list is now in preparation to be put in the large cabinet purchased for that purpose, and it is expected that it will be ready in the course of two weeks. The committee in charge is Martin Welch, Frank Lang, George O'Meara and Paul Clark. Thomas M. Welch, one of the popular members, has purchased bowling alleys in Natick, where he is now busily engaged getting things in readiness for opening.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Miss Mildred Jewel, who heads the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week answers questions put to her by those in the audience who care to test her powers, or are really after information. Yesterday she answered a lot of questions and to the satisfaction of all.

She is creating a lot of comment, people are wondering how the trick is done, and what seems to puzzle most is that the management is careful to have it understood that Miss Jewel is neither a spiritualistic medium nor simply a mind reader, her powers are obtained solely by scientific means, so declared the management.

The entire act is wonderfully interesting, as there is absolutely no clue by which one may gain a knowledge of the manner in which Miss Jewel accomplishes so satisfactory results.

Four other good acts also appear on the program. A quartet of cyclists and roller skaters are known as the Reckless Racidaws. They present a novel and interesting offering, some of it very amusing. The roller skating by a young woman and a young man is unique also.

Frenchell and Lewis, both excellent singers equipped with voices of excellent quality and range, sing selections from some of the most popular operas and also selections of a popular semi-classical order.

Charles Frazier is booked as a comedian and he certainly has the real stuff with him, and also renders a little concert on a concertina. Mr. Frazier can make that instrument do everything but think; he's worth hearing.

Frederick Meek is the soloist, and a good one. His selections are well chosen and well sung. The moving pictures, too, are varied and all new.

The above bill will be presented every day this week from 1 until 10.30 o'clock. Thursday night at 10 o'clock, Miss Jewel will answer the personal questions of women in the audience, and men will be excluded. The lovelorn will have their chance Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE OPERA HOUSE

Just as in the smoke and roar of battle it is "the man behind the gun" that is one of the all important factors in the ultimate result, so is "the man behind the scenes, the unstring, ever watchful stage director, the man who is seldom seen by public, but under whose master hand the general scheme of things are worked out and the smooth and finished performance given, one of the important factors in the success of a stock company. Such a man is J. H. Huntley, the stage director of the stock company that is to open at the Opera House next Saturday. Mr. Huntley, who is a man of wide experience in this line of work, a man who has staged productions for some of the best known stars and who has conducted his own stock company in several of the larger cities. The production of "The Charity Ball," which is to the opening bill of the Opera House stock company, and which is now in preparation, promises to be one of the most complete stock performances ever given in Lowell. The generous size of the Opera House stage lends itself to the making of elaborate stage settings and the construction of these are now well under way for the first play to be given. The sale for the first week opened today with a rush that indicates a lively interest in the engagement here of this company.

J. H. HUNTLEY

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A big show is the rule at the Academy for the first half of the week. The Ten Louisiana Blossoms, a colored aggregation of singers and dancers entertain in a very pleasing act. They render some of the old songs in a very effective manner and those of the popular up to date successes and will please everybody in the different selections. The Hurleys give a neat acrobatic act and perform many difficult tricks. Denoyer and Daunde are a pair of lively entertainers and introduce lots of bright comedy in their skit, "Chatter Chats." The pictures are all good and include a biograph feature. The show is considered one of the biggest and best given at the house this season.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Many references to Harvard personne and traditions especially in the second act of "Brown of Harvard," which the Donald Meek stock company with Severin DeDeyn is presenting at this popular little play house this week, are probably of more interest to Harvard men than to the general public. Schneider, who leads the band, the old clothes man, and above all, John, the orangeman, were greeted with welcoming cheers on the opening night. Old John, with his toothless smile and gestures of supreme happiness, was accorded a greater reception on his debut as an actor than most great stars receive at the height of their fame. In stage management the play shows extraordinary care, and the love scene between Brown and Evelyn in the middle of the yard may be excused on the grounds of dramatic necessity. However, it is generally supposed Radcliffe girls do not make a practice of walking about the yard and speaking to Harvard men. Mr. Meek, as "Tom Brown," cleverly portrays a dashing, courageous son of Harvard, who dares everything for love, honor and loyalty. All week with daily matinees.

THEATRE VOYONS

Projecting motion pictures in a lighted theatre is possible as those shown at the Theatre Voyons prove. The cry for lighted theatres has little effect here, but today the pictures shown at this theatre are far and away better than those demanded where this question has been widely advertised. The exclusive film service together with the excellent projection make a strong argument in favor of this theatre. A real comedy, Hearts, Hunger and Happiness a most interesting scenic; Practical Trout Breeding, a thrilling western subject; The Curse of the Red Man, and a domestic drama, Disinherited, make up a strong and attractive bill today.

"BIG TIM'S" GIFTS

It Was Shoe Day on Bowery

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Yesterday was "shoe day" on the Bowery and a lively one, too. Snow began falling just as State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan's aids began the distribution.

In all 500 pairs of street shoes and an equal number of pairs of heavy woolen socks were given out. No questions were asked of those who held tickets issued at "Big Tim's" Christmas dinner to the poor of the Bowery, except as to the size of the shoes the prospective wearers desired.

The ticketholders began to gather at the Sullivan clubhouse at noon, and by 3 o'clock two lines of them stretched a block up and down the Bowery. Men of all conditions were in the lines.

The only disappointed persons were the Bowery pawnbrokers, because the heavy snow forced most of the recipients of Sullivan's bounty to make immediate use of the gifts.

"Big Tim" was too modest to remain in town for the distribution. He was in the senate chamber in Albany.

SUNDAY CLOSING

Board of Trade Discusses Post Office Movement

Sentiment of Executive and Postal Affairs Committees Favors the Elimination of Sunday Work at Federal Building

The executive committee and committee on postal affairs of the board of trade met a delegation from the Letter Carriers association at the board's rooms yesterday afternoon and discussed the question of Sunday closing at the postoffice, now being agitated by the employes of the postoffice.

After an hour's discussion it was the sentiment of the meeting that Sunday work in the federal building should be eliminated.

President Harvey B. Greene called to order, and the postoffice employes present were Messrs. John J. Dillon, George L. Adams, James W. Maguire,

JOHN J. DILLON

Maurice H. Powers, George Gurney and Charles W. Bell, the latter two being clerks in the office.

Mr. Dillon was the first speaker, and he stated that the Sunday closing movement is a general one and some of the larger cities have already adopted the new idea. In Lawrence the system has been adopted and has proved a success. It is optional with the postoffice authorities whether the men shall be exempt from work on Sunday. If there is no opposition to such a move, the postmaster of the city where the movement has been on reports to the postmaster general's department in Washington and the privilege to close is granted.

A careful study of the situation, Mr. Dillon said, has been made at the local office, during the past two Sundays. Jan. 28, 205 persons called at the window, and less than one-half of these received any mail. There was an even dozen of business men among them, he said. Last Sunday, Feb. 5, 250 called at the window and about half received mail. Among the 250 were women, foreigners and a lot of young people. Seven business men were counted.

Now the last mail is delivered at 5.30 o'clock Saturday night. The clerks would be perfectly willing to go to the postoffice Monday morning earlier than usual in order to sort the little mail which might accumulate during Sunday. Their Sundays, it was argued, were always broken into; they are not accorded the day of rest which others receive. It was practically impossible to go away for only a few hours.

It is intended to send out 10,000 return post cards to local citizens in order that an expression of opinion may be obtained.

President Greene said that the stopping of work on Sunday would obviate any opportunity for dishonest persons to collect mail which was not theirs. Now, when a person calls at the window on Sunday asking for mail, he receives it and is not required to sign his name or to identify himself. He believed that mail which occasionally goes astray and which is never traced is sometimes delivered to the wrong person.

The Sunday closing will not in the least affect those who have boxes at the postoffice, it was stated, and undoubtedly more local business men would be very willing to hire boxes should the proposed regime go into effect.

Although no formal vote was taken, members of both committees favored Sunday closing, and the matter was referred to the board of directors who will meet tomorrow afternoon.

The executive committee of the board of trade has voted to send representatives to the hearing on the trolley express which will be held at the state house, Boston, at 10.30 o'clock Wednesday. James F. O'Donnell is chairman of this committee.

MAN PERISHED

As Result of Cold in New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Daybreak today found New York city clad in a three inch blanket of snow. During the greater part of the night the wind was very high, reaching a maximum of about 30 miles an hour while the mercury had dropped to a point 20 degrees below freezing. The weather man prophesied more snow and a lower temperature before night.

One death due to the storm was recorded and the police had a record at daybreak of 30 persons injured by falls or taken to hospitals suffering from exposure. The dead man was Frederick Lohring, a resident of the Bronx who perished of exposure. He was found unconscious in the drifted snow and died in an ambulance as he was being taken to a hospital.

CAUGHT BURGLAR

Officer P. J. Conroy Makes a Good Catch

Arrested One of Two Men Who Broke Into Billerica Post Office and Rifled Letters — Federal Officers to Take Charge of Case

The post office at North Billerica was broken into early this morning by burglars, who after rifling a number of letters and finding no money, stole confectionery and tobacco. An entrance was gained by breaking one of the large glasses in one of the windows in the front of the place.

Finding that the haul was a small one of the burglars, was addressed near Lowell.

Thomas Smith, who it is alleged was one of the burglars, was adrested near the old fair grounds in Gorham street this morning by Patrolman Patrick J. Conroy. Another man who accompanied Smith made his escape.

When Smith was searched at the police station it was found that he has a quantity of chocolates, chewing gum, cough drops and a laundered shirt marked "F. R. K." on his person. Later it was learned that the articles found in Smith's possession were taken from the North Billerica post office.

Smith was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness, but Deputy Downey asked for a continuance on the ground that a more serious charge might be preferred against the man tomorrow morning.

The offense of breaking into a post office and opening mail is a very serious one and when the local authorities learned of the matter they immediately communicated with the federal authorities in Boston who will come to Lowell and take charge of the case.

It was about two o'clock this morning when Patrolman Conroy noticed two suspicious characters near the old fair grounds in Gorham street and questioned them. One of the men started to run and the officer immediately grabbed the other, who gave his name as Thomas Smith. He said he was 28 years of age, a shoemaker by trade and resided at Albany, N. Y.

He was sent to the police station where upon being searched it was found he had a number of the articles which it is alleged were stolen from the North Billerica postoffice.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES

Will be Discussed at Hearing Tonight

Central Street Business Men Will Oppose Rule Barring Them Out of Middle Street — Penalties Provided for Violation of New Rules

If the storm doesn't prevent them getting there, a large representation of Central street business men will be present at the hearing before the committee on municipal affairs of the board of trade on the proposed new traffic regulations.

In the new regulations about to be submitted to the city council is a joker just discovered by the Central street men, and they will be on hand to fight it because if the new regulations go through in their present shape the Central street tenants will have no place within a reasonable distance of their places of business to leave their carriages, autos or wagons.

The proposed new rules state that no vehicle may stand in Merrimack street between the Concord bridge and Kirk street, longer than 20 minutes, while on Central street the limit is from Merrimack to Warren street. The regulations also provide that no vehicle may stand in Middle street more than 20 minutes, unless it is owned by a man doing business on the street. Substantial fines for violations are provided for in the new ordinance.

The rub comes on the rule relative to the storing of teams in Middle street. Under the present regulations the Central street tenants being obliged to keep their wagons off Central street leave them in Middle street, the result being that the street is often crowded with autos and other vehicles. The committee in its investigating noted this crowded condition and concluded that it would be difficult to get fire apparatus through in case of fire. For this reason it was decided to allow only the vehicles of the Middle street tenants to remain there.

Henry A. Smith, chairman of the committee on municipal affairs, will preside and will give everyone present an opportunity to be heard. The committee desires a free expression of opinion and will be agreeable to any change in the rules that will please the majority. Now is the time to make any objection before the matter goes before the city council.

SANCTUARY CHOIR

TO GIVE MINSTREL PERFORMANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

The members of St. Patrick's sanctuary choir will hold their annual minstrel show and dance in Associate hall tomorrow evening. This organization, which made its initial bow into the world of minstrelsy last year, made such a pronounced success with its first attempt that the members decided to make the production of a minstrel overture an annual function on their social list. The performance last year was given in the school hall of St. Patrick's academy on Suffolk street, but the accommodations of this hall were far from being adequate for the comfort of the vast audience. The production this year has been named the "New Era" minstrel overture, and promises to be one of the best things ever produced in this city in the way of minstrelsy.

Several soloists of the choir who have gained much prominence in the rendition of some of the church music will be on the program, and to hear these youngsters will be a treat for those who attend. Additional to this the end men will have the usual comedy, solo, and march work and with jokes, most of which will have a local linge, will add to the fun.

The performance of last season was commented on most favorably by all who witnessed it. The members realized that with the material they had last season and know that if they wanted to make this production more successful than its predecessor they could not do so without almost doubling the expense of the last overture This they willingly have done.

A NEW CONCERN

Chance of Lacemaking Plant Being Located Here

It is reported in manufacturing circles that a lace-making concern in Nottingham, England, is contemplating erecting a plant in this city. The board of trade has no positive information in the matter, but the board has had inkling of it from a member of the department of commerce and labor, F. G. R. Gordon.

Mr. Gordon visited Lowell some time ago for the purpose of investigating trade conditions. It is the business of the department of commerce and labor, of course, to introduce into this country all the new industries possible. Mr. Gordon spoke of the lace-making industry and said that he would correspond with concerns across the water.

He told Secretary Murphy of the board of trade that there are only about 200 looms employed in the making of lace in the United States, and the lace imported into the United States everyt year represents the output of at least 8000 looms. Most of the lace made in this country at the present time is made in New Jersey.

THE FINAL SLASH

Was Made in the Department Estimates Last Night

Committee on Appropriations Completed Work Last Night — Slight Increases in Salary Given to Some Clerks at City Hall

The committee on appropriations gave the department estimates their final slash last night. The assessors were cut another $200; cemeteries, $2000; fire department "other" expenses, $1025; schools, $11,000. This left over $8000 in the general treasury fund. The total sums for departments are $1,405,492.08. The committee found $2600 that was a sort of over-cut and that amount was divided between some of the city hall clerks and the city hall firemen. The fire department, permanent and call men were allowed half what they asked for. The permanent men wanted an increase of 25 cents per day and the call men $50 per year.

City Clerk Dadman appeared before the committee. He had asked small increases for two of his clerks. He asked $1 a week for a clerk who had been in the office for more than 30 years and he said it would take two years for another clerk to learn her work. He asked an increase for another clerk, he said, because she was receiving the smallest pay of any clerk at city hall and she is a very capable clerk. Mr. Dadman claimed that his clerks had more to do than clerical work; they have to meet people and they have to be acquainted with the different forms made out at the city clerk's office. He invited the committee to come to his office and see for themselves.

Mr. Dadman said his books would need rebinding soon and his sundries ought not to be sliced. He said he had never exceeded his appropriation by over $50. There was money paid out of his appropriation that his office never got any credit for; clerical work that brought a revenue to the city treasury. He called attention to election cost and he thought a good showing had been made with last year's appropriation. He said that if the new charter passes the legislature there will be an expense of $1500 for a special election that would have to be met by a special appropriation.

The city hall firemen were on deck to tell why they were entitled to the increase asked for. The committee granted the increase asked for by the men, 25 cents a day, two of the men working the year round and one working six months, and $250 was added to the city messenger's department to meet it.

The city clerk's estimates were then discussed and he was allowed an increase of $104 for salaries and $70 "other expenses."

In the city treasurer's department, two raises asked for were granted and $422.50 was added for the purpose, while his incidental fund was increased from $2500 to $2600.

The sealer of weights and measures was allowed some more for incidentals, $300 more was appropriated.

Increase of pay for the fire department was the next matter. The salaries list in the department was given $6051.25 increase, to meet the request of the men for a raise in wages, including the permanent call men. This represents half the sum needed to accomplish the purpose. Later however, on motion of Councilman Chapman, the action granting the firemen an increase was rescinded.

It was voted that $200,000 be appropriated for the expenses of the water department, to be paid from its revenues.

Adjourned.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Vote Was Practically on Party Lines — Death Penalty Bill Cause of Lively Debate in the House

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—The Massachusetts state senate had its first real field day with all the orators on edge yesterday afternoon. It was on the financial measure relative to the employment of experts by the chief executive to assist him in making inquiries into state boards and institutions under the so-called Walker budget act of last year.

About a week ago, the governor having asked for the authority to employ such expert assistance as he might deem necessary for intelligent research in the business methods of state boards or institutions, since he had to make to the legislature specific recommendation as what appropriation they should have for the current year, the joint committee on ways and means, reported in the house a resolve giving the chief executive the desired authority and permission to spend whatever part of the executive $100,000 contingent fund he deemed necessary for the purpose. The house passed the resolve without division but after fervid protests by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Representative Thomas W. White of Newton.

The resolve was received last Wednesday by the senate. Friday Senator Greenwood of Worcester, chairman of senate ways and means, offered a substitute bill for the house resolve. In substance it provided that the governor might have all the information he wanted but all experts to be employed would have to be passed upon by a committee to consist of the governor Greenwood of Worcester, chairman of the legislative committee on ways and means, and reports of experts would have to be made to such a committee, each member to be furnished with a copy thereof.

This Greenwood bill was submitted on the ground that the ways and means committee had to pass on the same financial problems as the governor and therefore should have the same information which he was to get through the experts referred to.

Division on Party Lines

Yesterday, after a long debate, practically on party lines, although both sides denied talking "politics" in the least, the Greenwood substitute prevailed, 14 to 8. The 14 democrats, with the exception of Senator Curley of Suffolk, who was absent, voted against the substitute, seven of the number being paired against it.

Two republican senators, Tinkham of Suffolk and Nason of Essex, spoke and voted against the Greenwood bill. Of the other 24 republican members 21 were recorded for the substitute bill, two absent and one, President Treadway, was not called upon to vote.

With the seven pairs, therefore, and the four absent or not voting on both sides, the vote stood 14 to 8 for the Greenwood substitute bill, which was offered as a substitute for the house resolve.

At the close of the session it was generally admitted that all was not over yet with this proposition. Members of both parties discussed the result from a political standpoint. The house, of course, will have a chance at the Greenwood substitute, and with the known attitude of the speaker in favor of the measure which the lower branch sent along it is not hard to see trouble ahead for the substitute.

Capital Punishment Debate

Yesterday was capital punishment day in the house, there being in the calendar motions to substitute for an adverse committee report two bills, one giving the jury the right to fix the penalty for murder in the first degree and the other providing that the punishment shall be life imprisonment.

Representative Ahearn of Framingham favored the latter bill as progressive, declaring that it is so difficult to secure convictions under the present law that a number of murderers are at large when today they would be in prison for life if the jurymen had not hesitated to inflict the death penalty. The death penalty does not deter at all, as is shown by the commission of murder in the temple of justice in Suffolk county and within its shadow in Middlesex county, he said.

Representative Sanborn of Lawrence opposed the bill, citing numerous instances in history where the punishment of death has put an end to insurrections and crime. He said the death penalty has been recognized from the beginning of time by the civil, the military and the moral law, and its existence in Massachusetts has never yet resulted in the death of an innocent man.

Representative Hobbs of Worcester said that the abolition of the death penalty in France resulted in nine years in its being set up again because of the great increase in crime.

Mr. Ahearn said there are now before the Massachusetts court more murders than ever before. Substitution of the bill was refused, 23 to 90.

BOTH SENTENCED

Two Men Were Found Guilty of Stealing Copper

Bernard Bradley and Louis Duchesne, who stole copper and brass from the Massachusetts Mohair Plush company and valves from the Appleton company, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning. They were arrested last week by Inspectors Martin Maher and John Walsh and upon appearing in court entered pleas of not guilty, but this morning Lawyer Goldman, who appeared for the two men, changed the pleas to guilty and asked for the clemency of the court.

According to testimony offered by Inspector Maher and Corporation Officer Noyes, the men stole $2.40 worth of brass from the Mohair company and $105 worth of brass from the Appleton company. At the Appleton company the articles stolen were very valuable, consisting of valves from which the men stripped the copper and brass and afterwards sold it to a junk dealer.

Both men were implicated in the larceny from the Mohair company, but when the valves were stolen from the Appleton mills Duchesne was alone, but Bradley was with him when he sold them to the junk dealer.

The valves were in a mill near the canal in the rear of the Appleton property and Duchesne stole them during the noon hour when there was no person around. He knew the mill well, having, it is said, worked there.

After bringing the valves out of the mill they were taken to the home of one of the defendants where they were stripped and the valuable metal removed and sold.

The court after considering the case, found both men guilty, and Duchesne was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory and Bradley was sentenced to eight months in jail.

Stole a Watch

The parting embrace of friends according to a certain custom is costly sometimes and Maria Medina found that to be so last July when she lovingly embraced Mariah Forensier, for during the hugging Mariah relieved Maria of a gold watch which was valued at $50. When the Medina woman discovered the loss of her watch she reported the matter to the police, but she did not suspect any one until last Sunday when she was informed that Mariah Forcaster had the timepiece.

The defendant was visiting the house of the complainant in Elm street last July and when the former was parting the hostess fondly embraced her. Later she discovered her loss.

Last Sunday the defendant and her sister had a little family quarrel and as a result the sister informed the Medina woman that the defendant had the watch stored away in a trunk.

The police were notified and Inspector Maher and Patrolman Noye, who acted as interpreter, visited the home of the defendant and the mother of the latter opened the different trunks, but there was no watch to be found. There was one trunk which was locked and when Inspector Maher asked to look into the trunk he was informed that that trunk belonged to her daughter's lover. Inspector Maher immediately surmised that the trunk in question contained the watch and upon being informed that there were no keys in the house that could open the trunk he resorted to his skeleton keys and soon had the trunk opened. There he found the watch.

The defendant claimed that she found the watch, but Judge Hadley thought differently and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or spend the next two months in jail. The fine was paid.

Case Continued

Drunken Offenders

Thomas Reynolds denied that he was intoxicated when arrested last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The arresting officer said that the man was helplessly drunk and owing to the severe cold thought he might be safer in the police station than wandering through the streets. Corporation Officer Briggs corroborated the testimony of Patrolman Sheridan. A fine of $6 was imposed.

James McKiernan and Edward F. Lynch were each fined $6, and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

RICKARD DONAHOE

Old Resident of St. Patrick's Parish Dead

The many friends of Rickard Donahoe, an old and highly esteemed resident of St. Patrick's parish, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred last evening at his home, No. 1 Brooks street, after a lingering illness, which he bore with true Christian fortitude. Deceased was for years a devout attendant at St. Patrick's church, and was loved and respected by all for his many good qualities of mind and heart. He was a member of St. Patrick's Holy Name society. He is survived by his wife, Mary; five daughters and three sons, Misses Mary, Katherine, Susan, Nora and Mrs. Arthur McHugh, Michael J., John F. and Rickard J. DEATHS

CAVANAUGH—Simon A. Cavanaugh, aged 38 years, died last evening at his home, 98 Andover street, after a brief illness. Pneumonia was the direct cause of death. Mr. Cavanaugh was a well known real estate dealer, and was manager of the National Adjustment company of this city. Deceased is survived by two sisters, Agnes and Helen.

MARKHAM—The many friends of Mrs. James J. Markham will regret to learn of her death, which took place at the Westboro hospital, where she had been for treatment for the past few weeks, shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The immediate cause was broncho-pneumonia, which set in the last of the week and made rapid progress till death came to the sufferer's relief. Mrs. Markham was born in Cherryfield, Me., but had lived in Lowell since early girlhood. She leaves, besides her husband, who for nearly two years has been an engineer for Stone & Webster in extensive work in Dallas, Tex., four sisters, all of this city, Mrs. Matthew Murphy, Mrs. John J. Green and Misses Elizabeth and Susan Driscoll.

Mrs. Markham while in good health was a devout communicant at the church of the Immaculate Conception. She was especially known among her intimate friends for her charity. She was very fond of the little children of the poor and made many of them happy in her cheerful home in Belvidere. Agent Richardson of the Humane society generally gathered a dozen of them at Thanksgiving or Christmas time and Mrs. Markham saw that they feasted to their hearts' content. This was on special occasions, but her helpfulness to the little folks was an all-the-year-round devotion. They in particular will be sorry for her departure.

KIMBALL—Miss B. Ethel Kimball died Sunday at the home of her parents in West Medford, Mass. She formerly lived in this city.

MAKES YOUR HAIR SOFT AND GLOSSY

"Most shampoo mixtures," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the Los Angeles Examiner, "rob the scalp of all oily secretion, leaving it dry and harsh, and the hair grows brittle and is hard to manage. This causes dandruff, falling hair and premature grayness, aging a woman ten years.

"A reliable shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. Pour this on the scalp and rub well, then rinse carefully, and you will find it leaves the hair soft and glossy and puts the scalp in a healthy condition.

"Shampooing with this mixture is a delight and costs but a trifle, but you should be careful to get an original package of canthrox."

ADJT. GEN'L PEARSON

Handed Out Some Hot Talk at War Department

Under the heading "Gen. Pearson, orator," Practical Politics in this week's issue has the following:

Adjt. General Pearson owes it to his fellow soldiers in Massachusetts whom he was representing at the militia conference in Washington to secure an explanation from the authorities in the capital city as to why they took the liberty of editing, correcting, changing and eliminating parts of the speech which he made before the officers there. If the general is not going to get a square deal and if those jealous of his rise from the position of company commander are going to try in these ways to get even with him, it is about time that the people were warned. The general, as his friends well know, is a mighty slick talker. Long years ago it was his practice to walk along the banks of the canal in Lowell, outnoising even the water wheels. Demosthenes at his best was only a piker compared with him, even when he was beginning.

It was with all this in mind that he attended the conference at Washington, the aim of which was to secure larger federal assistance from the government for militia troops. It cannot be proved that any deliberate attempt was made to shunt Gen. Pearson off the floor, but it is a fact that a whole meeting went through without any demand that he rise. Very properly he arose on the second day and spoke for the state.

He didn't do a thing but pitch into the war department as a band of criminals in 1898 when he as a company commander was attempting to drive the Spanish out of Chickamauga. He spoke about the rotten beef, and the stinking water, he left out none of the horrors, and he laid the blame on the war officials. Then he gave the congress of that time a taste of his mind and didn't mince his words in that case either.

A few other men, no doubt annoyed because the war department was the department they were supposed to be asking the favor of, and whose representatives present looked a trifle peeved, tried to explain matters after Pearson sat down. The final outrage though has been the elimination from his speech of the real hot stuff which he blew off, including his charges of criminality against congress and the war department. That should be resisted. The militia men in this state have a right to know how the general pitched in and what he said for them and no false modesty in this administration of pitiless, persistent publicity should restrain him from getting out manifold copies of his address at the earliest opportunity and spreading them broadcast.

New Store FOR RENT

The beautiful new double-deck store, No. 44 Central street, is approaching completion and is offered for rent.

The store consists of a first and second floor with basement, affording over 6000 square feet of floor space, with entrances on Central and Prescott streets.

Modern display windows, fronting on each street, are provided on the first and second floors; the upper show windows on the Central street front following the latest metropolitan plan, are dropped low enough to display goods so as to be seen from the sidewalk.

The interior of the store is high-posted and finished in a most artistic manner and equipped with the latest devices for attractive electrical lighting and display effects.

The centre of the store is lighted from the sky by a huge dome of pleasing design and equipped with a vacuum ventilator which automatically changes the air on all floors and keeps it fresh and healthful.

Electrical base plugs at convenient intervals on every floor. All openings piped for both gas and electricity. Modern steam heating equipment. Maple floors and ash finish throughout the store.

Entrances to the store from both streets are at level of sidewalk without steps. The basement is lighted by the largest and finest walk lights in the city. Toilet rooms for men and women with perfect ventilation and modern fixtures.

Street cars pass the entrances on both streets, and the unobstructed light which reaches the Central street windows from Middle street affords daylight long after other stores in the vicinity are lighted up.

The Rent Is Low

Considering the fact that the store fronts on two busy streets and is in the very centre of the shopping district, and that both entrances are within a few steps of Merrimack square, the rent is exceptionally low, being much less per square foot than is charged for any equally well located property in Lowell.

For further particulars apply at the office of The Lowell Sun.

OROZCO KILLED?

Government Claims That He Lost His Life in Sunday's Fighting

Madero Reported Waiting in El Paso for a Chance to Enter Juarez—It is Said That Rabago Defeated the Rebels

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 7.—The revolutionary forces under Pasqual Orozco were at the Flores ranch, about 15 miles southeast of Juarez, this morning, awaiting reinforcements under Blanco, coming up from Casas Grandes. Americans arriving overland from that place last night state that the reason that Blanco has not already joined Orozco in front of Juarez was that he has been fighting the eighteenth federal infantry, which was marching from Galagos on the Mexican National road to Casas Grandes. These Americans say that it is currently reported in Casas Grandes that the eighteenth infantry was practically annihilated and that Blanco would at once advance north.

Juarez today has resumed its normal business aspect but troops are still on guard at all buildings.

Regardless of the fact that 30 soldiers and six women are now lying wounded in the Juarez hospital, victims of the fighting Sunday, circulars were distributed in the streets of Juarez this morning declaring that Rabago on Sunday defeated the rebels with heavy loss and himself sustained only one killed and four wounded.

The circular says Orozco was surely killed in Sunday's fighting and adds that Madero is now waiting in El Paso "for a chance that will never come," to enter Juarez and set up a rebel capital.

ARMED MEN CROSSING BOUND-

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 7.—At 2 o'clock this morning the authorities of Juarez telephoned the El Paso police that a body of armed men were crossing the international boundary line into Mexico at Peles, seven miles west of this city in New Mexico.

TO USE AEROPLANE

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 7.—Lieut. D. B. Foulers, an Army aviator stationed at Fort Sam Houston, has been instructed to hold himself and the army's aeroplane in readiness to proceed to El Paso and there make observations of the military operations around Juarez.

SENTRIES POSTED

EL PASO, Texas, Feb. 7.—Everything was quiet in Juarez throughout the night. The federal soldiers kept a sharp lookout, sentries being posted on all sides of the city. Rumors of attempts to pass machine guns and ammunition across the border to the insurrectos were current, but could not be confirmed.

Attempts to locate Orozco, Alanis and Blanco so far have not been successful, and it is all a matter of conjecture where the revolutionary commanders are encamped.

FIRED ON AMERICAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—The report that the federal troops of Mexico fired on Dr. Bush of El Paso, an American, under the Red Cross flag, during the engagement near Juarez on Sunday, will be investigated by Henry Lane Wilson, American ambassador at Mexico City, upon instructions from the state department. Railroad traffic north of Chihuahua is still interrupted and it will require a week to repair the road, according to a telegram received by the state department today from American Consul Leonard at Chihuahua. About 1000 government troops left Chihuahua on Saturday, the consul adds. This was presumably the force of General Navarro, which is on its way to relieve Juarez.

PRES. McLAURIN

Wants $100,000 a Year for Tech.

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The plan of development of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology was referred to by President MacLaurin of the institute in speaking before the legislative committee on education today in support of a petition asking that the state increase its annual grant to the institution. For a number of years the state has contributed $25,000 a year to Technology, but the payments have ended and President MacLaurin now desires the state to appropriate at least $100,000 yearly for the support of the institute. During the next ten years, President MacLaurin stated, the institute will be forced to move from its present location to a new site and numerous buildings must be erected for lecture, laboratory and dormitory purposes, entailing a great expenditure of money and imposing a heavy burden upon the alumni and other friends of the institute.

President MacLaurin called attention to the fact that the state contributed $527,000 annually to the Massachusetts Agricultural college and pointed out that there were three times as many Massachusetts youths in the institute as attended the agricultural college. He also declared that, according to the census of 1905, the value of manufacturing products in Massachusetts was 16 times as great as the value of agricultural products.

President MacLaurin said that the executive committee of the institute would announce within a short time its choice of a new site for the institute. This site, he said, would probably be near Boston.

"The institute," he said in conclusion, "is the very heart of our industrial system, so far as education is concerned, and if you leave the heart weak the condition of the whole system must be precarious."

Others who spoke in favor of the petition were President Lowell of Harvard university, Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston, William H. O'Brien of the Boston Central labor union; Frederick Fish of the state board of education and a member of the executive committee of the institute and Frederick Stearns, the institute's consulting engineer.

CRUSADE BEGUN

AGAINST CIGARET SELLING TO MINORS

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—A crusade against cigaret selling to minors is being made by the local police, as a result of which a large number of cases are being disposed of every day in the district court. Yesterday 17 offenders were arraigned and today 11 appeared before the bar. Most of the defendants pleaded guilty and were fined $20 and costs.

AN ARMISTICE DISCUSSED

PUERTO CORTEZ, Honduras, Feb. 7.—The preliminary conference relative to an armistice in the Honduran conflict was held on the U. S. S. Tacoma yesterday. The conference on the proposal of the United States for a cessation of hostilities will begin in earnest tomorrow.

RECIPROCITY

The Big Topic in England

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The United States-Canada reciprocity agreement occupies a prominent place in the minds of the members of the new house of commons. This is made plain not only in Mr. Balfour's demand of yesterday, that the government grant time for an exhaustive debate on the matter and for an amendment to the address in reply to the speech from the throne on the subject but by innumerable interpellations to be made tomorrow.

Among these will be a request that Colonial Secretary Harcourt ask the Canadian government to postpone their consideration of the agreement until the imperial conference has been held. The members are also anxious to know whether the British cabinet was consulted in the negotiations between Washington and Ottawa and if the United Kingdom will be able, under the agreement, to send its products to the United States at the same tariff rates enjoyed by Canada.

STROTHARD HELD

Forgery is the Charge Against Him

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Attorney W. J. O'Hearn of Halifax, N. S., representing the Canadian government, appeared before U. S. Commissioner Hayes today to urge the extradition of Herbert J. Strothard, who was arrested yesterday for being a fugitive from Canadian justice. Strothard was ordered held for a continued hearing Thursday and was committed to jail without bail. Strothard, it is alleged, forged the signatures of Halifax merchants to checks. There are 13 counts against him. Under the extradition laws, he can be tried on only two counts if he is extradited to Canada, but if he returned voluntarily he would be liable to be tried on all 13 counts.

The Canadian authorities think that he resorted to forgery in order to raise enough money to permit of his being married. Just before his arrest yesterday he sent a money order for $4 to his bride at Sussex, N. B. In order to raise this money he was forced to pawn his overcoat, Attorney O'Hearn, however, redeemed the garment for him.

THE COUNTY PROBE

Grand Jury Will Resume Investigation Here Tomorrow

Grand Jury May Sit Three Days in This City for Examination of Lowell Witnesses Familiar With County Affairs

The grand jury will come in at the court house in this city to resume its probe of Middlesex county affairs, which was started some time ago in Cambridge.

The grand jury, it is understood, is coming here for a three days' session for the purpose of examining a large number of Lowell witnesses and incidentally inspecting the Lowell jail and possibly the Middlesex County Training school although in justice to Superintendent Warren and his admirable institution at North Chelmsford it should be remarked that in all the agitation preceding the grand jury proceedings not one word of adverse criticism was mentioned concerning the Training school.

State Officer Byrnes, who was in town today on the Kane inquest was asked regarding the number and personality of the witnesses to be called tomorrow. He was non-committal and stated that he would not even be present tomorrow having been called to Framingham where a case of assault with intent to murder is to come up for a preliminary hearing in the district court.

"What do you know about the Framingham case?" asked the reporter.

"Just one thing," replied Officer Byrnes, "the poor fellow who was cut had 50 stitches taken in his anatomy and he's alive to tell the tale."

Was Interfered With by the Snow Storm Today

Here's a new one on the weather. An old city employe, who has worked outdoors for half a century, tipped the writer today to the effect that whenever it is stormy on the last Friday of the month it will be stormy a greater part of the time during the next month. Be that as it may for dope, the weather was bad on the last Friday in January, and it's been bad practically all the time ever since.

Today's storm, which promised to be a world-beater, judging by the predictions, came along during the night and in a few hours proved to be the biggest of the season. With the usual cussedness of a storm it fooled the authorities who ring the no-school signal and had the children going to school in a blinding storm this morning, while they laid off this afternoon with the storm subsided.

Many a man and woman this morning prayed that this storm would be a record-breaker for a storm never was an ill-wind and has never done any great amount of harm, while it has ever proved a boon to the poor. In the first place a good snow storm clarifies the air and drives away the deadly disease germ. Up to the coming of the snow, Lowell was in the throes of an epidemic of grip and other ailments which are beginning to disappear under its beneficent influence. The second reason is the fact that every big snow storm means an expenditure of thousands of dollars by the railroads and the city in addition to the individual expenditures of property owners in this city. At the present time there are hundreds of worthy poor in illness and the storm will mean work for them, only for a limited time, it is true, but long enough to get a few honest dollars with which to keep the wolf from the door.

From appearances at the time of writing this article the storm will not create much of a demand for labor, as the fall of snow has been only light compared with former years. But it has been big enough to start some money in circulation and it will mean good sleighing for a time.

The skaters are all in mourning, for it stops their sport on the river and on Shedd park, but then Jimmie Gray is still on the job at Washington park.

The light flurry of snow last night attracted the attention of the street railway officials and the Boston & Northern had all its plows in readiness last night to start out at the first indication of a heavy storm. Motormen and conductors were held at the car barn in Middlesex street in anticipation of a heavy fall of snow.

During the latter part of the night the precipitation was very light and it was not worth while sending out the plows, but at 1.30 o'clock the snow started to fall heavily and at three o'clock there was every indication of a big storm.

Shortly after 3 o'clock 17 plows were sent out, traversing the different routes.

By the time the first cars started out this morning the rails were cleared of snow and good time was made, but the downfall of snow increased and during the later hours the cars were running considerably off time. While some of the shorter lines were only a few minutes off the schedule, on the suburban lines it was necessary to skip several trips in order to endeavor to get the cars on scheduled time.

LICENSE FEES

Bill to Have Them Go to State Treasurer

There is a bill before the legislature providing for the payment of fees received for licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors to the treasurer and receiver general. This bill will be given a hearing Feb. 23.

The bill, in substance, is as follows: "The treasurer of a city or town shall, within six days after the receipt of money for licenses for the sale of intoxicating liquors, make a return of the amount thereof to the treasurer and receiver general and at the same time shall pay to him the amount so received, and for neglect thereof he shall pay interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum on the amount of such receipts from the time they become due until paid.

Another bill before the legislature that is of interest to this city provides that railroads shall pay total cost of the abolition of grade crossings except where a street railway company also uses the grade crossing, and in that event such company shall pay 15 per cent of the cost. In case a city or town petitions for the abolition of a grade crossing the city or town shall pay 5 per cent of the cost. As it is now the city or town pays 10 per cent, petition or no petition.

SAVED BOY'S LIFE

Lieutenant Halstead Rescued Boy Almost Suffocated

A four-year-old boy whose lungs were filled with smoke, after having been forgotten by his mother, who in a state of excitement rushed to the street, was saved from being suffocated this morning by Lieut. James W. Halstead of the protective company, at a fire which broke out in a two and a half story house at 5 Spring street, belonging to Cora Beharrell. The child is of Portuguese parentage, but his name could not be ascertained.

The fire had its inception in the cellar of the house and although the damage was slight, huge volumes of smoke poured through the house and also through the windows into the street.

The fire was discovered shortly before nine o'clock and an alarm was sent in from box 24. The excited occupants of the house left in a hurry, taking what little belongings they could pick up as they left the place. The child in question, occupied a room on the second floor of the building, and it was not until the mother had rushed to the street and the fire department was on the scene that she realized that she had left her child behind.

Lieut. Halstead was one of the first firemen on the scene and while he was making his way through the smoke filled rooms found the child in a semi-conscious condition in a bed. He hurried down the stairs and bringing the child into the open air succeeded in reviving it. Later a physician was called, but the latter said that the child would be none the worse for its experience, but that if he had been in the room a few minutes longer he would in all probability have been suffocated.

The fire started in a pile of wood in the cellar but the cause is not known. One of the occupants of the house stated to Chief Hosmer that men had been thawing out the water yesterday and thought that might have been the cause, but the chief is of the opinion that some person entered the cellar this morning and through carelessness dropped a match in the wood pile.

The damage to the building will be slight, the greater damage having been done by the smoke.

Fred C. Church carried the insurance on the frame dwelling of Cora L. Beharrell, 5 Spring street, damaged by fire this morning.

EVANS ESTATE

Depositions of Heirs to be Taken

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The depositions of the heirs at law and the next of kin of the late millionaire, Robert D. Evans, in Canada and the United States, will be taken by Hmer Albers of Boston and H. H. Pickett of St. John, N. B. The supreme judicial court today on petition of Mrs. Marie Evans, the widow, appointed Albers and Pickett for this purpose. Mrs. Evans desires to perpetuate the testimony of the heirs at law and next of kin, in order that it may be used in connection with the distribution of several million dollars after her death. Evans having died childless. The will provides that Mrs. Evans shall enjoy the income of the bulk of the estate and that at her death the property is to be distributed among the heirs at law. No contest has developed in the case.

Judge Hammond, in appointing Albers and Pickett, stated that numerous cousins in Canada and this country, who had filed appearances, had no standing in this proceeding but had a right, if they so desired, to bring a separate intervening petition.

Evans was a native of St. John, N. B., and made his money largely in mining and real estate. He was the owner of the cottage at Beverly occupied by President Taft during the summer season of 1909 and 1910.

JERSEY CLUB

HAS BEEN SOLD TO A SYNDICATE

BALTIMORE, Feb. 7.—The sale of the Jersey City Eastern league baseball club to a syndicate headed by J. J. Lillis, a lawyer of Jersey City, by the Davis estate, was announced by President Barrow today, just before he called the delegates to the Eastern league meeting to order. Mr. Lillis will become president of the club and Jack Ryan will be retained as manager. Ryan has been offered a three years contract, which he said he would sign.

The news did not come entirely as a surprise, for after the death of Owner Davis some weeks ago it was believed that his heirs would dispose of the franchise.

With the matter of the playing schedule for the coming season disposed of yesterday the magnates took up other business today. The committee, appointed to make inquiry into the matter of re-classification made its report but so far as could be learned no definite action was taken. It is understood that because of the fact that the agreement which the league has with the other minor baseball organizations continues until the close of the next playing season it was not deemed advisable to take any formal action at the present time.

The meeting is expected to end this afternoon.

THE INQUEST

INTO THE DEATH OF MARY R. KANE RESUMED

The inquest into the death of Mary Rose Kane was resumed before Judge John J. Pickman in the second session of the police court this morning. It is alleged that the child was suffering from a headache and went to a drug store for the purpose of securing a headache powder, but instead it is said she was given fluoride of sodium which she took, and died several hours later.

GASOLENE EXPLODED

Cause of the Explosion Not Known — Men Were Clearing Snow From Railroad Tracks When the Accident Occurred

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Nineteen men were injured, five fatally, by the explosion of a barrel of gasolene at Jamaica, L. I., at 2.30 o'clock this morning. The gasolene was on a workcar in the Long Island railroad yards and the men were laborers who were engaged in clearing snow from the tracks.

The men were working with a "blower," a new-fangled snow fighting machine which throws a flame directly on the rails, melting snow and ice from the tracks and clears switches at crossings. The machine is fed by gasolene from a tank car on a construction train.

Just what caused the explosion could not be learned. The report was heard for more than a mile. Windows rattled and doors shook and residents nearby jumped from their beds, fearing that there had been a repetition of the Communipaw dynamite disaster. Several of the injured were thrown nearly a hundred yards by the force of the blast. Not a man in the gang escaped injury.

TO STOP GRAFT

Bills Presented in the New York Legislature

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Seventeen bills carrying out the recommendations of the state superintendent of insurance and the legislative graft investigating committee were introduced in the legislature today by Assemblyman Hoey of New York, chairman of the insurance committee. The superintendent's measures follow:

Putting fraternal organizations under the supervision of the state superintendent of insurance.

Recommending an increase in the reserve fund of casualty companies writing employers' liability insurance.

Regulating the liquidation of life insurance companies and giving the state superintendent control and power over such liquidations.

Penalizing "twisting" or persuading a man to change his policy from one insurance company to another.

Defining the difference between casualty and fire and marine insurance companies, to prevent one from working on the other's ground.

Requiring the service of papers in this state when an insurance company is being liquidated in another state.

The bills resulting from the recommendations of the graft inquiry include one providing for anti-rebate law, the licensing of brokers by the state; creating the office of fire marshal; requiring the publication of schedules; providing for the supervision of rates by the superintendent of insurance; one affecting mutual companies presenting the requirements necessary to allow them to continue to do business and one requiring that any person offered a bribe shall report the matter to the authorities at once.

A SENSATION

Mayor Demands Resignation of the City Treasurer

It is Said a Discrepancy Was Discovered—Ths Books Were Examined by a Boston Expert—City Treasurer Says He Will Not Resign

TAUNTON, Feb. 7.—Following a special audit of the city books conducted by James T. Swan of Boston, Mayor Woods of this city today sent a letter to City Treasurer Edward Temple, demanding his immediate resignation. It was stated that a discrepancy of approximately $5000 between the cash books and books of warrants and abatement was discovered during the investigation which has been progressing two weeks. Immediately after, Receiving Treasurer Temple issued a statement to the effect that he does not intend to resign. The alleged shortage was discovered in the city treasurer's reports of the last two years. No special audit had been made of the books previous to 1908. Auditor Swan stated today that while going over the treasurer's books he found no records of receipts for taxes from persons who now hold receipts for taxes as being paid. Mrs. Sarah Maher says she paid $845 for taxes in 1909 but there is no mention of it in the cash book. N. M. Rhodes & Sons, button manufacturers, paid $467, but it is not recorded in the cash book. There are numerous other smaller amounts of which no mention is made.

Admitting that there may be ground for criticism of the work Mr. Temple declares there was no wilful dishonesty in his department. He says that several persons have had access to the cash account and have had a chance to handle the money. The city treasurer said that employes in the office had the opportunity, if they so desired, to alter the books.

Mayor Woods placed City Auditor Leonard in charge of the city treasurer's office.

PUBLIC INDIFFERENCE

Responsible for Allowing Big Industrial Opportunities to Pass

Big Spinning Mill Lost Because of Indifference and Possible Opposition in Certain Quarters —Now the Opportunity to Get the B. & M. Repair Shop May be Lost in the Same Way—Many Suitable Sites Available

The business men of Lowell have an opportunity to secure the Boston & Maine repair shop for this city if they only bestir themselves. If they pursue a policy of indifference of course they need not expect to bring that large industry to our city. The Boston & Maine Railroad company requires a tract of about 600 acres near one of their lines to accommodate their buildings and afford about a mile of track. There are various suitable locations available around this city if the business men wish to present them in a proper light.

It is but a short time since the policy of indifference lost for this city a big spinning mill that sought a location on the land now used as the playgrounds in Little Canada. The site had been actually selected for a large spinning mill, and nothing remained only to provide some accommodation for the company in the line of facilities for reaching the lot. The business men of the city could have disposed of the matter in short order to the satisfaction of the company but neither they nor the Locks & Canals saw fit to concern themselves to any extent about the matter. As a result the spinning mill did not locate here but found a suitable location in Lawrence where it appears the business men get together and do things. The question now comes upon this Boston & Maine repair shop. The chance to bring it here is one of the greatest opportunities that has been within the grasp of this city for twenty years. Will the business men continue their policy of indifference and allow this opportunity to escape them the same as they did in the case of the spinning mill? If they do, it will be useless to look for any future boom for Lowell. The lack of public spirit and perhaps the opposition of a few corporations will serve to kill all the best opportunities that will ever present themselves for our municipal advancement.

This matter of securing the Boston & Maine repair shop is of more importance than the celebration of any past event; it is more important than the city charter that can be attended to at any time; it is more important than any other proposition of a similar kind that has come up within the history of the board of trade, not excepting even the bringing of the United Shoe Machinery shop to Lowell.

The question before the Lowell public today is, "what will be done to bring this industry to Lowell?" Let the board of trade and the business men of Lowell unite to push the claims of Lowell so that a suitable site may be selected in this city in order to bring her an establishment that would give employment to 10,000 men annually.

AN ARMED TRUCE

Strikers Lurking in Mountains and Mines Are Well Guarded

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Feb. 7.—The strike of Greek coal miners at Kenilworth, Carbon county, Utah, which flared into a sudden riot yesterday, has now become an armed truce, the strikers lurking in the mountains about the camp and the authorities maintaining a vigilant guard about the property of the Independent Coal & Coke Co., the residences of the mine officials and the body of loyal mineworkers. But one American is dead as a result of the riot. He is Thomas Jackson, a deputy sheriff. Chris Sanberg, a Swedish miner, is wounded. These two were in a party that attempted to disperse a group of strikers outside the company lines. There was shooting on both sides and each insists that the other shot first. When Jackson fell the band of Greeks sought points of vantage outside the town and kept up a fusillade of shots until the arrival of Sheriff Keller with a posse which afterwards was reinforced by a trainload of officers from Salt Lake City. The posse replied to the fire of the strikers, killing at least one Greek and wounding two others. There may be more dead and wounded in the hills.

The officers are examining the peaks and ranges today.

The controversy turns on the price paid for mining. The Greeks insist that they were cheated in the weighing of the cars so that they made only from $60 to $75 a month, out of which they had to pay $20 or more for powder. Japanese and other foreigners in the camps as well as a number of Greeks refused to join the strike and it was an effort to deter them from entering the mine that precipitated the riot.

Greeks are employed in large numbers in other camps of the district and further racial and labor troubles are feared.

CHECKER CHAMPS

DID NOT COME TOGETHER LAST NIGHT

The checker game which was to have been played last night between Severe Caron, champion checker player of this city, and G. Roy, champion of Fall River, for the championship of the state, had to be postponed for an indefinite period.

The game was to have been played in Victoric Lahaise's tonsorial parlors, in Cabot street and was scheduled for 8 o'clock. The French people have so much interest in the game, that long before the time set for the match the place was overcrowded with people. Word was later received from Mr. Roy that the game had to be postponed on account of Mr. Roy being engaged every evening for some time to come.

The players will match their skill on the board for a stake of $20 and the title of champion of Massachusetts.

VIOLENT STORM

Is Raging at Vineyard Haven

VINEYARD HAVEN, Feb. 7.—The most violent snowstorm of the year continued to rage today, tieing up all shipping and resulting in several minor marine accidents. The tug Wyoming parted from her tow of three barges, the Eckley, Baffle and Baltic early today but finally succeeded in picking them up and towed them to this port for safe anchorage. The Baltic had her rudderhead twisted off and lost an anchor. The tugs Wyoming and North America, which left here last Sunday with barges around the cape were forced to return last night after a rough experience. In addition there is a large fleet of schooners, tugs and barges at anchor in this harbor today.

TWO MEN INJURED

WHEN PULLEY WHEEL BROKE AT ARLINGTON

ARLINGTON, Feb. 7.—Two men were injured and a number narrowly escaped serious injury yesterday afternoon when a pulley wheel at the Arlington-Belmont ice company's icehouses broke. That the men were not more seriously injured seems a miracle, for shortly after the wheel broke a large drum used to coil the wire from the pulley came down and fell among the men.

The injured men were George Law, Jr., a son of George A. Law of this town, and David Ewing of Everett. With a gang of others they were shoving the cakes of ice into the houses, and another employe was pulling the guide rope of the large runs, when the guide wheel snapped and fell, striking Law and Ewing and scattering the other men in all directions.

The men were rushed to the police station, where Dr. Harold B. Webb attended them, but found that while both men were painfully injured, no bones were broken and nothing serious was looked for.

THICK WEATHER

COMPELLED SHIPS TO REMAIN IN PORT

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—The western storm which appeared late yesterday settled over New England today. Heavy wet snow fell steadily here throughout the morning. Land traffic was inconvenienced but slightly, although shipping was held in port by an easterly blow and thick weather.

DEATHS

CAISSE—Mrs. P. W. Caisse, Sr., nee Rose Delima Poirier, passed away this morning at her late home, 793 Moody street, after a lingering illness of several months. The deceased was well known in this city, having lived here for the past 35 years. She counted a host of friends who will be pained to learn the sad news of her decease.

Besides a large number of friends, the deceased leaves to mourn her loss, a bereaved husband, two sons, Dr. George E. Caisse and P. W. Caisse, Jr., the well known druggist; four daughters, Miss Marie Louise Caisse, in religion Rev. Sister Cecilius of the Order of the Holy Name of Albany, N. Y., Miss Rose G. Caisse, Mrs. J. A. I. Town Clerk Brennan Accepts New Position

Town Clerk John J. Brennan of Dracut has accepted a position as bookkeeper in the Beaver Brook mills, Collinsville, but his new position will not interfere with his candidacy for town clerk. Dracut seems to have a preference for expert bookkeepers for town clerk, as a predecessor of Mr. Brennen, who held the position for several years, is Mr. Charles McCarthy, now connected with the auditing department of the Cudahy Packing company.

The Collinsville residents who patronize the Pelham line had no kick coming this morning for the company put on a big car. Yesterday the "dinky" was on and there were 83 passengers on it, the atmosphere in the car resembling in heat that of a hot room in a Turkish bath, but not in character.

SKULL CRUSHED

Man is Not Expected to Live

GORHAM, N. H., Feb. 7.—To the thick snow today was due a wreck in the Gorham yards of the Grand Trunk railroad. No person was killed, but J. W. Shilling of Gorham, roadmaster of the Portland-Island division, sustained a fracture of the skull and may die.

While a locomotive snowplow and van were engaged in clearing the sidings, a freight train bound from Portland to Isle Pond came along and crashed into the van. The van and plow were broken up, fire from the Portland engine completing their destruction. Shilling, who was in the van, had his skull fractured and hip broken. The other employes on the van and plow were shaken up, but not severely hurt. The freight train did not leave the rails.

The accident was caused by thick snow and smoke, which obscured the signals.

N. E. INVESTMENT CO.

Petition Asking for the Removal of the Receivers

MANCHESTER, N. H., Feb. 7.—A petition asking for the removal of the receivers of the New England Investment company will be prepared and presented to the United States district court at Providence by counsel representing the stockholders of the company. The company was placed in the hands of receivers recently on the representations of certain stockholders that many of the subsidiary companies were financially unsuccessful and that the company was paying dividends that had not been earned. The stock of the company had been sold all over the United States and Canada, especially among the French people.

The decision to petition for the removal of the receivers was reached yesterday at a meeting in this city when the company was practically reorganized. Colonel William Marcotte, the newly elected president, presided at the meeting and Eugene Querin of this city was elected to the directorate.

THE RECEIVERS' REPORT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—Former Governor J. H. Higgins, one of the receivers for the company, stated that the receivers' report is now being compiled and will probably be made tomorrow after which the petition will be presented. Burns T. Hodgman, clerk of the United States district court at Concord, N. H. is the other receiver.

CLASHES WITH MAYOR

Lawrence Alderman Intimates Chief Executive Wants to "Duck"

Bills Against the City Are the Issue—Alderman Scanlon Refused to Serve on Accounts Committee—He and the Mayor Make Statements

LAWRENCE, Feb. 7.—Mayor Cahill and Alderman Scanlon threw down the gauntlet yesterday and paid each other compliments in the situation growing out of the latter's refusal to serve on the committee on accounts. Alderman Jordan, who has been acting as chairman of the committee since its appointment in the absence of Alderman Scanlon, balked at signing the payrolls of the city departments.

He contended that Alderman Scanlon had been duly designated by the mayor as chairman of the committee and he could see no reason why the ward 4 alderman was not in duty bound to serve. He was willing to sign the payrolls if it was shown to him that it was his duty to do so.

City Solicitor Murphy to whom had been referred the question of Alderman Scanlon's right to decline the appointment, had ruled that the latter had this prerogative. City Auditor Shea suggested that a majority of the committee could sign the payrolls in the event of no one being designated by the committee as a chairman.

The committee did not show an inclination to do this and adjourned without taking action. Unless the situation is straightened out the city employes will not receive their pay today, which is pay day. Alderman Jordan called the mayor on the phone and told him of the situation, and according to the alderman, the mayor expressed the opinion that Alderman Scanlon should act.

Objects to Guerillas

Later the mayor gave out this statement: "This guerilla warfare must stop. There is only one honorable course in times such as we have now. It is to stand up like a man and do full duty to the community. Alderman Scanlon prefers to follow his own course in the affair. He might be permitted to do so if he were not a public servant and would have a perfect right to do so as a private citizen.

"His proper place as a public servant is at my side on the firing line, and there must he stay at his post of duty. I won't stand for guerilla tactics in the administration of public affairs."

Alderman Scanlon also added a statement to the controversy. He said in part: "For the past week I have read in the newspapers many statements and interviews given by his honor, the mayor, relative to my refusal to serve as a member of the committee on accounts. He has succeeded in making the incident so ridiculous that I feel compelled to take a hand in the matter and enlighten the public as to the true state of affairs.

"His honor, shortly after inauguration day, appointed Aldermen Callahan and Jordan to the committee on accounts. Why did the mayor remove Alderman Callahan from the committee? Did somebody whisper to him that he missed a grand opportunity to put Scanlon in a cavity by making him a member where he would have to hold up bills at the meeting or forever hold his peace?

Handling the City Bills

"For the benefit of those who don't know, I will say that under our present system the committee on accounts is about as useful as a fifth wheel to a coach. The committee has about 1000 bills, long and short, to look over and does the job in from three to five hours. If a member wants to hold up a bill he must have a majority with him or he cannot do so.

"In handling a large number of bills in such a short time a 'phony' bill that should be held up is liable to get by and the committee on accounts should not be blamed. After each month as a general thing the interest of the parties who look over the city bills evidently grows less and the job is done more expeditiously than at the first meeting.

"For instance, we find the mayor in looking over his first draft (August) scrutinized it so carefully that he held up two express bills amounting in the aggregate to about 50 cents. One bill (and there were others) for 490 loads of crushed stone at $3 per load, $1470, in the December draft escaped his attention.

"There was a foot or two of frost in the ground in December and under the conditions the least the public might expect from the mayor was that he hold the bill up long enough to inquire 'Where did they put it?'

Who Should be Responsible

"There are two persons who should be held responsible for bills paid by the city. The first is the head of the department that contracts the bill. He gets a salary to perform his duties, and one of the principal duties is to see that only just and proper bills are made out against the department.

"The other person is the mayor, who also receives a salary. His principal duty is to look after the financial interests of the city and he should give his time to it even if he has to neglect his social duties to do so.

"People who know seem to think that his honor would like to 'duck' holding up bills, so he insists that I serve on the committee on accounts, if, in the rush of looking over bills, I missed a 'phony' and it got by me, then his honor could hold it up and say, 'Scanlon lets his friend get by with a 'phony' bill, but I hold it up,' or, if the concern were friendly to the administration, he could pass it along, knowing that after I had signed I could not very well make further objections.

"In short, it is general opinion that his honor desires to avoid the responsibility by placing me on the firing line to take the brunt of the fire from those whose bills are held up, while he enjoys his social functions and spends his time considering projects for municipal improvements that will cost millions and which it will be impossible to even start for at least three years."

RELIEF FUND

FOR RELATIVES OF CHICAGO FIREMEN WHO WERE KILLED

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Two hundred and four thousand dollars has been collected by the relief committee for the widows and orphans of the firemen who lost their lives in the stock yards fire last December. The committee will meet today to discuss a plan for the distribution of the money.

There are nineteen widows and thirty-three orphans of firemen besides the relatives of the three victims who were not firemen.

THREE RESCUED

They Were Afloat on Hatch Cover

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A speck in the East river that looked like a boy's raft turned out yesterday to be a ship's hatch cover with Capt. Williams Sands of the barge Marco Brothers, his wife and their nine-year-old daughter aboard. They had been adrift an hour and were nearly frozen when a boat belonging to the United States receiving ship Hancock put out from the Brooklyn navy yard and rescued them.

Sands' barge, eighth in the tow of an eastbound tug, bumped into the barge just ahead, careened violently, and being heavily laden with coal began to sink as soon as she took in water. The crash woke Sands. He tore off a hatch cover, set his wife and child adrift and then stuck by the barge until she sank. Then he swam through the icy water after them. Those on the tug far ahead knew nothing of the collision.

REFORM LAWS

Great Changes Proposed in Nevada

CARSON, Nev., Feb. 7.—Nevada's days as the surviving remnant of the "wild and woolly west" are numbered if in addition to closing the gambling halls, the legislature passes bills now in committee, doing away with wide-open liquor laws, prohibiting the sale of cigarets, prohibiting gambling in any form and requiring one year's residence as a qualification for divorce.

With the introduction of local option and high license bills in the assembly yesterday this long list of blue laws confronts the old-time resident. Reform measures are further represented in amendments providing for the initiative, referendum and recall.

HE COMMITTED SUICIDE

Man Hanged Himself in a Prison Cell

NEW BEDFORD, Feb. 7.—Joseph Demsky, of Fall River, from which city he was committed to the house of correction in this city, serving sentences of six months and eight days for non support and drunkenness, was found hanging in his cell shortly after midnight this morning. Life was extinct when the body was cut down immediately on the discovery. The prisoner had torn off strips of his bed sheet, twisted them into a rope, made a noose in one end and fastened the other about the cell ventilator. The man leaves a widow and several small children. He was 43 years old.

GALLIVAN MAY DIE

Boston Policeman Was Shot by a Brother Officer

They Were Engaged in Struggle With Alleged Burglars—Gallivan Has a Bullet Through the Lung, Near the Neck

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—While chasing four supposed burglars on High street at 1.40 this morning Patrolman Richard J. Gallivan was shot and seriously wounded by his brother officer, Patrolman Patrick A. Hanley of the City Hall avenue police station. Gallivan is at the Relief hospital with a bullet through the lung near the neck and his name is on the dangerous list.

At 1.20 Sergt. James Laffey of the Lagrange street station was standing on Summer street opposite High, when a youth ran up and told him an officer of the City Hall avenue station was having some sort of trouble with three men at High and Federal streets. Laffey sent Patrolman Sandberg of his division to help out if needed and after waiting a few minutes started up Summer street in the direction of Washington.

Near Arch street he encountered Patrolman Hanley and told him of the trouble. He told Hanley of Sandberg's presence on the scene and instructed him to use the officer if he thought necessary. Laffey continued on and had gone but a short distance when four shots rang out. He ran through Arch street to Franklin and thence to Federal and High streets.

On High street he saw an automobile and just arrived in time to see some men carrying another into it. Hanley thrust his head through the window, so Laffey said, and said, "I shot Gallivan."

Operate at Once

Laffey waited for no more. He immediately ordered Hanley and the automobile driver to make all possible speed for the Relief hospital. Gallivan was placed on the operating table at once and Dr. Packard, the surgeon in chief, started to operate. It was noticed immediately the man had but a small chance to survive.

Patrolman Jesse Williams of the American District Telegraph company was on Federal street near High when he heard the shots ring out. He ran through High street place and met a young fellow running in his direction.

Four Men Captured

Somebody at the corner was shouting to stop him. Williams drew his club and forced the fellow into a door and in a minute was joined by Sandberg, who had drawn his revolver.

Patrolman Buchanan of the City Hall avenue station arrived on the scene just a few minutes later and he assisted in the capture of the other three men, all of whom were sent to the station.

PRICE OF FOOD

Advanced Because of Cold Spell

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—A heavy snowstorm of Sunday in this region caused an increase in the price of many articles of food yesterday.

Delay of trains and blocking of traffic that prevented the moving of produce brought about increases in the prices of eggs, butter, potatoes and chickens. Eggs sold at an advance of one cent. Elgin butter increased in price from 26½ cents to 27½ cents, and chickens ranged in price from ½ to 1 cent higher than on Saturday. Dealers asserted that further advances in prices may be expected before the end of the week.

AN EARTHQUAKE

RECORDED AS HAVING OCCURRED LAST NIGHT

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 7.—The seismograph at St. Ignatius college observatory today showed that an earthquake occurred last night, beginning at 8.30, the vibrations ending at 8.43. Father Odenbach, the observer, estimates the center of the earthquake was 2000 miles distant.

GREAT AIRSHIP

May Make 40 Miles an Hour

GOTHA, Duchy of Saxe Coburg-Gotha, Germany, Feb. 7.—The dirigible balloon Gross III left for Metz early this morning and at noon passed over Hanau, heading in the direction of Frankfort-on-the-Main. The airship is being transferred from the Berlin balloon sheds to Metz to make room in the former for the dirigible Gross IV, which has just been completed and is awaiting trial. The new air craft is 444 feet in length, and is expected to be the speediest dirigible yet constructed, being capable of making 40 miles an hour.

CAR SERVICE

IN PROVIDENCE AND VICINITY GREATLY DELAYED

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 7.—The brunt of the storm in Rhode Island today was felt in Block Island, which was in the throes of a blizzard. Sleet and snow with a stiff northeast wind kept all craft in port. At 10 a. m. about four inches of snow had fallen.

In Providence and vicinity the street car service was delayed especially in the suburban districts. All shipping was held up and some of the steamers due to arrive today were many hours late.

GRAND WEDDING

Vivien Gould Becomes Bride of Lord Decies Today

Society From Both Sides of the Ocean Present—3000 Persons Invited to the Wedding—The Couple Will Sail for Egypt Shortly

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Society from both sides of the Atlantic has gathered in force today to attend the nuptials of Vivien Gould, daughter of George Gould, the financier, and Lord Decies, British nobleman and army officer, at 4 o'clock this afternoon in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal church. The holders of 3000 invitations, it is expected, will crowd the edifice to overflowing and preparations have been made to handle throngs of the curious outside.

The church itself will be redolent with the perfumes of rare flowers in nave and chancel. Green and white will be the color scheme, although just what flowers will perfect it, the style and texture of the bride's wedding gown and the gowns of her attendants will not be made public until the church doors are thrown open.

Miss Edith Gould, sister of the bride, is to be maid of honor. The bridesmaids are the Misses Hope Hamilton, Beatrice Claflin, Hannah Randolph, Louise Cromwell and Allison Pierce. Two little nephews of the bridegroom, Marcus and Graham Beresford, are pages and will carry the train of the bride's gown. Two choirs will sing. The Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of the church, and Bishop David Greer will officiate.

The couple will sail shortly for Egypt, where they will remain until leaving for the coronation.

That there may be no repetition of the scenes at the wedding of Miss Marjorie Gould and Anthony Drexel, Jr., last year, when the hundreds of curiosity seekers almost mobbed the bridal couple, George J. Gould has arranged for ample police protection. It is said that Lord Decies has received many threatening letters, which the English peer, however, takes as a joke. Hundreds of police and plain clothesmen have been detailed to keep the crowd of sightseers from the church and Gould home and prevent any unfortunate incident.

Choir boys will precede the wedding procession led by the ushers. Lord Decies will wait at the chancel steps for his bride and will be attended by his cousin, Lord Alastair Graham, R. N., a son of the Duke of Montrose. After the bridemaids will follow the small attendants, Gloria Gould, who will walk with Master William Beresford and Diana Daiziel, who will be escorted by Master Marcus Beresford.

After them will come little Miss Edith Gould, who will be her sister's maid of honor, and following her the bride and her father.

The wedding gown is of white satin, embroidered in white and silver, with designs of Easter lilies. The train is five yards long. Over the whole gown will be a veil of tulle caught up with orange blossoms. The wedding presents, said to be valued at more than $100,000, will not be shown at the wedding reception, but are being packed for shipment to England. The reception at the Gould mansion will follow the wedding ceremony.

BIG IRON SAFE

Dynamited and Looted by Thieves

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—A big iron safe, said to have contained several thousand dollars, was dynamited and looted by thieves early today in the office of the Halprin Knitting mills in Williamsburg. The explosion was not heard, although windows in the building were blown out and the theft was not discovered until Morris Halprin, the proprietor, visited the office this forenoon. The scene of the robbery is in the heart of Williamsburg's business section. The cracksmen left no clue.

THAW'S APPEAL

Has Been Dismissed by the Court

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 7.—Harry K. Thaw's appeal from the decision of the appellate division, adverse to his contention that he is being illegally detained in the state hospital for the insane at Matteawan, has been dismissed by the court of appeals. This practically sweeps away his last hope for release.

Mrs. Thaw in her petition to the court set forth that she believed that the "health and person of her son is in constant danger," and sought his release because of the "unprecedented and inhuman treatment of a sane, acquitted man in an institution for the criminal insane."

Thaw's counsel stated to the court that he had practically entered into a stipulation with the attorney general that the appeal might be dismissed, and that the state was entitled to costs. The remittitur dismissing the appeal was sent to the attorney general today.

A REGULAR BLIZZARD

THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

Gained $10,000 a Day in Gross Earnings During January

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—If the reports of earnings of the leading railroads are a trustworthy indication, general business in New England is gradually improving. In January the New York, New Haven & Hartford system showed a gain in gross earnings of about $10,000 a day or $300,000 a month over December figures. The January gross earnings were about $832,000 ahead of those of the same month in 1910.

The Boston & Maine system shows an increase of $6000 a day last month or $180,000 in all. The January receipts were almost $400,000 better than for the same month the year before.

The Grand Trunk system also made gains last month.

A company which operates a large watch factory in Waltham states that business shows a perceptible improvement over that of a year ago. The plant, which was idle eight weeks last year, is now running on full time and has increased its working force from 2800 to 3100 employes. The maximum force is 4200 when business is booming.

BURIED UNDER COAL

Man Found Dead in Bunker at Merrimack Mfg. Co.

Joseph Krick, aged 26 years, of 36 William street, was smothered to death in a coal pocket at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., about eleven o'clock this morning. He met his death as a result of disobeying orders, according to what Supt. Jude C. Wadleigh stated to a representative of The Sun today.

The coal as dumped from the cars goes into different pockets, the said pockets being without covering. The rain and snow form a coating on the top of the coal and when coal is removed from underneath a crust is formed on the top which is liable to fall at any time.

According to what could be learned from Mr. Wadleigh, Krick was a coal passer and in violation of the orders of the company walked on the top crust of coal and snow and fell through and was buried under tons of coal.

Other coal passers seeing the predicament of their fellow employe went to his assistance and worked vigorously for ten minutes and finally were able to bring his body out, but life was extinct.

MAY BE MURDER

Body of Alleged "Black Hander" Found

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 7.—With a bullet through the head, the body of a well dressed Italian, aged 30 years old, was found near the harbor front today. The man is believed to have been murdered. Both hands were in his pockets. Among his effects were a loaded revolver, two knives and a roll of bills.

The man is believed to have been a member of a so-called "black hand" society with headquarters at Cleveland, O. A letter addressed to "Giagoan Baptista Arecchi, care of Giuseppe Angello company, 1120 Orange avenue, S. E. Cleveland, O." was found in the clothing. The letter contained instructions to him to get "somebody and fix them." It is mostly in code. It is believed here that the man to be "fixed" heard of Arecchi's coming and shot him first.

Strothard, with various aliases, was arrested at a Cambridge post office last night by United States Marshal Ruhl and a Canadian detective, for the Dominion authorities. It is charged that he passed small checks on various banks and hotels in Nova Scotia, made out in the names of Halifax merchants.

WILLOWS LOST

The J. P. S. Scored a Great Victory

The J. P. S. won a signal victory over the Willows in the game played in the Minor league last night. The contest proved to be a good one, the Willows losing each string by small margins. Buckley of the losing team was the only man who reached the hundred mark while the victors, Bergeron and Severance, made scores which were instrumental in winning the game, Severance being the high roller.

The Alpines rolled a nice game last night and as a result their opponents, the Y. M. C. U., lost three points. While A. Doyle of the losing team was high man with a triple of 331, there were three members of the other team who sent the pins in different directions for more than 300, they being Devlin, Dwyer and Wynne.

In the Royal Arcanum league last night the Highland and Lowell councils played a good game. While the Lowell team won the grand total by the narrow margin of one pin, the Highland quintet won two of the three points. The scores:

MINOR LEAGUE

Willows—Dacey, 256; Curry, 250; Thompson, 250; Buckley, 271; McPherson, 253; total, 1290.

J. P. S.—Bergeron, 267; Severance, 309; Mason, 234; Montgomery, 274; Lafleur, 245; total, 1329.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Y. M. C. U.—A. Doyle, 331; Walsh, 274; Allen, 254; T. Doyle, 270; Singleton, 297; total, 1426.

Alpines—H. Farrell, 291; O'Brien, 288; Devlin, 302; Dwyer, 310; Wynne, 314; total, 1505.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE

Highland 970—Carey, 254; Rogers, 287; Fuller, 242; Dana, 228; Sub, 226; total, 1237.

Lowell 8—A. Gilbert, 237; O. Johnson, 250; H. Brown, 235; F. C. Gilbert, 259; J. Gleason, 267; total, 1238.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

While the Boott team of the Manufacturers' league still leads in the race for supremacy the members of the team are very active and have a good lead on the members of the Lowell Machine shop aggregation which is now holding down second place. The Bigelow quintet is in third place while the other teams are trailing along, the Tremont & Suffolk bringing up the rear.

Carroll of the Appletons stole a march on Abbott of the Boott and is now in first position in the individual standing, Abbott having fallen back to second place.

One of the amusing features of the individual averages is that Carroll of the Appletons is in first place and Bowen of the same team in third position, yet the Appleton team is in but fourth place, which demonstrates the fact that two members of that team are doing all the work. The team standing:

	P. C. won	P. C. lost
L. M. S.	45	23
Bigelow	40	28
Appleton	37	31
Lawrence	35	33
Massachusetts	30	38
Hamilton	21	47
Tremont & Suffolk	14	54

Team totals, Feb. 2, 1911:

Bigelow	2,889
Boott	2,829
Lowell Machine Shop	2,705
Appleton	2,651
Massachusetts	2,314
Lawrence	2,239
Hamilton	1,876
Tremont & Suffolk	1,776

Boston Copper Market

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Coppers were firm in tone though without particular feature during the early stock market trading today. There was a moderate volume of transactions with orders fairly well distributed throughout the list.

STOCK MARKET

WAS STRONG AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Buying Movement Arose in the Final Hour—The High Prices of the Day Were Reached—Some Slight Recessions Followed

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Opening quotations on the stock exchange today as a rule were close to the final prices of yesterday with a rather irregular tone. U. S. Steel, St. Paul and Louisville & Nashville were off ¼ and Missouri, Kansas & Texas ⅜. Reading advanced ¾ on sales of 3200 shares and Union Pacific and Great Northern pfd gained a like amount. Missouri Pacific rose ⅝.

The course of prices in the first hour was mixed and the fluctuations were narrow. The market grew slightly firmer after the opening but eased off on distribution of selling orders.

The market developed a decidedly weaker tone as the morning progressed and prices drooped sharply. The downward movement was accelerated by growth of bearish sentiment and an increase in selling orders. Talk of an extra session of congress had a depressing effect, as did expectations of an unfavorable statement tomorrow by the Copper Producers' association. By noon net losses had been established of ½ to ¾, the latter in Amalgamated Copper. Bonds were steady.

Extension of the selling movement depressed prices to a point which uncovered buying orders and the market rallied slightly.

Recovery made further progress and the demand became wider with especial strength in several stocks which were conspicuous in the recent upward movement. The market as a whole, however, remained dull, prices creeping up to about a level with last night's close.

The market closed strong. A spirited buying movement arose in the final hour and the high prices of the day were reached. Reading, St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Northeastern were lifted 1 to 1⅜ above yesterday's close. Some slight recessions followed.

KING GEORGE'S FIRST PARLIAMENT FACES ACUTE STAGE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The new parliament will be memorable not only as the first to be opened in state by George V. and Queen Mary, but as the one to decide the status of the house of lords and probably thereby make the greatest change of a century in the British constitution. Thus King George's regime faces a crisis of most vital importance. Many important measures are on the liberal program—home rule for Ireland and possibly "home rule all around," state insurance against unemployment and illness on a wholesale basis, other extensive financial schemes and possibly provision for paying members. But the question of the peers will precede all others. The government's immediate policy for dealing with the lords is embodied in what is termed the parliament bill, more commonly known as the "veto bill," which the prime minister introduced at the last session. It practically wipes out the power of the upper chamber to kill legislation from the commons by proyding that any bill shall become law which the commons has sent to the lords for three successive sessions, in a period of time not less than two years, and which has been three times rejected or not disposed of. When the lords receive the bill after it passes the house of commons the real interest in the struggle will begin. Their policy is not yet disclosed or even formulated. Lansdowne, leader of the conservatives in the house of lords, in a resolution declared that the lords were "prepared to forego their constitutional right to reject or amend money bills," proposed to settle by joint session of the two houses differences lasting through two sessions of a year's interval and differences on matters of great gravity by a popular referendum. Lansdowne is leader of the opposition to the absolute abolishment of the house of lords.

SENATOR BURTON

Made a Strong Defense of Senator Cullom in Senate Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A defense of Sen. Cullom of Illinois formed the most striking part of the speech made in the senate yesterday by Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, in opposition to the report of the committee on privileges and elections by which Senator Lorimer of Illinois was exonerated from the charge of obtaining his seat by means of bribery.

The reference to Senator Cullom, who is Mr. Lorimer's colleague was called out by a statement made by Senator Bailey, of Texas, in the senate during the excitement incident to the close of Senator Root's arraignment of Mr. Lorimer last Friday. Speaking of the existence for years of a "jack-pot" fund in the sessions of the Illinois legislature, Mr. Bailey, who supports Mr. Lorimer, said that the means used to elect Mr. Lorimer were the same as employed in the election of Mr. Cullom.

Mr. Burton did not dwell long on the Texas senator's inferences. He said:

"The senator from Texas, no doubt unwittingly, did an injustice to the senior senator from Illinois in some remarks last Friday in averring that if Mr. Lorimer's election is invalid so is that of the senior senator. One conclusive answer to any such groundless inference is the method of the election of Mr. Cullom. He was nominated at a primary by a majority of 50,000 votes, and it would be most unjust to him to compare the circumstances under which he was chosen with the corrupt and dishonest methods prevalent in the legislature in 1903."

The Ohio senator discussed the allegations against Senator Lorimer largely on legal grounds. Without attempting to unravel the testimony, he proceeded upon the theory that certain facts had been proven and then undertook to show through precedents established in the United States and Great Britain that the election by the Illinois legislature had been tainted and therefore was invalid.

Among other points discussed was that as to whether the receipt of money after the casting of a vote constitutes bribery and it was held that it does.

"If," said the speaker, "those who received such money were free from corrupt intent, they certainly would not have received it after the votes were cast. It is impossible to separate the receipt of money after the election from other facts and circumstances in the conduct of those members which go to make up one dishonest transaction."

Meeting the contention that the evidence given by bribe-takers cannot be considered in connection with the case, the Ohio senator declared that no such rule in law now prevails. "It belongs rather to a crude state of society," he proceeded. "To maintain it would mean that the most serious offenders against the public must go unpunished. It ignores the difference in the comparative guilt of those engaged in the same unlawful enterprise. It regards the man guilty of a crime as absolutely an outcast, and disregards alike his reformation and the welfare of society. It closes the door of repentance for the criminal, even for him who has been misled by the superior influence of others into doing something against which his better judgment rebels."

Mr. Burton did not accept the statement of Mr. Lorimer's friends, that if there had been bribery that gentleman had not authorized it.

In another connection he said: "Who will assert, in the face of all the testimony, of Mr. Browne's promises or money, of his control over these members, his previous transactions, that his action was not corrupt or that Mr. Lorimer did not share in that corruption? It is definitely conceded by the defenders of Mr. Lorimer that a state of corruption was rife in the Illinois legislature. They admit that bribery was common and had been for a long time, but while conceding the rank corruption which prevailed in which Browne and others of those who voted for Lorimer were prominent figures, they deny that this applies to the senatorial election. They aver that there may have been a "jack-pot," but this does not affect, they maintain, the question at issue.

"In the first place, there is little or no testimony showing that legislation was prevented or promoted by the existence of this 'jack-pot.' If there was anything for which money was paid, it was for the election of a senator; and again, how it is possible to separate the two, if there was such a corrupt condition? The same actors in plots to defeat legislation were prominent in the senatorial election. Without their votes Mr. Lorimer could not have marshaled a majority. Every item of evidence goes to show that whatever corruption existed had exerted an influence in that senatorial controversy more than in anything else."

Summing up his conclusions, Mr. Burton found it "perfectly evident that fraud was so rampant and dishonesty so widespread in this election that it is impossible to separate the sound vote from the unsound votes. "When," he added, "there is indubitable proof, as here, that fraud and bribery have been resorted to, no one can derive from the cesspool of corruption any conclusion except that no election was had. Undoubted proof is available not only to show that a sufficient number of bribed persons cast their votes for Mr. Lorimer to invalidate his election, but also that on other grounds than this there was not a valid choice. There are strong arguments to sustain a presumption that not only 7, 8, 9 or 10 were corrupt, but that possibly 30 cast their votes under the influence of bribery or dishonesty."

WANT LICENSES

Hearings on Two Barbers' Bills

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Two bills to provide for the licensing of barbers were considered by the legislative committee on public health yesterday. One was drafted by Senator Ross of New Bedford and the other by John Weaver Sherman of Boston. The Sherman bill provides for the appointment by the governor of a licensing board of three practical barbers to give examinations and issue licenses. All practising barbers must be licensed, the first registration fee to be $5 and yearly renewals $1 each. Senator Ross was willing to accept the Sherman bill.

President Christopher Mallen of the barbers' state district council said he recently investigated conditions in Taunton, where, he declared, conditions in some of the shops are very bad. He said respectable barbers of the city had tried to get the state board of health to take action, but the latter refused to interfere with local conditions.

Many other barbers appeared in behalf of the measures, while no one spoke in opposition.

FIFIELD WILL

Continued

Miss Fifield is revoked and the amount of that bequest is divided into several smaller bequests, as follows:

The Codicil Provisions

To Johanna Sears of New Brunswick, N. S., sister of the first wife of deceased, $6000; Mrs. Louis B. Ingalls, wife of George H. Ingalls of Boston, $5000; Mrs. Charles Hale Maxwell of Canton, Mass., $3600; Mrs. Jennie Richardson, wife of Walter Richardson of Lowell, $3000; Louis B. Kileski, $10,000.

By the codicil, the executrix is authorized to expend a sum of money not exceeding $10,000, for the erection of a suitable monument in the Lowell cemetery.

The trustees of the Lowell cemetery are left the sum of $2000, the income to be used for perpetual care.

$5000 for Belmont, N. H.

The town of Belmont, N. H., is given $5000 for improvement and care of the lot in the cemetery in Belmont, in which the father and mother and other relatives of deceased are buried.

Then follows a bequest of $1000 to William Kelly of Canton street; two bequests of $1000 each to Harold and Hope K. Noyes, children of Harry K. Noyes.

Following these provisions is a clause providing that if any balance remains undisposed of, from the said sum of $50,000, it shall go to the residuary legatee, Dora A. Chase.

The last clause provides for a bequest of $5000 to Grace Universalist society, for the payment of any existing indebtedness; and, if at the time the bequest becomes operative, there is no existing indebtedness, the same shall be used for the general purposes of the society.

Mrs. Chase Interviewed

Mrs. Dora A. Chase, the residuary legatee in the will of ex-Mayor George W. Fifield of Lowell filed yesterday in Cambridge, is a native of Canada and has been a resident of this city 35 years.

She had been housekeeper for Mr. Fifield seven years and previously occupied the same position in the family of the late Supt. Davis of the police department.

Her husband, George A. Chase, was superintendent of public buildings in 1885 and 1886. Mr. Chase was not married until some years later. Her husband was a skilled carpenter and while she was employed as housekeeper he worked at his trade in this city.

His name does not appear in this year's Lowell directory and Mrs. Chase says she does not know where he is.

Mrs. Chase is a smart appearing woman, and during the later years of Mr. Fifield's life she accompanied him on automobile trips in Lowell and to the near seaside places in this state.

To Be Buried In Same Lot

Mrs. Chase said in answer to inquiries:

"The will of Mr. Fifield was read three times to his sisters by Mr. Kileski before it was filed in order that they might clearly understand it. I am willed $50,000 in addition to the personal property, but I have been told the bequests outside of what was willed to me amount to nearly $200,000.

"Some of the estimates place the value of Mr. Fifield's property at $300,000. Before I can receive anything, all the property must be sold. If the real estate and buildings do not sell for enough to pay all bequests but mine, I must sell the personal property also to help pay them.

"The first will was drafted before Mr. Fifield went to the hospital last November. The reason for the codicil was that Mr. Fifield forgot some persons and Grace Universalist church, Lowell, whom he intended to benefit by bequests.

"It is left discretionary with me as to the style of a monument to erect on his lot in Lowell cemetery. He left a deed to me of his lot in the Lowell cemetery so that my body will be buried in the same lot with the bodies of himself and two wives. Money was willed by him for perpetual care of his lot in Lowell cemetery and that of his father in the cemetery in Belmont, N. H.

Silent as to Divorce

"I do not know if Mr. Fifield benefited by the estate of his brother. He died before I became housekeeper for Mr. Fifield. Miss Abbie M. Fifield of Belmont, N. H., was bequeathed $50,000 by her father and other property in Belmont, and Mrs. Frances Wilson, another sister of Mr. Fifield, was left $20,000 in trust by her father and I believe she received money by the will of her brother Charles.

"I am not going away from Lowell. I have lived here 35 years and I am going to do the business directed by the will of Mr. Fifield. I do not know where Mr. Chase is at present. We were married in Lowell. As to whether we have been divorced you will have to get an answer elsewhere. The will was first read last Friday morning in the room where we are sitting. The attending physician, the lawyer who drafted it and others were present. One of the persons whom Mr. Fifield remembered in the codicil to his will, was his chauffeur, who will receive $1000."

The highest estimate placed on the total of Mr. Fifield's estate is $700,000. In Lowell last year his real estate and personal property was assessed at $190,000.

One Estimate is $700,000

From a reliable source it was learned that Mr. Fifield was the owner of land and buildings in Lynn, Beachmont and Revere, worth anywhere from $125,000 to $140,000.

It was said by a man familiar with Mr. Fifield's affairs, that if the sale of his property is rushed it will not bring near the assessed value, but if sold to advantage as the opportunity presents itself, it will bring more than the assessed value in Lowell and at Lynn, Revere and Beachmont.

Property of Mr. Fifield in Lowell is in the best sections. His large machine shop will require skillful management if the business is continued.

St. John's Hospital

The good sisters of St. John's hospital were highly elated when informed yesterday by The Sun of the bequest of $20,000 left the hospital by ex-Mayor Fifield. The Reverend Superior said to the reporter: "The bequest is most generous and comes at a time when it is greatly needed. At the present time we are sorely in need of additional room and a new wing is contemplated on the east side of the main building. This fine gift will make a good start for the building fund."

Lowell General Hospital

The money left to the Lowell General hospital will go into the endowment fund. Dr. Charles H. Stowell said to a reporter of The Sun today. "All the money left to the hospital is placed in the endowment fund and not a cent of it is used for any other purpose. It is a rule of the hospital to put all amounts given the institution, from the smallest upward, and not given for a specific purpose, into the endowment fund."

MEN FACED DEATH

They Were Imprisoned in Burning Forecastle of Craft

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Marveling that they were alive to tell the tale, the 18 men of the crew of the fishing schooner Tesser, which reached T wharf late yesterday, told of having faced death while imprisoned in the burning forecastle of their almost capsized craft off Sable island, Jan. 29. The schooner was struck by a northeast gale when riding at anchor off Cape Sable Monday morning, according to Captain Dunsky, which threw her on her beam ends, with her masts flat upon the water. The galley stove emptied its live coals into the forecastle and started a blaze which threatened the crew with cremation, while the cook's range threw its boiling water over one of the crew who had to be removed to a hospital last night.

By a miracle the schooner righted herself, bringing up as she did so one of the dories securely caught in the crosstrees of the foremast—the others were all smashed. The inrush of waters quenched the fire in the forecastle and thus all but the man who was scalded escaped injury from the fire.

A mustard mug, stuck in the ceiling of the forecastle, gave one evidence of the capsizing of the craft when she tied up at T wharf last night.

HOW TO TREAT THE FEET

Many men and women, and especially clerks, suffer with aching, swollen and sweaty feet. Others suffer much from cold feet, or corns and callouses. This form of misery can be readily banished by the simple daily use of antiseptic vilane powder, a specific of extraordinary virtues.

Obtain two ounces of vilane powder from any leading druggist and to a gallon of steaming water add a teaspoonful, also a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet in this every night for a few weeks, ten to twenty minutes, and it will soothe, heal and restore all poisons and soreness. Corns and callouses disappear and cold feet soon become unknown. Anyone suffering with their feet should have this knowledge.

IS NOT GUILTY

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Failing after an hour's search of law books to find any ruling or statute to cover the complaint, Judge Utley in central district court yesterday discharged Wilfred Peltier, who was accused of attempting to aid an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane to escape.

Peltier confessed to the police he sent a file and saw to Caroline A. La Bontie so that she could effect her escape, but declared his action was taken to aid the girl's mother, and not because of a love affair the officers suspected.

The La Bontie girl has been an inmate of the Lancaster reformatory and home for feeble minded children. Her commitment to the insane hospital released her from the jurisdiction of the Lancaster school, where an attempt to aid an escape would have been covered by the law affecting prisoners.

This Great Tonic and Heart Stimulant Quickened Mr. Causey's Heart Action, Built Up His System and Keeps Him Strong and Active, Although an Old Man.

Mr. T. P. Causey, R. F. D. No. 5, Box 28, Vandalia, Ill., wrote: "It gives me pleasure to say that I have been using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for several years and think it a great medicine. Before I commenced to use it I was all run down, could hardly do my chores. But this last summer I have worked in the field most of the time and felt much better.

"I have also been much bothered by my heart, so much so that I would have to go to the doctor's every little while to get medicine for it, but since I commenced using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I haven't had to go to the doctor for that trouble, and I feel much stronger. I have a good supply of the medicine on hand at present and will order more when it is gone."

THE NEW HAVEN ROAD

Gained $10,000 a Day in Gross Earnings During January

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—If the reports of earnings of the leading railroads are a trustworthy indication, general business in New England is gradually improving. In January the New York, New Haven & Hartford system showed a gain in gross earnings of about $10,000 a day or $300,000 a month over December figures. The January gross earnings were about $832,000 ahead of those of the same month in 1910.

The Boston & Maine system shows an increase of $6000 a day last month or $180,000 in all. The January receipts were almost $400,000 better than for the same month the year before.

The Grand Trunk system also made gains last month.

A company which operates a large watch factory in Waltham states that business shows a perceptible improvement over that of a year ago. The plant, which was idle eight weeks last year, is now running on full time and has increased its working force from 2800 to 3100 employes. The maximum force is 4200 when business is booming.

BURIED UNDER COAL

Man Found Dead in Bunker at Merrimack Mfg. Co.

Joseph Krick, aged 26 years, of 36 William street, was smothered to death in a coal pocket at the Merrimack Mfg. Co., about eleven o'clock this morning. He met his death as a result of disobeying orders, according to what Supt. Jude C. Wadleigh stated to a representative of The Sun today.

The coal as dumped from the cars goes into different pockets, the said pockets being without covering. The rain and snow form a coating on the top of the coal and when coal is removed from underneath a crust is formed on the top which is liable to fall at any time.

According to what could be learned from Mr. Wadleigh, Krick was a coal passer and in violation of the orders of the company walked on the top crust of coal and snow and fell through and was buried under tons of coal.

Other coal passers seeing the predicament of their fellow employe went to his assistance and worked vigorously for ten minutes and finally were able to bring his body out, but life was extinct.

MAY BE MURDER

Body of Alleged "Black Hander" Found

ERIE, Pa., Feb. 7.—With a bullet through the head, the body of a well dressed Italian, aged 30 years old, was found near the harbor front today. The man is believed to have been murdered. Both hands were in his pockets. Among his effects were a loaded revolver, two knives and a roll of bills.

The man is believed to have been a member of a so-called "black hand" society with headquarters at Cleveland, O. A letter addressed to "Giagoan Baptista Arecchi, care of Giuseppe Angello company, 1220 Orange avenue, S. E. Cleveland, O." was found in the clothing. The letter contained instructions to him to get "somebody and fix them." It is mostly in code. It is believed here that the man to be "fixed" heard of Arecchi's coming and shot him first.

MAY WILLOWS LOST

The J. P. S. Scored a Great Victory

The J. P. S. won a signal victory over the Willows in the game played in the Minor league last night. The contest proved to be a good one, the Willows losing each string by small margins. Buckley of the losing team was the only man who reached the hundred mark while the victors, Bergeron and Severance, made scores which were instrumental in winning the game, Severance being the high roller.

The Alpines rolled a nice game last night and as a result their opponents, the Y. M. C. U., lost three points. While A. Doyle of the losing team was high man with a triple of 331, there were three members of the other team who sent the pins in different directions for more than 300, they being Devlin, Dwyer and Wynne.

In the Royal Arcanum league last night the Highland and Lowell councils played a good game. While the Lowell team won the grand total by the narrow margin of one pin, the Highland quintet won two of the three points. The scores:

MINOR LEAGUE

Willows—Dacey, 256; Curry, 250; Thompson, 250; Buckley, 271; McPherson, 253; total, 1290.

J. P. S.—Bergeron, 267; Severance, 309; Mason, 234; Montgomery, 274; Lafleur, 245; total, 1329.

CATHOLIC LEAGUE

Y. M. C. U.—A. Doyle, 331; Walsh, 274; Allen, 254; T. Doyle, 270; Singleton, 297; total, 1426.

Alpines—H. Farrell, 291; O'Brien, 288; Devlin, 302; Dwyer, 310; Wynne, 314; total, 1505.

ROYAL ARCANUM LEAGUE

Highland 970—Carey, 254; Rogers, 287; Fuller, 242; Dane, 228; Sub, 226; total, 1237.

Lowell 8—A. Gilbert, 237; O. Johnson, 250; H. Brown, 235; F. C. Gilbert, 259; J. Gleason, 267; total, 1238.

MANUFACTURERS' LEAGUE

While the Boott team of the Manufacturers' league still leads in the race for supremacy the members of the team are very active and have a good lead on the members of the Lowell Machine shop aggregation which is now holding down second place. The Bigelow quintet is in third place while the other teams are trailing along, the Tremont & Suffolk bringing up the rear.

Carroll of the Appletons stole a march on Abbott of the Boott and is now in first position in the individual standing, Abbott having fallen back to second place.

One of the amusing features of the individual averages is that Carroll of the Appletons is in first place and Bowen of the same team in third position, yet the Appleton team is in but fourth place, which demonstrates the fact that two members of that team are doing all the work. The team standing:

	P. C. won	P. C. lost

Boston Copper Market

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Coppers were firm in tone though without particular feature during the early stock market trading today. There was a moderate volume of transactions with orders fairly well distributed throughout the list.

STOCK MARKET

WAS STRONG AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Buying Movement Arose in the Final Hour—The High Prices of the Day Were Reached—Some Slight Recessions Followed

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Opening quotations on the stock exchange today as a rule were close to the final prices of yesterday with a rather irregular tone. U. S. Steel, St. Paul and Louisville & Nashville were off ¼ and Missouri, Kansas & Texas ⅝. Reading advanced ⅛ on sales of 3200 shares and Union Pacific and Great Northern pfd gained a like amount. Missouri Pacific rose ⅝.

The course of prices in the first hour was mixed and the fluctuations were narrow. The market grew slightly firmer after the opening but eased off on distribution of selling orders.

The market developed a decidedly weaker tone as the morning progressed and prices drooped sharply. The downward movement was accelerated by growth of bearish sentiment and an increase in selling orders. Talk of an extra session of congress had a depressing effect, as did expectations of an unfavorable statement tomorrow by the Copper Producers' association. By noon net losses had been established of ½ to ¾, the latter in Amalgamated Copper. Bonds were steady.

Extension of the selling movement depressed prices to a point which uncovered buying orders and the market rallied slightly.

Recovery made further progress and the demand became wider with especial strength in several stocks which were conspicuous in the recent upward movement. The market as a whole, however, remained dull, prices creeping up to about a level with last night's close.

The market closed strong. A spirited buying movement arose in the final hour and the high prices of the day were reached. Reading, St. Paul, Northern Pacific and Northeastern were lifted 1 to 1⅝ above yesterday's close. Some slight recessions followed.

BACHMAN FREE

MAN WHO KILLED HIS NIECE IS RELEASED

EASTON, Pa., Feb. 7.—Robert Bachman of Nazareth, a member of the religious sect known as the "Holy Rollers," who killed his little niece in a religious meeting at his home in 1905, has been given his freedom.

After the crime was committed Bachman was declared insane and removed to an asylum. A few weeks ago a petition was presented to the court by the hospital authorities saying Bachman had recovered his reason. He furnished $2000 bond to keep the peace and was today released.

He leaves $20,000 to St. John's hospital, Lowell; $20,000 to the Lowell General hospital; $20,000 to his sister, Mrs. Fannie S. Wilson of Wentworth, N. H.; $60,000 to a second sister, Miss Abbie M. Fifield of Belmont, N. H., and $50,000, together with his house and other property in Lowell to Mrs. Dora A. Chase of this city, who is named as executrix and who also receives the residue of the estate.

The other bequests are as follows: Frances H. Meyer of Lowell, $2000; Caroline Stockman, Lowell, $2000; Frank P. Sladen, $2000; Georgie V. Harder of Winchester, N. H., $5000; Nellie C. KING GEORGE'S FIRST PARLIAMENT FACES ACUTE STAGE

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The new parliament will be memorable not only as the first to be opened in state by George V. and Queen Mary, but as the one to decide the status of the house of lords and probably thereby make the greatest change of a century in the British constitution. Thus King George's regime faces a crisis of most vital importance. Many important measures are on the liberal program—home rule for Ireland and possibly "home rule all around," state insurance against unemployment and illness on a wholesale basis, other extensive financial schemes and possibly provision for paying members. But the question of the peers will precede all others. The government's immediate policy for dealing with the lords is embodied in what is termed the parliament bill, more commonly known as the "veto bill," which the prime minister introduced at the last session. It practically wipes out the power of the upper chamber to kill legislation from the commons by providing that any bill shall become law which the commons has sent to the lords for three successive sessions, in a period of time not less than two years, and which has been three times rejected or not disposed of. When the lords receive the bill after it passes the house of commons the real interest in the struggle will begin. Their policy is not yet disclosed or even formulated. Lansdowne, leader of the conservatives in the house of lords, in a resolution declared that the lords were "prepared to forego their constitutional right to reject or amend money bills," proposed to settle by joint session of the two houses differences lasting through two sessions of a year's interval and differences on matters of great gravity by a popular referendum. Lansdowne is leader of the opposition to the absolute abolishment of the house of lords.

SENATOR BURTON

Made a Strong Defense of Senator Cullom in Senate Yesterday

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—A defense of Sen. Cullom of Illinois formed the most striking part of the speech made in the senate yesterday by Senator Theodore Burton of Ohio, in opposition to the report of the committee on privileges and elections by which Senator Lorimer of Illinois was exonerated from the charge of obtaining his seat by means of bribery.

The reference to Senator Cullom, who is Mr. Lorimer's colleague was called out by a statement made by Senator Bailey, of Texas, in the senate during the excitement incident to the close of Senator Root's arraignment of Mr. Lorimer last Friday. Speaking of the existence for years of a "jack-pot" fund in the sessions of the Illinois legislature, Mr. Bailey, who supports Mr. Lorimer, said that the means used to elect Mr. Lorimer were the same as employed in the election of Mr. Cullom.

Mr. Burton did not dwell long on the Texas senator's inferences. He said:

"The senator from Texas, no doubt unwittingly, did an injustice to the senior senator from Illinois in some remarks last Friday in averring that if Mr. Lorimer's election is invalid so is that of the senior senator. One conclusive answer to any such groundless inference is the method of the election of Mr. Cullom. He was nominated at a primary by a majority of 50,000 votes, and it would be most unjust to him to compare the circumstances under which he was chosen with the corrupt and dishonest methods prevalent in the legislature in 1909."

The Ohio senator discussed the allegations against Senator Lorimer largely on legal grounds. Without attempting to unravel the testimony, he proceeded upon the theory that certain facts had been proven and then undertook to show through precedents established in the United States and Great Britain that the election by the Illinois legislature had been tainted and therefore was invalid.

Among other points discussed was that as to whether the receipt of money after the casting of a vote constitutes bribery and it was held that it does.

"If," said the speaker, "those who received such money were free from corrupt intent, they certainly would not have received it after the votes were cast. It is impossible to separate the receipt of money after the election from other facts and circumstances in the conduct of those members which go to make up one dishonest transaction."

Meeting the contention that the evidence given by bribe-takers cannot be considered in connection with the case, the Ohio senator declared that no such rule in law now prevails. "It belongs rather to a crude state of society," he proceeded. "To maintain it would mean that the most serious offenders against the public must go unpunished. It ignores the difference in the comparative guilt of those engaged in the same unlawful enterprise. It regards the man guilty of a crime as absolutely an outcast, and disregards alike his reformation and the welfare of society. It closes the door of repentance for the criminal, even for him who has been misled by the superior influence of others into doing something against which his better judgment rebels."

Mr. Burton did not accept the statement of Mr. Lorimer's friends, that if there had been bribery that gentleman had not authorized it.

In another connection he said: "Who will assert, in the face of all the testimony, of Mr. Browne's promises or money, of his control over these members, his previous transactions, that his action was not corrupt or that Mr. Lorimer did not share in that corruption? It is definitely conceded by the defenders of Mr. Lorimer that a state of corruption was rife in the Illinois legislature. They admit that bribery was common and had been for a long time, but while conceding the rank corruption which prevailed in which Browne and others of those who voted for Lorimer were prominent figures, they deny that this applies to the senatorial election. They aver that there may have been a "jack-pot," but this does not affect, they maintain, the question at issue.

"In the first place, there is little or no testimony showing that legislation was prevented or promoted by the existence of this 'jack-pot.' If there was anything for which money was paid, it was for the election of a senator; and again, how it is possible to separate the two, if there was such a corrupt condition?. The same actors in plots to defeat legislation were prominent in the senatorial election. Without their votes Mr. Lorimer could not have marshaled a majority. Every item of evidence goes to show that whatever corruption existed had exerted an influence in that senatorial controversy more than in anything else."

Summing up his conclusions, Mr. Burton found it "perfectly evident that fraud was so rampant" and dishonesty so widespread in this election that it is impossible to separate the sound vote from the unsound votes. "When," he added, "there is indubitable proof, as here, that fraud and bribery have been resorted to, no one can derive from the cesspool of corruption any conclusion except that no election was had. Undoubted proof is available not only to show that a sufficient number of bribed persons cast their votes for Mr. Lorimer to invalidate his election, but also that on other grounds than this there was not a valid choice. There are strong arguments to sustain a presumption that not only 7, 8, 9 or 10 were corrupt, but that possibly 30 cast their votes under the influence of bribery or dishonesty."

WANT LICENSES

Hearings on Two Barbers' Bills

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Two bills to provide for the licensing of barbers were considered by the legislative committee on public health yesterday. One was drafted by Senator Ross of New Bedford and the other by John Weaver Sherman of Boston. The Sherman bill provides for the appointment by the governor of a licensing board of three practical barbers to give examinations and issue licenses. All practising barbers must be licensed, the first registration fee to be $5 and yearly renewals $1 each. Senator Ross was willing to accept the Sherman bill.

President Christopher Mallen of the barbers' state district council said he recently investigated conditions in Taunton, where, he declared, conditions in some of the shops are very bad. He said respectable barbers of the city had tried to get the state board of health to take action, but the latter refused to interfere with local conditions.

Many other barbers appeared in behalf of the measures, while no one spoke in opposition.

FIFIELD WILL

Continued

Miss Fifield is revoked and the amount of that bequest is divided into several smaller bequests, as follows:

The Codicil Provisions

To Johanna Sears of New Brunswick, N. S., sister of the first wife of deceased, $6000; Mrs. Louis B. Ingalls, wife of George H. Ingalls of Boston, $5000; Mrs. Charles Hale Maxwell of Canton, Mass., $3600; Mrs. Jennie Richardson, wife of Walter Richardson of Lowell, $3600; Louis H. Kileski, $10,000.

By the codicil, the executrix is authorized to expend a sum of money not exceeding $10,000, for the erection of a suitable monument in the Lowell cemetery.

The trustees of the Lowell cemetery are left the sum of $2000, the income to be used for perpetual care.

$5000 for Belmont, N. H.

The town of Belmont, N. H., is given $5000 for improvement and care of the lot in the cemetery in Belmont, in which the father and mother and other relatives of deceased are buried.

Then follows a bequest of $1000 to William Kelly of Canton street; two bequests of $1000 each to Harold and Hope K. Noyes, children of Harry K. Noyes.

Following these provisions is a clause providing that if any balance remains undisposed of, from the said sum of $50,000, it shall go to the residuary legatee, Dora A. Chase.

The last clause provides for a bequest of $5000 to Grace Universalist society, for the payment of any existing indebtedness; and, if at the time the bequest becomes operative, there is no existing indebtedness, the same shall be used for the general purposes of the society.

Mrs. Chase Interviewed

Mrs. Dora A. Chase, the residuary legatee in the will of ex-Mayor George W. Fifield of Lowell filed yesterday in Cambridge, is a native of Canada and has been a resident of this city 35 years.

She had been housekeeper for Mr. Fifield seven years and previously occupied the same position in the family of the late Supt. Davis of the police department.

Her husband, George A. Chase, was superintendent of public buildings in 1885 and 1886. Mr. Chase was not married until some years later. Her husband was a skilled carpenter and while she was employed as housekeeper he worked at his trade in this city.

His name does not appear in this year's Lowell directory and Mrs. Chase says she does not know where he is.

Mrs. Chase is a smart appearing woman, and during the later years of Mr. Fifield's life she accompanied him on automobile trips in Lowell and to the near seaside places in this state.

To Be Buried In Same Lot

Mrs. Chase said in answer to inquiries:

"The will of Mr. Fifield was read three times to his sisters by Mr. Kileski before it was filed in order that they might clearly understand it. I am willed $50,000 in addition to the personal property; but I have been told the bequests outside of what was willed to me amount to nearly $200,000.

"Some of the estimates place the value of Mr. Fifield's property at $300,000. Before I can receive anything, all the property must be sold. If the real estate and buildings do not sell for enough to pay all bequests but mine, I must sell the personal property also to help pay them.

"The first will was drafted before Mr. Fifield went to the hospital last November. The reason for the codicil was that Mr. Fifield forgot some persons and Grace Universalist church, Lowell, whom he intended to benefit by bequests.

"It is left discretionary with me as to the style of a monument to erect on his lot in Lowell cemetery. He left a deed to me of his lot in the Lowell cemetery so that my body will be buried in the same lot with the bodies of himself and two wives. Money was willed by him for perpetual care of his lot in Lowell cemetery and that of his father in the cemetery in Belmont, N. H.

Silent as to Divorce

"I do not know if Mr. Fifield benefited by the estate of his brother. He died before I became housekeeper for Mr. Fifield. Miss Abbie M. Fifield of Belmont, N. H., was bequeathed $50,000 by her father and other property in Belmont, and Mrs. Frances Wilson, another sister of Mr. Fifield, was left $20,000 in trust by her father and I believe she received money by the will of her brother Charles.

"I am not going away from Lowell. I have lived here 35 years and I am going to do the business directed by the will of Mr. Fifield. I do not know where Mr. Chase is at present. We were married in Lowell. As to whether we have been divorced you will have to get an answer elsewhere. The will was first read last Friday morning in the room where we are sitting. The attending physician, the lawyer who drafted it and others were present. One of the persons whom Mr. Fifield remembered in the codicil to his will, was his chauffeur, who will receive $1000."

The highest estimate placed on the total of Mr. Fifield's estate is $700,000. In Lowell last year his real estate and personal property was assessed at $190,000.

One Estimate is $700,000

From a reliable source it was learned that Mr. Fifield was the owner of land and buildings in Lynn, Beachmont and Revere, worth anywhere from $125,000 to $140,000.

It was said by a man familiar with Mr. Fifield's affairs, that if the sale of his property is rushed it will not bring near the assessed value, but if sold to advantage as the opportunity presents itself, it will bring more than the assessed value in Lowell and at Lynn, Revere and Beachmont.

Property of Mr. Fifield in Lowell is in the best sections. His large machine shop will require skilful management if the business is continued.

ST. JOHN'S HOSPITAL

St. John's Hospital

The good sisters of St. John's hospital were highly elated when informed yesterday by The Sun of the bequest of $20,000 left the hospital by ex-Mayor Fifield. The Reverend Superior said to the reporter: "The bequest is most generous and comes at a time when it is greatly needed. At the present time we are sorely in need of additional room and a new wing is contemplated on the east side of the main building. This fine gift will make a good start for the building fund."

Lowell General Hospital

The money left to the Lowell General hospital will go into the endowment fund. Dr. Charles H. Stowell said to a reporter of The Sun today. "All the money left to the hospital is placed in the endowment fund and not a cent of it is used for any other purpose. It is a rule of the hospital to put all amounts given the institution, from the smallest upward, and not given for a specific purpose, into the endowment fund."

MEN FACED DEATH

They Were Imprisoned in Burning Forecastle of Craft

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Marveling that they were alive to tell the tale, the 18 men of the crew of the fishing schooner Teaser, which reached T wharf late yesterday, told of having faced death while imprisoned in the burning forecastle of their almost capsized craft off Sable island, Jan. 29. The schooner was struck by a northeast gale when riding at anchor off Cape Sable Monday morning, according to Captain Dunsky, which threw her on her beam ends, with her masts flat upon the water. The galley stove emptied its live coals into the forecastle and started a blaze which threatened the crew with cremation, while the cook's range threw its boiling water over one of the crew who had to be removed to a hospital last night.

By a miracle the schooner righted herself, bringing up as she did so one of the dories securely caught in the crosstrees of the foremast—the others were all smashed. The brush of waters quenched the fire in the forecastle and thus all but the man who was scalded escaped injury from the fire.

A mustard mug, stuck in the ceiling of the forecastle, gave one evidence of the capsizing of the craft when she tied up at T wharf last night.

HOW TO TREAT THE FEET

Many men and women, and especially clerks, suffer with aching, swollen and sweaty feet. Others suffer much from cold feet, or corns and callouses. This form of misery can be readily banished by the simple daily use of antiseptic vilano powder, a specific of extraordinary virtues.

Obtain two ounces of vilano powder from any leading druggist and to a gallon of steaming water add a teaspoonful, also a tablespoonful of salt. Immerse the feet in this every night for a few weeks, ten to twenty minutes, and it will soothe, heal and remove all poisons and soreness. Corns and callouses disappear and cold feet soon become unknown. Anyone suffering with their feet should have this knowledge.

IS NOT GUILTY

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Failing after an hour's search of law books to find any ruling or statute to cover the complaint, Judge Utley in central district court yesterday discharged Wilfred Peltier, who was accused of attempting to aid an inmate of the Worcester state hospital for the insane to escape.

Peltier confessed to the police he sent a file and saw to Caroline A. La Bontie so that she could effect her escape, but declared his action was taken to aid the girl's mother, and not because of a love affair the officers suspected.

The La Bontie girl has been an inmate of the Lancaster reformatory and home for feeble minded children. Her commitment to the insane hospital released her from the jurisdiction of the Lancaster school, where an attempt to aid an escape would have been covered by the law affecting prisoners.

Before I commenced to use it I was all run down, could hardly do my chores. But this last summer I have worked in the field most of the time and felt much better.

"I have also been much bothered by my heart, so much so that I would have to go to the doctor's every little while to get medicine for it, but since I commenced using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey I haven't had to go to the doctor for that trouble, and I feel much stronger. I have a good supply of the medicine on hand at present and will order more when it is gone."

THE PANAMA EXPOSITION

The Harriman system of railroads seems to be a factor in deciding where the Panama exposition shall be held. Harriman intended, it is said, to build a canal himself had he lived; but now that he is dead and that the government is building the canal, why such deference to the railroads he left behind? The best interests of the whole country should decide the location of the coming exposition, not that of any railroad or combination of railroads.

WRONG APPLICATION OF THE RECALL

The territory of Arizona is preparing a constitution which may soon be adopted. In the instrument drawn up for adoption the initiative, referendum and recall are given full scope. It is provided even that the recall shall apply to judges, something which we believe to be fundamentally wrong and calculated to overthrow the independence of the judges in rendering their decisions. The judiciary should be protected in its independence as otherwise popular clamor will sway the decisions of the bench. President Taft and congress will have something to say of this provision.

ANOTHER HEIRESS CAPTURED

Lord Decies, aged 45, comes over from England and captures one of the biggest fortunes left to any American heiress. Incidentally the heiress herself, Miss Vivien Gould, age seventeen, goes with the fortune, but that in the opinion of many is not the prime consideration. The physical and financial wrecks of the European aristocracy continue to make such conquests because of the passion of American heiresses for high-sounding titles, for gold lace and "medals of honor." Who can blame them for taking advantage of what seems to be a prevailing weakness among American heiresses.

FOR LESS EXPENSIVE GRADUATIONS

There has been a movement very general throughout this country to make the graduation exercises of high schools less expensive to the parents. School boards and teachers have joined hands in promoting the movement which seems to give general satisfaction to parents, especially those who are in moderate circumstances. In some cities arrangements were made to provide graduating dresses for young ladies at a dollar each, all to be of the same material and the same style. Unfortunately some of the graduates, who no doubt are those who can afford expensive dresses, are unwilling to don the dollar dress. It is to be regretted that any of them should refuse to comply with a rule of this kind or feel that in so doing they would be in the least degraded. On the contrary, they would be assisting in a movement to save unnecessary expense to those who can ill afford it. Many of the parents make great sacrifices to put their daughters through the high school, and when the end of the course comes they cannot afford to spend $35 or $50 on a graduation dress. The movement for simplicity in dress at graduations should succeed, and any attempt at display of fine gowns at such occasions should be discountenanced. It is very embarrassing to the daughters of poor parents to appear on a stage in a plain and inexpensive dress to sit side by side with girls who are expensively gowned. They should be saved this unpleasantness by the enforcement of a rule for plainness and simplicity in dress on all such occasions.

THE PREVAILING OBJECTION TO THE PROPOSED CHARTER

Among the objections to the proposed city charter is one to the effect that its adoption would take from the young men of the city the opportunity to be elected to the common council. We have never supposed that anybody derived much benefit from election to the common council. It brings a young man into politics often to his life-long injury, and when this result does not follow, it usually gives him a notoriety that serves no good purpose. Some councilmen, it is true, have been elected to the upper board and even to fill the mayor's chair, but their advancement depended upon their innate ability, not upon the accident of their election to the common council. Under the proposed arrangement for the selection of candidates there is no obstacle in the path of any aspirant for office. Only twenty-five signatures are required in order to secure a place on the ballot, and thus no young man would be debarred from placing his name on the ballot as a candidate for nomination in the primaries. If he wins out there, then his name will go on the ticket as candidate for the commissionership. The fact that the number of offices is smaller than under the old charter is the real objection.

That is erroneously called a centralization of power, but it is not so in reality. It is the delegation of power by the people to a small body with the understanding that it can be promptly withdrawn by the people through the recall if the power so delegated be not properly used.

In the draft of the charter it is provided that a special election shall be called not more than seventy days after the filing of the certified number of signatures with the municipal council. Thus in less than three months and perhaps in two months after the necessary number of signatures have been secured the election will be held to decide whether the official complained of will be removed or retained in office. The official to be removed becomes a candidate for reelection and his opponent must secure signatures numbering 10 per cent. of the vote cast at the last election. In this way any objectionable member of the municipal council or the mayor may be removed. The proceedings for the application of the initiative and referendum are somewhat similar, these provisions enabling the citizens to force the passage of certain measures and to prevent the enforcement of others already enacted.

These are but a few of the features of the new charter. As we have said the chief objection is to the small number of members on the municipal board; but the best authorities agree that a small number of men attending to the business all the time can attain better results than a large body holding occasional meetings and making slow progress because of the difference of opinion among the members. There will be no deadlocks, no change of policy from year to year. The council will be a continuous body that can carry out a definite plan of improvement through a number of years.

SEEN AND HEARD

It doesn't prove that a man hasn't any brains just because he acts foolish now and then. There are so many pretty girls!

People who have wondered why actors affect fur-lined overcoats forget that it is sometimes convenient for an actor to have something that he can put in pawn.

Wearing glass slippers, Cinderella, of course, had to be very careful to keep her stockings darned.

It is sometimes dangerous to follow in the footsteps of your doctor. With the doctor, as a general rule, it's a case of "don't do as I do, but do as I say."

It isn't any use for a young man to take an unsophisticated girl riding in a roller coaster if he doesn't know what to do when she begins to scream.

Perhaps you have noticed that people who object to gossip generally wait until you have told your story all through before they notify you.

Even if you have lost your umbrella, don't lose your temper, too.

When there are a dozen children in the family, the younger ones are well brought up, because the older ones, who are spoiled by their parents, won't stand for being bothered.

Far away there in the sunshine are my highest aspirations. I cannot reach them, but I can look up and see their beauty, believe in them, and try to follow where they lead.—Louisa M. Alcott.

"Where am I going to? Never mind;
Just follow the sign-board that says 'Be kind,'
And do the duty that nearest lies,
For that is the pathway to paradise."

"Sometimes we have so much to do that we don't know where to begin. It is a good plan to tackle the job we dislike the most first; then we can enjoy doing the others."

"You never can tell what your thoughts will do
In bringing you hate or love;
For thoughts are things, and their airy wings
Are swifter than carrier doves.

They follow the law of the universe,
Each thing must create its kind;
And they speed o'er the track to bring you back
Whatever went out from your mind."

"When you find yourself beginning to think things that you know perfectly well are unkind and uncharitable—don't. Pull yourself up short and resolutely turn your thoughts to other and pleasanter things. It's the only way."

"Opportunity will some day ring your bell—
Be ready.
She will not inquire if you are ill or well,
She will not stand waiting there
While you hasten to prepare;
She must hurry to where anxious others dwell.
Be ready."

SISTERS MEET

AFTER THEY HAD BEEN SEPARATED 31 YEARS

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 7.—After a separation of 31 years, during which time they had not heard from each other, Mrs. James Butler Hall of Daniel avenue, Olneyville, had a joyful reunion with her sister, Mrs. George Field of New Jersey, last night.

It all came about through a small advertisement recently in a paper. Mr. and Mrs. Hall arrived in America several years ago and it was then that a country-wide search was begun to locate Mrs. Field. Finally advertising was resorted to and the sisters were soon aware of the whereabouts of each other.

Last night Mrs. Arthur Tweedale of 232 Labon street gave a big house party in honor of the sisters' reunion.

SECOND ENTERTAINMENT IN COURSE TOMORROW NIGHT

A rare treat is in store for those who attend the second entertainment in the People's club free course tomorrow night at the rooms in the Runels building. The principal attraction will be Minna Eliot Tenney, who will lecture on "A Summer in Norway." The lecture is free to the public, and everybody is invited. The hall is in Merrimack square and the elevator in the Runels building will be in operation.

As stated, the Norway lecture will be the second in the People's club free course. The first was last week by Mr. C. H. Nelson, magician, who entertained more than a hundred spectators with his clever legerdemain. Other lecturers and entertainments to follow, after that of tomorrow night, are:

Feb. 15—Rev. George F. Kennegott, "Switzerland."

Feb. 22—Solon W. Stevens, "Washington and His Compatriots," and patriotic songs by Mrs. Charles M. Williams.

March 8—Arthur K. Pick of Boston, "Oberammergau and the Passion Play," illustrated.

March 15—Rev. Charles T. Billings, "Scotland."

March 22—Wilfred Kershaw, a musicale, vocal and instrumental.

Besides these, two more illustrated lectures are under negotiation and will be duly announced. It is certainly a grand series to offer free to the Lowell public.

Minister of public works, Pedro Joaquin Chamorro.

MAKES ROUGH SKINS SOFT AND PINK

"Specialists say when powder or cosmetics are used for any great period the skin's surface becomes dry and scaly and often a pimply condition follows," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the San Francisco Chronicle.

"The reason is plain. Powder tends to clog the pores, and when these organs of elimination are hampered, trouble follows.

"Many women now use a liquid, which spreads evenly and smoothly and gives more satisfactory results than any powder or cosmetic.

"A splendid and inexpensive lotion can be made at home by dissolving 4 ounces of spurmax in ½ pint of hot water, then adding 2 teaspoonfuls glycerine.

"This recipe is very popular in exclusive social circles, and its use soon produces that pink and white glow of health."

SOLON STEVENS

Has Resigned Position as Organist

Solon W. Stevens, for over 50 years organist at the First Congregational church, has resigned his position, his resignation to take effect next Sunday. Mr. Stevens who now resides in Winchester, finds it too severe a task on his strength to come from his home every Sunday and return.

SOLON W. STEVENS

On Sunday evening Mr. Stevens will give an organ recital commencing at 6.15 o'clock. He will be assisted by Albert F. French, formerly organist at the First Baptist church. Mr. Stevens will play many of the numbers which he has loved and which the people of the church have grown to love, and which seem inseparably coupled with the half century of service rendered by Mr. Stevens.

It is understood that Mr. Stevens will be made honorary organist of the society, and that, from time to time, he will be at his old post.

Miss Elliott Sues Former Employer

BOSTON, Feb. 7.—Papers in a suit for $50,000 brought by Mildred M. Elliott, who was employed as a stenographer in the law office of Sprout & Kendall, against her former employer, Fay B. Kendall of Newton, were filed by her lawyer, Edward Carr, in the East Cambridge court yesterday.

It is alleged that Mr. Kendall failed to keep his promise to marry the plaintiff.

Miss Elliott, who was born in Middleton, N. S., 24 years ago, was educated in the high school of that place, in a business college in Halifax, and in Dalhousie university.

She came to Boston seven years ago, she said, and after working for a law firm for a time, entered the employment of William B. Sprout, where Mr. Kendall had an office.

She said yesterday that Mr. Kendall was attentive to her from the time she made his acquaintance, and when he became Mr. Sprout's partner, his attentions were more marked, she affirmed.

He was accustomed to call for her at her home Sunday evenings, she declared, and accompany her to the Christian Science church, and she said the first present he gave her was a copy of Mrs. Eddy's book.

ANNUAL BANQUET

OF FRESHMAN CLASS OF THE TEXTILE SCHOOL

The annual banquet of the freshmen class of the Textile school was held last night at the Waverly hotel. About 40 members of the class sat down to one of the Waverly's famous banquets. E. Parker Smith was toastmaster and these toasts were responded to by the following members of the class: "Class Spirit," Robert H. Pirrie; "Athletics," J. A. Dover; "Freshmen," Osborne McArthur; "The Infant," Richard Waterhouse; "Girls," William Finneran; "Class of 1913," Francis P. Madden.

The committee in charge consisted of Francis P. Madden, chairman, Nathan Poor, Richardson P. Jefferson, Alexander Thompson and Herbert Bennett.

LOST ON VOYAGE

Doctor Missing When Ship Arrived

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—The mysterious disappearance of Dr. C. C. Nicola of Attleboro, Mass., from the steamer Oceana was reported upon the arrival of that vessel yesterday afternoon from Bermuda.

A thorough search of the ship has failed to locate the missing man. Dr. Nicola occupied a state room Sunday night with a companion, H. H. Curtis. Mr. Curtis saw Dr. Nicola early yesterday morning. Since then he has not been seen.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The members of Butler Ames company, Uniformed rank, Knights of Pythias, met last night. There was an unusually large attendance, and considerable routine business was transacted during the evening. An invitation from Waldemar company of Haverhill to attend their annual ball in that city was read. The committee of the local company, which was appointed to make arrangements for the coming annual ball, reported favorably and assured the members of an excellent program for the event.

VANDERBILT RACE

May Not be Held This Year

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Because of the deadly character of the Vanderbilt cup race on the Long Island motor parkway course last year and the subsequent transfer of the grand prize race to Savannah, efforts are now under way to bring about the holding of the Vanderbilt on some other than the Long Island course next fall. William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., the donor of the cup, is in Europe, but motor interests close to the guiding spirits of the Motor Cup Holding Co., which controls the two big automobiling events of the year, predict today that these efforts will fail.

"The race will not go to Savannah, Indianapolis or any other city," was the confident prediction of one man supposed to speak with knowledge. "If the event is not held on Long Island it will not be held at all."

The Lowell Sun Free Beauty Coupon

Good Tomorrow for This World's Most Famous Beauty Specialist.

An opportunity is now offered every reader of this paper to consult the world's most famous beauty specialist, Harriett Meta, of Paris, London and Syracuse, absolutely free.

A little over three years ago there was nothing known which, in our judgment, would actually remove wrinkles, but at that time Mlle. Meta made the important discovery which has since made her famous in two continents.

She demonstrated the great power of her new process by taking her own wrinkles out with it in three nights, after face massage, masks, straps, steaming pots, etc., had all failed, and today Mlle. Meta's face is still free from wrinkles, her cheeks full and plump and her skin and complexion is a delight to behold. In fact, by many she is considered the most beautiful woman in all Paris.

Her remarkable discovery was brought before the judges of the Paris International Exposition and the Rome Exposition Internationale for their investigation, and in both instances they quickly awarded her Gold Medals thereon. The French government also honored her with a patent on her new process, and patents are now pending before the U. S. government at Washington.

London journals sent their Beauty Editresses to investigate her methods, and their high endorsements of her discoveries made her famous almost overnight, so that she was eagerly sought after by French countesses and English ladies of high title and rank. The Beauty Editress of the London Onlooker wrote, "An interview with Mlle. Meta left me persuaded that here at last might be found the secret to restore youth and beauty."

Many of those who have used her process report most astonishing results. Mrs. Mary J. Davis, of 24 So. 4th street, East St. Louis, Ill., says: "My wrinkles were very deep and of long standing, so you can imagine my surprise when, after only two applications they entirely disappeared." Mrs. L. E. Haskell, of San Francisco, Cal., writes: "I am 50 years old. Consequently my wrinkles were of long standing and I had not thought it possible to erase them, but now when I view my changed reflection in the mirror I can scarcely realize the transformation that has been wrought." Mrs. M. A. Edwards, of Raleigh, N. C., says: "Since using the treatment I look younger than I did 25 years ago." Mrs. M. L. Lee, 221 East Virginia street, Evansville, Ind., writes: "I used the treatment one night and it succeeded in entirely removing my wrinkles, leaving my face as soft and free from lines as a child's." Miss Henrietta Jackson, of 6 Melville bldg., Pittsfield, Mass., says: "Your treatment is a Godsend to womankind. I wish every woman could know as I know the wonderful results which are produced by your treatment.

Since Mlle. Meta made her remarkable discovery imitators have naturally sprung up all over the country. Some of them have copied Mlle. Meta's advertisements and literature to such an extent that the public is often at a loss to distinguish the imitation from the real. We are therefore authorized to announce the following remarkable offer, which cannot fail to convince you as to who is who:

Mlle. Meta will forfeit $1000 in gold if she fails to prove that she holds nine Gold Medals and three Grand Prix on her discoveries from International Expositions. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can prove that she did not take out her own wrinkles with it in three nights exactly as she claims. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if every testimonial and sworn statement which she publishes is not absolutely genuine. She will forfeit $1000 in gold if anyone can show advertisements similar to hers published in any newspaper or magazine in the United States or Europe prior to the publication of her advertisements.

Arrangements have been made with Mlle. Meta to furnish free information in regard to her marvelous process for removing wrinkles to all Lowell Sun readers. Merely cut out and send her the coupon below and you will receive free particulars by return mail in a plain sealed envelope. You can use this remarkable process in the privacy of your own home without the knowledge of even your most intimate friends. It often works astonishing wonders in a single treatment overnight.

RECIPROCITY BILL

Was Indorsed by Democrats of the National House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Favorable action by the house on the Canadian reciprocity agreement was assured last night when the caucus of democratic representatives formally pledged the party to vote for the agreement.

The resolution indorsing the Canadian agreement was carried, 90 to 22. On motion of Champ Clark of Missouri the action of the caucus was made unanimous.

The anti-reciprocity democrats were given free rein in the caucus. Most of those opposed to the Canadian agreement submitted by President Taft expressed their views and a number dwelt on the fact that the bill incorporating the agreement should not pass without amendment. Amendments, of course, would invalidate the entire agreement.

Conspicuously hung in the lobby back of the house last night was a placard bearing a quotation from a speech by the minority leader, Mr. Clark, on June 7 last. This placard had been placed there by a republican to call attention to Mr. Clark's opposition to any amendment of the reciprocity bill. The placard read:

"I do not know how long we shall be here, but as long as I am here I intend to fight for the right to amend every section of every great bill which comes into this house, and I do not care a straw whether the democrats control the house or the republicans."

Mr. Clark and Mr. Underwood of Alabama, who will be chairman of the ways and means committee of the congress, and will begin work on schedule by schedule revision of the tariff as soon as this congress adjourns, led the movement to indorse the reciprocity agreement. Both of them declared for it unequivocally.

Messrs. Hammond of Minnesota, Brantley of Georgia, Webb of North Carolina, Legare and others spoke in opposition to it. Mr. Brantley urged postponing all such legislation until the next congress rather than put on the statute books a measure which will be used by the republicans as campaign material.

Mr. Brantley objected also on the broad ground of the disadvantage that such legislation would impose upon the raw materials of the producer. He expressed the belief that there is no occasion to rush through any such plans, because of the painstaking work soon to be undertaken by the tariff-making body of a democratic congress.

Four Ask Exemption

Mr. Webb talked similarly as to raw materials. Mr. Hammond pointed out that wheat is selling today at Minneapolis at a price seven-eighths higher than at Winnipeg, and that nearly everything produced in his district was injuriously affected by the propositions of the agreement. Mr. Webb announced that he could not vote for a blow at raw materials.

These democrats invoked the caucus rule which exempts a man from the binding effects to his constituents: Webb of North Carolina, Jujo and Broussard of Louisiana, and Hammond of Minnesota. All these made pledges to their constituents to vote for raw materials as against manufacturers.

Mr. Glass of Virginia opposed reciprocity, and Mr. Hardy of Texas favored it.

The reciprocity agreement was embodied in the McCall bill, which was the measure directly before the caucus. Mr. Brantly offered an amendment to this bill to refer to the ways and means committee or the whole matter for action by the next congress, but this was defeated, 27 to 89.

NERVOUS DEBILITY

This Illinois School Teacher Was Almost Prostrated but Was Cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

When the nerves are unstrung it means that the blood is not supplying the nervous system with the proper elements in sufficient quantity to replace the waste caused by work requiring nerve force.

This is a frequent occurrence with teachers and other brain workers and the remedy is shown by the experience of Mrs. Fay Hubbell, a school teacher, of Yorkville, Ill., who says:

"Several years ago I was so nervous that it seemed that I was losing my mind. I had suffered from nervousness for several years but it had never been so serious. The nervous spells would come on with such pains in the top of my head that I was forced to scream and cry out. Hearing any one talk or visiting around me would make me frantic. I had no appetite, there were pains in the pit of my stomach and gas constantly formed. Food distressed me and caused nausea. My back and legs pained a great deal and my kidneys were affected. I lost weight and became very weak.

"I was treated by doctors for a long time but their medicine did not cure me. My husband had read of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to have me try them. A few boxes relieved me so much that I gave them a thorough trial and was entirely cured. I think very highly of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and am very glad to recommend them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most direct cure for nervous troubles because they remove the cause of these diseases by building up and purifying the blood. The pure blood which they make furnishes the nerves with needed elements until they are restored to their normal strength. The pills have made so many remarkable cures in nervous disorders that no sufferer can afford to neglect giving them a trial.

They can be obtained at any drug store or direct from the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., at 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50. While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Write for a free copy of our new booklet, "Diseases of the Nervous System." The booklet describes symptoms and gives much useful information. It will be sent free on postal card request.

CAPPED ELBOW

Dr. Daniels Tells How to Treat It

Shoe boil does not require description. It is too well known. There are, of course, reasons for the shoe boil, shoe too long, cannon bone too long, the peculiar manner some horses have of lying down, like a cow. In these cases the hoof and shoe come in contact with and pinch the soft skin with the weight of the body causing a bruise which may develop in a number of ways, sometimes a simple bruise with a little swelling and slight inflammation, then swelling enormously showing great heat and pain, and causing severe lameness. This swelling does not remain in full but subsides gradually and forms a soft fluctuating tumor, containing bloody or purulent pus, which discharges if lanced. Changes follow the opening of these tumors. In most cases these will heal with little assistance but in some instances there remains a pendulous sac, which will grow larger at the slightest irritation and diminish again, repeating time and again this manifestation. In other cases an abscess forms, thickens, becomes fibrous and shows a hard tumor on the back of the elbow. In this form it is a serious matter and no treatment is of use except the knife. The other forms may be treated with success and are harmless except for the liability of their recurrence.

Prevention is one important point to emphasize. Break the animal of the habit of lying upon the heels, shorten the inside of the shoe, bandage the heel with bags or other soft material, put on boots, put a strip of wood across the stall some little distance back of the manger.

Treatment is hot water, plenty of it, for reducing the inflammation. Apply a good brisk liniment. There are some liniments which will disperse almost any of these shoe boils, or apply a good absorbent in more obstinate cases, or one can poultice, bring to a head and lance, cleanse with a good disinfectant and heal. In those obstinate cases which seem to resist all treatment we must depend upon the knife.

MAYOR GAYNOR

Gives Up Auto to Young Woman

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Mayor Gaynor surrendered his automobile to a young woman yesterday afternoon and fought his way to the city hall through the snow storm, while the girl rode home in the machine. The young woman was Miss Isabel H. Smith, and she took the mayor's place in the Gaynor auto after the machine had struck her and sent her sprawling in the snow in Brooklyn.

The mayor and the chauffeur alighted and went to her aid. She protested that she was unhurt, but the mayor insisted that she ride to her home in his machine. She yielded finally and the chauffeur turned the vehicle around, leaving the mayor to reach the city hall as best he could.

Y. M. C. I. NOTES

QUARTERLY COMMUNION OF THE INSTITUTE NEXT SUNDAY

The members of the Y. M. C. I. are pretty busy these days. They are keeping things going and at the present time have considerable work on hand.

Next Sunday they will attend their quarterly communion at the church of the Immaculate Conception and a breakfast in the club rooms will be served.

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, the institute will hold a ladies' night, in the form of a valentine party. Gilmore's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion.

A committee will soon be appointed to make the proper arrangements for the 22nd anniversary of the organization, which occurs on June 15th.

Thursday evening, the fourth series of card games will be played between representatives of the institute and the Holy Name society. The Holy Name society now leads in games won, two to one.

A membership list is now in preparation to be put in the large cabinet purchased for that purpose, and it is expected that it will be ready in the course of two weeks. The committee in charge is Martin Welch, Frank Lang, George O'Meara and Paul Clark. Thomas M. Welch, one of the popular members, has purchased bowling alleys in Natick, where he is now busily engaged getting things in readiness for opening.

MAN DESPONDENT

Plans for Son's Marriage Failed

WORCESTER, Feb. 7.—Despondent because he had used most of the money he had saved during his residence in the United States to pay the fare of a young girl from Armenia to Worcester as a bride for his son, only to have her sent back home because of an incurable disease, John Boyajian of 34 Fink street, aged 45, killed himself yesterday in Institute park, sending a bullet through his heart.

Boyajian has been complaining of the cruel fate which prevented a happy marriage for his son ever since the latter's sweetheart was deported, and when he left his home yesterday morning he told his wife and son it would be for the last time. They paid no attention to his remarks, but a few hours later his body was found at the bottom of the footbridge leading to the island in Institute park by Alfred Danielson and Howard Burkett, the latter son of Manager Jesse C. Burkett of the Worcester Baseball club.

MISS MILDRED JEWEL
At the Merrimack Square Theatre All This Week.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Miss Mildred Jewel, who heads the bill at the Merrimack Square theatre this week answers questions put to her by those in the audience who care to test her powers, or are really after information. Yesterday she answered a lot of questions and to the satisfaction of all.

She is creating a lot of comment, people are wondering how the trick is done, and what seems to puzzle most, is that the management is careful to have it understood that Miss Jewel is neither a spiritualistic medium nor simply a mind reader, her powers are obtained solely by scientific means, so declared the management.

The entire act is wonderfully interesting, as there is absolutely no clue by which one may gain a knowledge of the manner in which Miss Jewel accomplishes so satisfactory results.

Four other good acts also appear on the program. A quartet of cyclists and roller skaters are known as the Reckless Racklaws. They present a novel and interesting offering, some of it very amusing. The roller skating by a young woman and a young man is unique also.

Frenchell and Lewis, both excellent singers equipped with voices of excellent quality and range, sing selections from some of the most popular operas and also selections of a popular semi-classical order.

Charles Frazier is booked as a comedian and he certainly has the real stuff with him, and also renders a little concert on a concertina. Mr. Frazier can make that instrument do everything but think; he's worth hearing.

Frederick Meek is the soloist, and a good one. His selections are well chosen and well sung. The moving pictures, too, are varied and all new.

The above bill will be presented every day this week from 1 until 10.30 o'clock. Thursday night at 10 o'clock, Miss Jewel will answer the personal questions of women in the audience, and men will be excluded. The love-lorn will have their chance Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

THE OPERA HOUSE

Just as in the smoke and roar of battle it is "the man behind the gun" that is one of the all important factors in the ultimate result, so is "the man behind the scenes, the untiring, ever watchful stage director, the man who is seldom seen by public, but under whose master hand the general scheme of things are worked out and the smooth and finished performance given, one of the important factors in the success of a stock company. Such a man is J. H. Huntley, the stage director of the stock company that is to open at the Opera House next Saturday. Mr. Huntley, who is a man of wide experience in this line of work, a man who has staged productions for some of the best known stars and who has conducted his own stock company in several of the larger cities. The production of "The Charity Ball," which is to the opening bill of the Opera House stock company, and which is now in preparation, promises to be one of the most complete stock performances ever given in Lowell. The generous size of the Opera House stage lends itself to the making of elaborate stage settings and the construction of these are now well under way for the first play to be given. The sale for the first week opened today with a rush that indicates a lively interest in the engagement here of this company.

J. H. HUNTLEY

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

A big show is the rule at the Academy for the first half of the week. The Ten Louisiana Blossoms, a colored aggregation of singers and dancers entertain in a very pleasing act. They render some of the old songs in a very effective manner and those of the popular up to date successes and will please everybody in the different selections. The Hurleys give a neat acrobatic act and perform many difficult tricks. Denoyer and Dandde are a pair of lively entertainers and introduce lots of bright comedy in their skit, "Chatter Chats." The pictures are all good and include a biograph feature. The show is considered one of the biggest and best given at the house this season.

HATHAWAY THEATRE

Many references to Harvard personae and traditions especially in the second act of "Brown of Harvard," which the Donald Meek stock company with Severin DeDeyn is presenting at this popular little play house this week, are probably of more interest to Harvard men than to the general public. Schneider, who leads the band, the old clothes man, and above all, John, the orangeman, were greeted with welcoming cheers on the opening night. Old John, with his toothless smile and gestures of supreme happiness, was accorded a greater reception on his debut as an actor than most great stars receive at the height of their fame. In stage management the play shows extraordinary care, and the love scene between Brown and Evelyn in the middle of the yard may be excused on the grounds of dramatic necessity. However, it is generally supposed Radcliffe girls do not make a practice of walking about the yard and speaking to Harvard men. Mr. Meek, as "Tom Brown," cleverly portrays a dashing, courageous son of Harvard, who dares everything for love, honor and loyalty. All week with daily matinees.

THEATRE VOYONS

Projecting motion pictures in a lighted theatre is possible as those shown at the Theatre Voyons prove. The cry for lighted theatres has little effect here, but today the pictures shown at this theatre are far and away better than those demanded where this question has been widely advertised. The exclusive film service together with the excellent projection make a strong argument in favor of this theatre. A real comedy, Hearts, Hunger and Happiness a most interesting scenic; Practical Trout Breeding, a thrilling western subject; The Curse of the Red Man, and a domestic drama, Disinherited, make up a strong and attractive bill today.

"BIG TIM'S" GIFTS

It Was Shoe Day on Bowery

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Yesterday was "shoe day" on the Bowery and a timely one, too. Snow began falling just as State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan's aids began the distribution.

In all 500 pairs of stout shoes and an equal number of pairs of heavy woolen socks were given out. No questions were asked of those who held tickets issued at "Big Tim's" Christmas dinner to the poor of the Bowery, except as to the size of the shoes the prospective wearers desired.

The ticketholders began to gather at the Sullivan clubhouse at noon, and by 3 o'clock two lines of them stretched a block up and down the Bowery. Men of all conditions were in the lines.

The only disappointed persons were the Bowery pawnbrokers, because the heavy snow forced most of the recipients of Sullivan's bounty to make immediate use of the gifts.

"Big Tim" was too modest to remain in town for the distribution. He was in the senate chamber in Albany.

SUNDAY CLOSING

Board of Trade Discusses Post Office Movement

Sentiment of Executive and Postal Affairs Committees Favors the Elimination of Sunday Work at Federal Building

The executive committee and committee on postal affairs of the board of trade met a delegation from the Letter Carriers association at the board's rooms yesterday afternoon and discussed the question of Sunday closing at the postoffice, now being agitated by the employes of the postoffice.

After an hour's discussion it was the sentiment of the meeting that Sunday work in the federal building should be eliminated.

President Harvey B. Greene called to order, and the postoffice employes present were Messrs. John J. Dillon, George L. Adams, James W. Maguire, Maurice H. Powers, George Gurney and Charles W. Bell, the latter two being clerks in the office.

JOHN J. DILLON

Mr. Dillon was the first speaker, and he stated that the Sunday closing movement is a general one and some of the larger cities have already adopted the new idea. In Lawrence the system has been adopted and has proved a success. It is optional with the postoffice authorities whether the men shall be exempt from work on Sunday. If there is no opposition to such a move, the postmaster of the city where the movement has been on reports to the postmaster general's department in Washington and the privilege to close is granted.

A careful study of the situation, Mr. Dillon said, has been made at the local office, during the past two Sundays.

Jan. 28, 205 persons called at the window, and less than one-half of these received any mail. There was an even dozen of business men among them, he said. Last Sunday, Feb. 5, 250 called at the window and about half received mail. Among the 250 were women, foreigners and a lot of young people. Seven business men were counted.

Now the last mail is delivered at 8.30 o'clock Saturday night. The clerks would be perfectly willing to go to the postoffice Monday morning earlier than usual in order to sort the little mail which might accumulate during Sunday. Their Sundays, it was argued, were always broken into; they are not accorded the day of rest which others receive. It was practically impossible to go away for only a few hours.

It is intended to send out 10,000 return post cards to local citizens in order that an expression of opinion may be obtained.

President Greene said that the stopping of work on Sunday would obviate any opportunity for dishonest persons to collect mail which was not theirs. Now, when a person calls at the window on Sunday, asking for mail, he receives it and is not required to sign his name or to identify himself. He believed that mail which occasionally goes astray and which is never traced is sometimes delivered to the wrong person.

The Sunday closing will not in the least affect those who have boxes at the postoffice. It was stated, and undoubtedly more local business men would be very willing to hire boxes should the proposed regime go into effect.

Although no formal vote was taken, members of both committees favored Sunday closing, and the matter was referred to the board of directors who will meet tomorrow afternoon.

The executive committee of the board of trade has voted to send representatives to the hearing on the trolley express which will be held at the state house, Boston, at 10.30 o'clock Wednesday. James E. O'Donnell is chairman of this committee.

MAN PERISHED

As Result of Cold in New York

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Daybreak today found New York city clad in a three inch blanket of snow. During the greater part of the night the wind was very high, reaching a maximum of about 30 miles an hour while the mercury had dropped to a point 20 degrees below freezing. The weather man prophesied more snow and a lower temperature before night.

One death due to the storm was recorded and the police had a record at daybreak of 30 persons injured by falls or taken to hospitals suffering from exposure. The dead man was Frederick Lohring, a resident of the Bronx who perished of exposure. He was found unconscious in the drifted snow and died in an ambulance as he was being taken to a hospital.

CAUGHT BURGLAR

Officer P. J. Conroy Makes a Good Catch

Arrested One of Two Men Who Broke Into Billerica Post Office and Rifled Letters — Federal Officers to Take Charge of Case

The post office at North Billerica was broken into early this morning by burglars, who after rifling a number of letters and finding no money, stole confectionery and tobacco. An entrance was gained by breaking one of the large glasses in one of the windows in the front of the place.

Finding that the haul was a small one of the burglars, was addressed near Lowell.

Thomas Smith, who it is alleged was one of the burglars, was adrested near the old fair grounds in Gorham street this morning by Patrolman Patrick J. Conroy. Another man who accompanied Smith made his escape.

When Smith was searched at the police station it was found that he has a quantity of chocolates, chewing gum, cough drops and a laundered shirt marked "F. R. K." on his person. Later it was learned that the articles found in Smith's possession were taken from the North Billerica post office.

Smith was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of drunkenness, but Deputy Downey asked for a continuance on the ground that a more serious charge might be preferred against the man tomorrow morning.

The offense of breaking into a post office and opening mail is a very serious one and when the local authorities learned of the matter they immediately communicated with the federal authorities in Boston who will come to Lowell and take charge of the case.

It was about two o'clock this morning when Patrolman Conroy noticed two suspicious characters near the old fair grounds in Gorham street and questioned them. One of the men started to run and the officer immediately grabbed the other, who gave his name as Thomas Smith. He said he was 28 years of age, a shoemaker by trade and resided at Albany, N. Y.

He was sent to the police station where upon being searched it was found he had a number of the articles which it is alleged were stolen from the North Billerica postoffice.

NEW TRAFFIC RULES

Will be Discussed at Hearing Tonight

Central Street Business Men Will Oppose Rule Barring Them Out of Middle Street — Penalties Provided for Violation of New Rules

If the storm doesn't prevent them getting there, a large representation of Central street business men will be present at the hearing before the committee on municipal affairs of the board of trade on the proposed new traffic regulations.

In the new regulations about to be submitted to the city council is a joker just discovered by the Central street men, and they will be on hand to fight it because if the new regulations go through in their present shape the Central street tenants will have no place within a reasonable distance of their places of business to leave their carriages, autos or wagons.

The proposed new rules state that no vehicle may stand in Merrimack street between the Concord bridge and Kirk street, longer than 20 minutes, while on Central street the limit is from Merrimack to Warren street. The regulations also provide that no vehicle may stand in Middle street more than 20 minutes, unless it is owned by a man doing business on the street. Substantial fines for violations are provided for in the new ordinance.

The rub comes on the rule relative to the storing of teams in Middle street. Under the present regulations the Central street tenants being obliged to keep their wagons off Central street leave them in Middle street, the result being that the street is often crowded with autos and other vehicles. The committee in its investigating noted this crowded condition and concluded that it would be difficult to get fire apparatus through in case of fire. For this reason it was decided to allow only the vehicles of the Middle street tenants to remain there.

Henry A. Smith, chairman of the committee on municipal affairs, will preside and will give everyone present an opportunity to be heard. The committee desires a free expression of opinion and will be agreeable to any change in the rules that will please the majority. Now is the time to make any objection before the matter goes before the city council.

SANCTUARY CHOIR

TO GIVE MINSTREL PERFORMANCE TOMORROW NIGHT

The members of St. Patrick's sanctuary choir will hold their annual minstrel show and dance in Associate hall tomorrow evening. This organization, which made its initial bow into the world of minstrelsy last year, made such a pronounced success with its first attempt that the members decided to make the production of a minstrel overture an annual function on their social list. The performance last year was given in the school hall of St. Patrick's academy on Suffolk street, but the accommodations of this hall were far from being adequate for the comfort of the vast audience. The production this year has been named the "New Era" minstrel overture, and promises to be one of the best things ever produced in this city in the way of minstrelsy.

Several soloists of the choir who have gained much prominence in the rendition of some of the church music will be on the program, and to hear these youngsters will be a treat for those who attend. Additional to this the end men will have the usual comedy, solo, and march work and with jokes, most of which will have a local tinge, will add to the fun.

The performance of last season was commented on most favorably by all who witnessed it. The members realized that with the material they had last season and knew that if they wanted to make this production more successful than its predecessor they could not do so without almost doubling the expense of the last overture This they willingly have done.

A NEW CONCERN

Chance of Lacemaking Plant Being Located Here

It is reported in manufacturing circles that a lace-making concern in Nottingham, England, is contemplating erecting a plant in this city. The board of trade has no positive information in the matter, but the board has had inkling of it from a member of the department of commerce and labor, F. G. R. Gordon.

Mr. Gordon visited Lowell some time ago for the purpose of investigating trade conditions. It is the business of the department of commerce and labor, of course, to introduce into this country all the new industries possible. Mr. Gordon spoke of the lace-making industry and said that he would correspond with concerns across the water.

He told Secretary Murphy of the board of trade that there are only about 200 looms employed in the making of lace in the United States, and the lace imported into the United States every year represents the output of at least 8000 looms. Most of the lace made in this country at the present time is made in New Jersey.

THE FINAL SLASH

Was Made in the Department Estimates Last Night

Committee on Appropriations Completed Work Last Night — Slight Increases in Salary Given to Some Clerks at City Hall

The committee on appropriations gave the department estimates their final slash last night. The assessors were cut another $200; cemeteries, $2000; fire department "other" expenses, $1035; schools, $11,000. This left over $8000 in the general treasury fund. The total sums for departments are $1,405,492.08. The committee found $2600 that was a sort of over-cut and that amount was divided between some of the city hall clerks and the city hall firemen. The fire department, permanent and call men were allowed half what they asked for. The permanent men wanted an increase of 25 cents per day and the call men $50 per year.

City Clerk Dadman appeared before the committee. He had asked small increases for two of his clerks. He asked $1 a week for a clerk who had been in the office for more than 30 years and he said it would take two years for another clerk to learn her work. He asked an increase for another clerk, he said, because she was receiving the smallest pay of any clerk at city hall and she is a very capable clerk. Mr. Dadman claimed that his clerks had more to do than clerical work; they have to meet people and they have to be acquainted with the different forms made out at the city clerk's office. He invited the committee to come to his office and see for themselves.

Mr. Dadman said his books would need rebinding soon and his sundries ought not to be sliced. He said he had never exceeded his appropriation by over $50. There was money paid out of his appropriation that his office never got any credit for; clerical work that brought a revenue to the city treasury. He called attention to election cost and he thought a good showing had been made with last year's appropriation. He said that if the new charter passes the legislature there will be an expense of $1500 for a special election that would have to be met by a special appropriation.

The city hall firemen were on deck to tell why they were entitled to the increase asked for. The committee granted the increase asked for by the men, 25 cents a day, two of the men working the year round and one working six months, and $250 was added to the city messenger's department to meet it.

The city clerk's estimates were then discussed and he was allowed an increase of $104 for salaries and $70 "other expenses."

In the city treasurer's department, two raises asked for were granted and $122.50 was added for the purpose, while his incidental fund was increased from $2500 to $2600.

The sealer of weights and measures was allowed some more for incidentals, $300 more was appropriated.

Increase of pay for the fire department was the next matter. The salaries list in the department was given $6951.25 increase, to meet the request of the men for a raise in wages, including the permanent call men. This represents half the sum needed to accomplish the purpose. Later however, on motion of Councilman Chapman, the action granting the firemen an increase was rescinded.

It was voted that $200,000 be appropriated for the expenses of the water department, to be paid from its revenues.

Adjourned.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Senate Adopts Greenwood Bill for Investigation

The Vote Was Practically on Party Lines — Death Penalty Bill Cause of Lively Debate in the House

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—The Massachusetts state senate had its first real field day with all the orators on edge yesterday afternoon. It was on the financial measure relative to the employment of experts by the chief executive to assist him in making inquiries into state boards and institutions under the so-called Walker budget act of last year.

About a week ago, the governor having asked for the authority to employ such expert assistance as he might deem necessary for intelligent research in the business methods of state boards or institutions, since he had to make to the legislature specific recommendation as what appropriation they should have for the current year, the joint committee on ways and means reported in the house a resolve giving the chief executive the desired authority and permission to spend whatever part of the executive $100,000 contingent fund he deemed necessary for the purpose. The house passed the resolve without division but after fervid protests by Representative Norman H. White of Brookline and Representative Thomas W. White of Newton.

The resolve was received last Wednesday by the senate. Friday Senator Gretnwood of Worcester, chairman of senate ways and means, offered a substitute bill for the house resolve. In substance it provided that the governor might have all the information he wanted but all experts to be employed would have to be passed upon by a committee to consist of the governor Greenwood of Worcester, chairman of the legislative committee on ways and means, and reports of experts would have to be made to such a committee, each member to be furnished with a copy thereof.

This Greenwood bill was submitted on the ground that the ways and means committee had to pass on the same financial problems as the governor and therefore should have the same information which he was to get through the experts referred to.

Division on Party Lines

Yesterday, after a long debate, practically on party lines, although both sides denied talking "politics" in the least, the Greenwood substitute prevailed, 14 to 8. The 14 democrats, with the exception of Senator Curley of Suffolk, who was absent, voted against the substitute, seven of the number being paired against it.

Two republican senators, Tinkham of Suffolk and Nason of Essex, spoke and voted against the Greenwood bill. Of the other 24 republican members 21 were recorded for the substitute bill, two absent and one, President Treadway, was not called upon to vote.

With the seven pairs, therefore, and the four absent or not voting on both sides, the vote stood 14 to 8 for the Greenwood substitute bill, which was offered as a substitute for the house resolve.

At the close of the session it was generally admitted that all was not over yet with this proposition. Members of both parties discussed the result from a political standpoint. The house, of course, will have a chance at the Greenwood substitute, and with the known attitude of the speaker in favor of the measure which the lower branch sent along it is not hard to see trouble ahead for the substitute.

Capital Punishment Debate

Yesterday was capital punishment day in the house, there being in the calendar motions to substitute for an adverse committee report two bills, one giving the jury the right to fix the penalty for murder in the first degree and the other providing that the punishment shall be life imprisonment.

Representative Ahearn of Framingham favored the latter bill as progressive, declaring that it is so difficult to secure convictions under the present law that a number of murderers are at large when today they would be in prison for life if the jurymen had not hesitated to inflict the death penalty. The death penalty does not deter at all, as is shown by the commission of murder in the temple of justice in Suffolk county and within its shadow in Middlesex county, he said.

Representative Sanborn of Lawrence opposed the bill, citing numerous instances in history where the punishment of death has put an end to insurrections and crime. He said the death penalty has been recognized from the beginning of time by the civil, the military and the moral law, and its existence in Massachusetts has never yet resulted in the death of an innocent man.

Representative Hobbs of Worcester said that the abolition of the death penalty in France resulted in nine years in its being set up again because of the great increase in crime.

Mr. Ahearn said there are now before the Massachusetts court more murders than ever before. Substitution of the bill was refused, 28 to 80.

BOTH SENTENCED

Two Men Were Found Guilty of Stealing Copper

Bernard Bradley and Louis Duchesne, who stole copper and brass from the Massachusetts Mohair Plush company and valves from the Appleton company, were arraigned before Judge Hadley in police court this morning. They were arrested last week by Inspectors Martin Maher and John Walsh and upon appearing in court entered pleas of not guilty, but this morning Lawyer Goldman, who appeared for the two men, changed the pleas to guilty and asked for the clemency of the court.

According to testimony offered by Inspector Maher and Corporation Officer Noyes, the men stole $2.40 worth of brass from the Mohair company and $105 worth of brass from the Appleton company. At the Appleton company the articles stolen were very valuable, consisting of valves from which the men stripped the copper and brass and afterwards sold it to a junk dealer.

Both men were implicated in the larceny from the Mohair company, but when the valves were stolen from the Appleton mills Duchesne was alone, but Bradley was with him when he sold them to the junk dealer.

The valves were in a mill near the canal in the rear of the Appleton property and Duchesne stole them during the noon hour when there was no person around. He knew the mill well, having, it is said, worked there.

After bringing the valves out of the mill they were taken to the home of one of the defendants where they were stripped and the valuable metal removed and sold.

The court after considering the case, found both men guilty, and Duchesne was sentenced to the Massachusetts reformatory and Bradley was sentenced to eight months in jail.

Stole a Watch

The parting embrace of friends according to a certain custom is costly sometimes and Maria Medina found that to be so last July when she lovingly embraced Mariah Forensier, for during the hugging Mariah relieved Maria of a gold watch which was valued at $50. When the Medida woman discovered the loss of her watch she reported the matter to the police, but she did not suspect any one until last Sunday when she was informed that Mariah Forensier had the timepiece.

The defendant was visiting the house of the complainant in Elm street last July and when the former was parting the hostess fondly embraced her. Later she discovered her loss.

Last Sunday the defendant and her sister had a little family quarrel and as a result the sister informed the Medina woman that the defendant had the watch stored away in a trunk.

The police were notified and Inspector Maher and Patrolman Noyes, who acted as interpreter, visited the home of the defendant and the mother of the latter opened the different trunks, but there was no watch to be found. There was one trunk which was locked and when Inspector Maher asked to look into the trunk he was informed that that trunk belonged to her daughter's lover. Inspector Maher immediately surmised that the trunk in question contained the watch and upon being informed that there were no keys in the house that could open the trunk he resorted to his skeleton keys and soon had the trunk opened. There he found the watch.

The defendant claimed that she found the watch, but Judge Hadley thought differently and ordered her to pay a fine of $20 in three days or spend the next two months in jail. The fine was paid.

Case Continued

Drunken Offenders

Thomas Reynolds denied that he was intoxicated when arrested last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The arresting officer said that the man was helplessly drunk and owing to the severe cold thought he might be safer in the police station than wandering through the streets. Corporation Officer Briggs corroborated the testimony of Patrolman Sheridan. A fine of $6 was imposed.

James McKiernan and Edward F. Lynch were each fined $6, and two first offenders were fined $2 each.

RICKARD DONAHOE

Old Resident of St. Patrick's Parish Dead

The many friends of Rickard Donahoe, an old and highly esteemed resident of St. Patrick's parish, will be pained to learn of his death, which occurred last evening at his home, No. 1 Brooks street, after a lingering illness, which he bore with true Christian fortitude. Deceased was for years a devout attendant at St. Patrick's church, and was loved and respected by all for his many good qualities of mind and heart. He was a member of St. Patrick's Holy Name society. He is survived by his wife, Mary; five daughters and three sons, Misses Mary, Katherine, Susan, Nora and Mrs. Arthur McHugh, Michael J., John F. and Rickard J. Donahoe, also three grandchildren, Edith, Gertrude and Rickard Donahoe. Friends are kindly requested to omit flowers. Funeral notice later.

DEATHS

CAVANAUGH—Simon A. Cavanaugh, aged 38 years, died last evening at his home, 98 Andover street, after a brief illness. Pneumonia was the direct cause of death. Mr. Cavanaugh was a well known real estate dealer, and was manager of the National Adjustment company of this city. Deceased is survived by two sisters, Agnes and Helen.

MARKHAM—The many friends of Mrs. James J. Markham will regret to learn of her death, which took place at the Westboro hospital, where she had been for treatment for the past few weeks, shortly after 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The immediate cause was broncho-pneumonia, which set in the last of the week and made rapid progress till death came to the sufferer's relief. Mrs. Markham was born in Cherryfield, Me., but had lived in Lowell since early girlhood. She leaves, besides her husband, who for nearly two years has been an engineer for Stone & Webster in extensive work in Dallas, Tex., four sisters, all of this city, Mrs. Matthew Murphy, Mrs. John J. Green and Misses Elizabeth and Susan Driscoll.

Mrs. Markham while in good health was a devout communicant at the church of the Immaculate Conception. She was especially known among her intimate friends for her charity. She was very fond of the little children of the poor and made many of them happy in her cheerful home in Belvidere. Agent Richardson of the Humane society generally gathered a dozen of them at Thanksgiving or Christmas time and Mrs. Markham saw that they feasted to their hearts' content. This was on special occasions, but her helpfulness to the little folks was an all-the-year-round devotion. They in particular will be sorry for her departure.

KIMBALL—Miss B. Ethel Kimball died Sunday at the home of her parents in West Medford, Mass. She formerly lived in this city.

TRACEY — Annie Tracey, infant daughter of Francis and Annie Tracey, died yesterday at the Lowell hospital. The body was taken to the chapel of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

LARRATT—Arthur J. Larratt, aged 50 years, 8 months, died yesterday at his home in Billerica Centre. Deceased is survived by his wife, Catherine; two sons, John and Arthur; two daughters, Misses Mary and Maude, and two brothers, Ernest of England and William of Wisconsin.

LEWIS—Theodore W. Lewis, a life-long resident of Lowell, died last night at his home, 96 West Sixth street, aged 76 years and 6 months. Deceased had for many years been a well known barber in Bridge street. He was connected with the Central M. E. church for 30 years. Surviving him are four daughters, Misses Ella G., Phoebe, Julia and Marion Lewis of Lowell, and one brother, Levi J. Lewis of St. John, N. B.

JOHNSON—Carl Alfred Johnson, aged 64 years, died yesterday at his home in Chelmsford. Deceased was a resident for the past 10 years and was for many years an employe at the Kitson Machine shop. He is survived by his wife, two sons, Charles of Lowell and George of Worcester, and a daughter, Miss Anna Johnson of Chelmsford.

MAKES YOUR HAIR SOFT AND GLOSSY

"Most shampoo mixtures," says Mrs. Mae Martyn, in the Los Angeles Examiner, "rob the scalp of all oily secretion, leaving it dry and harsh, and the hair grows brittle and is hard to manage. This causes dandruff, falling hair and premature grayness, aging a woman ten years.

"A reliable shampoo mixture can be made at home by dissolving a teaspoonful of canthrox in a teacup of hot water. Pour this on the scalp and rub well, then rinse carefully, and you will find it leaves the hair soft and glossy and puts the scalp in a healthy condition.

"Shampooing with this mixture is a delight and costs but a trifle, but you should be careful to get an original package of canthrox."

ADJT. GEN'L PEARSON

Handed Out Some Hot Talk at War Department

Under the heading "Gen. Pearson, orator," Practical Politics in this week's issue has the following:

Adjt. General Pearson owes it to his fellow soldiers in Massachusetts whom he was representing at the militia conference in Washington to secure an explanation from the authorities in the capital city as to why they took the liberty of editing, correcting, changing and eliminating parts of the speech which he made before the officers there. If the general is not going to get a square deal and if those jealous of his rise from the position of company commander are going to try in these ways to get even with him, it is about time that the people were warned. The general, as his friends well know, is a mighty slick talker. Long years ago it was his practice to walk along the banks of the canal in Lowell, outnoising even the water wheels. Demosthenes at his best was only a piker compared with him, even when he was beginning.

It was with all this in mind that he attended the conference at Washington, the aim of which was to secure larger federal assistance from the government for militia troops. It cannot be proved that any deliberate attempt was made to shunt Gen. Pearson off the floor, but it is a fact that a whole meeting went through without any demand that he rise. Very properly he arose on the second day and spoke for the state.

He didn't do a thing but pitch into the war department as a band of criminals in 1898 when he as a company commander was attempting to drive the Spanish out of Chickamauga. He spoke about the rotten beef, and the stinking water, he left out none of the horrors, and he laid the blame on the war officials. Then he gave the congress of that time a taste of his mind and didn't mince his words in that case either.

A few other men, no doubt annoyed because the war department was the department they were supposed to be asking the favor of, and whose representatives present looked a trifle peeved, tried to explain matters after Pearson sat down. The final outrage though has been the elimination from his speech of the real hot stuff which he blew off, including his charges of criminality against congress and the war department. That should be resisted. The militia men in this state have a right to know how the general pitched in and what he said for them and no false modesty in this administration of pitiless, persistent publicity should restrain him from getting out manifold copies of his address at the earliest opportunity and spreading them broadcast.

New Store FOR RENT

The beautiful new double-deck store, No. 44 Central street, is approaching completion and is offered for rent.

The store consists of a first and second floor with basement, affording over 6000 square feet of floor space, with entrances on Central and Prescott streets.

Modern display windows, fronting on each street, are provided on the first and second floors; the upper show windows on the Central street front following the latest metropolitan plan, are dropped low enough to display goods so as to be seen from the sidewalk.

The interior of the store is high-posted and finished in a most artistic manner and equipped with the latest devices for attractive electrical lighting and display effects.

The centre of the store is lighted from the sky by a huge dome of pleasing design and equipped with a vacuum ventilator which automatically changes the air on all floors and keeps it fresh and healthful.

Electrical base plugs at convenient intervals on every floor. All openings piped for both gas and electricity. Modern steam heating equipment. Maple floors and ash finish throughout the store.

Entrances to the store from both streets are at level of sidewalk without steps. The basement is lighted by the largest and finest walk lights in the city. Toilet rooms for men and women with perfect ventilation and modern fixtures.

Street cars pass the entrances on both streets, and the unobstructed light which reaches the Central street windows from Middle street affords daylight long after other stores in the vicinity are lighted up.

The Rent Is Low

Considering the fact that the store fronts on two busy streets and is in the very centre of the shopping district, and that both entrances are within a few steps of Merrimack square, the rent is exceptionally low, being much less per square foot than is charged for any equally well located property in Lowell.

For further particulars apply at the office of The Lowell Sun.
